Third round of SAA negotiations takes place in Sarajevo : 3rd round of SAA negotiations started in Sarajevo ; accent on trade, industry, agriculture, customs and taxes	BHT1 by Marina Boskovic - Third round of technical negotiations on Stabilization and Association Agreement between BiH and the EU on matters of trade, industry, agriculture, customs and taxes has commenced on Thursday in Sarajevo, and will continue on Friday. BHT 1 comments the stances of EU and BiH regarding trade relations are getting closer, but the concrete agreements are yet to follow. After BiH signs the SAA, customs charges from a group of imported products will be immediately annulled. The second group of products will be charged with 5% and 10% customs rate. BiH wants to keep customs charges for some products as long as possible, in order to protect the domestic products. BiH Chief Negotiator Igor Davidovic said this refers mainly to domestic dairy products, however he adds the customs rates for this group of products have not yet been agreed. Reporter noted that for the EU, the list of products BiH wants to protect by customs is too long. Head of Department for West Balkan in EC's General Directorate for Enlargement, Dirk Lange, explained that the EU countries are especially interested in one group of products, and they demand customs exemption for them. Local producers warn that the negotiations most not cause opening of market which would become engulfed by cheap products from developed countries. Savo Marijanac from BiH Chamber of Commerce said that it is necessary to make a detailed analysis and make a political decision on which economy branches are going to be protected. The fourth and final round of SAA negotiations is planned at the end of 2006. However, EU announced that many more compromises need to be reached in order to complete the negotiations. FTV - EC assessed that the technical negotiations with BiH are going on well, and that there should be no obstacles its successful completion. However, they underlined important reforms must follow negotiation process, and stresses PBS, public administration and police reforms must be completed. These annulments and changes refer to regulations in business sector. Based on that, RS Prime Minister Milorad Dodik who is Chair of the Council announced annulling 37 acts of the RS Government and changes to the 31 laws in the process known as "guillotine of regulations". "In regard to certificates, permits and other formalities, where there are total of 332 of them on RS level and 19 on BiH level, the Council has accepted suggestions of working groups...to preserve 102 formalities or 29.6% to change 43% of formalities and to annul 27.9% of these regulations," said Dodik. Regarding the regulations on inspections, RS council agreed to abolish half of 2474 regulations in order, as Dodik explained, to effectively coordinate all inspection bodies. The Government has tasked FBiH Ministry of Transport and Communications and FBiH Privatization Agency to submit proposals privatization method for both BH Telecom and HT Mostar. The second version foresees the sale of maximum 39% of state-owned capital and preservation of 51%, with possibility of sale in the second privatisation phase. "The Government has not taken stance on any of the two proposed options, because it did not want to impact the Parliament's discussion...Parliament is the strongest body in FBiH, before Government's final decision...the most responsible ones have to face moves made by the RS and challenge on election of a quality strategic partner...these are not only economic decisions, these are first-class political decisions", says FBiH Minister of Transport and Communications Nedžad Brankovic. HDZ BiH deems that Croat people in BiH are entitled to have a RTV channel on Croatian language, which would enable them to be equal in the field of informing. Court re PBS will slow down reforms	Dnevni Avaz pg 2 'Decision of the Constitutional Court will slow down reforms' by T.Lazovic- Head of Department for BiH and Albania in EC Directorate for enlargement Dirk Lange told DA that he is surprised that FBiH Constitutional Court has passed a decision which is in contradiction with BiH CC's decision. This Law was strongly supported by the EC and its passing was one of the main obligations for signing of Stabilization and Association Agreement. "Now we will have to analyse counts in which they believe that a problem exists. According to first reading of the decision, they say that possibility of discrimination is not ruled out, and not that there is discrimination," said Lange. He said that Law would now be returned to FBiH Parliament and stresses that this whole procedure would slow down reform process in BiH and influence the Report, which the EC would submit in October. If this Report should be negative the EC will not recommend signing of the SAA.

"I see statement of Effendi Ceric as a concern expressed by the religious leader over disunity of Bosniaks, which is probably among other things, the consequence of [talks on] constitutional amendments and everything that followed after," said Tihic. He was very vague when answering whether Ceric supported Silajdzic, stressing that he think that Islamic Community should not be supporting any party. SDHR Bas-Backer: Law on Conflict of Interests should be changed by September	RHB- The Senior Deputy High Representative, Peter Bas-Backer , warned that the Law on Conflict of Interest should be amended by September, the spokesperson of the Banja Luka OHR, Ljiljana Radetic , said on Thursday. She said that PDHR deems there is obviously very limited time for the Transfer Agreement to be signed by both Prime Ministers, adopted by entity Parliaments, and then to go through the Parliament procedure at the State level. However, given the importance that the amended Law becomes applicable from the beginning of the new Assembly mandate of Cantons, Entities and State, the Ambassador is convinced that it is worth making extra-efforts. BHT1- RS Government should complete the necessary procedures for passing of these amendments in August. FBiH Government is expected to do the same already next week. BiH Council of Ministers should send the amendment to the Parliament Assembly urgently, so that the Assembly can pass them by September. The HR argues that the text of the Agreement of police reform was proposed by Milorad Dodik (the then and current leader of SNSD) and Dragan Cavic (leader of SDS and RS President), which was accepted by the FBiH-based parties and the IC. The HR continues: "In the Agreement, the authorities of Bosnia and Herzegovina and both entities also committed themselves to supporting the work of a Police Directorate, which would prepare an expert proposal on an implementation plan for restructuring the police system. The Directorate was duly established by a vote of the Council of Ministers last December. In this way, it was also endorsed by Serb Ministers nominated by the leading political parties in Republika Srpska. (...) By putting this plan in doubt, the authorities of Republika Srpska are risking delaying finalisation of the SAA, thereby setting Bosnia and Herzegovina back on the road to Europe. Police reform will re-enter the arena of political discussion after the Directorate finishes its work. Governments and parliaments will then adopt the final reform." Nezavisne Novine op-ed pg 8 'Police reform for safer life' by Christian Schwarz Schilling , Dnevni Avaz pg 8 'Polcie reform will help BiH to become safer', mentioned on cover 'I closely monitor how politicians act', by CSS - both carried op-ed by HR to BiH, Christian Schwarz Schilling, stressing the importance of police reform (same as in VL)

SNSD: Extending deadline PRD SB just admitted trying 'fishing in troubled waters'	RHB- Commenting the extension of a deadline for creating the proposal of a model for the future police reform, unnamed SNSD representatives stressed that – by extending deadline – 'self-proclaimed' Police Reform Directorate practically admitted that it tried 'to fish in troubled waters', adding that domestic and foreign troublemakers obviously did not understand that Milorad Dodik's Government is not like previous RS Governments, which used to 'put their tail between their legs' on every sign from Sarajevo and the Office of the High Representative. Cenic accused SDS of hiding behind the veil of referendum, raising the issue of why the Agreement on police reform was not supplemented when RS Government led by Pero Bukeylovic asked it from Cavic and Dusan Stojcic. She added: "They should first explain at Parliament how the Agreement on police reform was reached and what was signed under the table." She also added that the proposal on Agreement even handed note written on it "Paddy's last version". RTRS - Marinovic stated that this issue has been a problem since the beginning and added that all Serb members and one Croat member oppose this request. "We are now obliged to consult Council of Ministers regarding this issue", says Marinovic. HJPC Chair: It is not important who appointed judges, but whether they are discredited	Oslobodjenje pg 3 'It is important that judges are not discredited', mentioned on cover, by A. Avdic - The President of the High Judicial and Prosecutorial Council Branko Petric underlines that for the HJPC it is not important who has appointed the judge, but "it is important that people were not discredited." Following the story daily published on Thursday [see Morning Media Brief July 27] of six judges and prosecutors who still work in RS judiciary despite the fact they were appointed by Radovan Karadzic, Petric told daily that "HJPC did not find anything questionable when appointing these people. I should add that public opinion was a factor too." Asked whether he finds nothing disputable of the fact of these judges working, Petric answers by concluding: "If you want to go there, you should also mention those judges working for the BiH Court who, during the war, were questioning prisoners in Viktor Bubanj military barrack, which was concentration camp." Petric did not disclose names of those judges.
Daily op-ed: It is time for new judicial reform in BiH	Oslobodjenje pg 9 'Judges still keeping RS' op-ed by Senad Mesetovic - Referring to the issue of the six judges and prosecutors working in the RS judiciary despite being appointed in June 1992 by Radovan Karadzic, author notes that that "idea of the international community to establish HJPC which would monitor the work of judges and prosecutors was good one." Noting difficulties caused by the HJPC work, author [without criticism of the institution] mentions a lot of people stayed without jobs for a number of reasons. However, "even more trouble was caused once the list and biographies of newly appointed judges and prosecutors were published." Not only that a number of them had not significant experience in judiciary, comments the author, but also some were appointed by people like Karadzic. "It is clear that the HJPC's reforms were not crucial, but just formal...[they] should finally start doing their jobs. Reforms they carried out not only failed to produce anticipated results but the current situation in judiciary appears even worse than before. Indictments and verdicts are failing, one by one, and processes are being delayed... It is time for new judicial reforms in BiH," concludes the author.

The visit has been assessed as very successful. Company "Energoinvest" signed contract worth 160 million euros with Libyan electricity distribution company. Company "Bosnalijek" agreed export of its products to Libya and other African markets. Tihic stressed that Libyan leader Moammar Al-Ghadafi has opened the Libyan market from BiH Companies. The agreement signed between BiH and Libya gives BiH companies a precedence status on Libyan market. Furthermore, said Tihic, Libyan Minister of Health will visit BiH in order to agree hiring of BiH medical staff. Tihic announced that a direct air line Sarajevo-Tripoli is going to be established soon. He will also demand from entity Governments to make a list of privatisation and investment projects, which will be submitted to the Libyan Government. Head of BiH Association of Employers Tomislav Grizelj underlined that the door to Libyan market is wide open for BiH companies. Ghadafi promised that Sarajevo is going to be a centre for all Libyan operations in the region. Therefore, he annulled the decision on closure of Libyan Embassy in Sarajevo. Libya is also interested in construction of Corridor Vc highway and privatisation of Bosanski Brod Oil Refinery. Dnevni List, pg 9 'Bosnalijek's stocks to return debts from 1991', by D. P. M. - according to Tihic, one of topics of talks was the issue of loan that BiH took from Libya in 1991 (12,5 million US$). Dani's analysis insist BiH should not be selling its telecommunications companies	Dani, pg 43 'Should telecoms be sold', by Eldar Dizdarevic - commenting on the situation pertaining to the privatization of BiH telecommunication companies in BiH, for which Dizdarevic says politicians from both entities seem to be racing each other who is going to sell their respective company first, the author argues that the profit figures (of BiH telecommunication companies) and experiences of countries in the region suggest BiH should not be selling its good assets, which telecommunication companies certainly are. Namely, Dizdarevic underlines that the 'BH Telekom' had a net profit of 161,2 million KMs in 2005, whilst the media mention the (FBIH) authorities want to sell the control package for 1,2 billion KMs, which is not enough according to Dizdarevic. As for experiences of countries in the region, the author says Croatia and Macedonia, which sold their companies to foreign investors, came of worse because prices of services went dramatically up and the number of employees in the companies is decreasing every year.

Questioned to portray two most serious candidates for the office of Bosniak member of BiH Presidency, Sulejman Tihic and Haris Silajdzic that is, Filandra argues it is clear that none of the two meet the requirements and needs of the Bosniak and Bosnian policy. "Tihic's capacity as a leader has not been on par with our needs, whilst Silajdzic looks pretty unconvincing", said Filandra. SB analyses editorial policy of DA saying unscrupulous campaign against SDA' Tihic and SDP' Lagumdzija results from panic within SzBiH and Avaz' owner Radonicic	Slobodna Bosna pgs 6-9 'Deadly SMS message of media tycoon to state president' by Asim Metlijevic - The author analyses the editorial policy of the BiH paper with highest circulation "Dnevni Avaz", saying the latest wave of unscrupulous campaign in "Dnevni Avaz" against SDA leader, Sulejman Tihic, and SDP leader, Zlatko Lagumdzija, results from panic amongst Party for BiH (SzBiH) associated with daily's owner Fahrudin Radonicic. Author observes SzBiH cannot identify an adequate response to a discretely announced coalition between SDA and SDP, while Radonicic fears from now evident adoption of Law on confiscation of illegally acquired property. Daily adds SzBiH' Haris Sialajdzic campaign is predominantly based on Avaz' media and political discredit of Tihic as Sijadzic' main rival in race for Bosniak member for BiH Presidency. Author notes Silaajdzic is convinced SDP' election list without candidate for Bosniak Presidency member is a concession to Tihic and part of secret pact between Tihic and Lagumdzija based on so-called minority government. Author reminds few months ago, Lagumdzija launched this idea on minority government (formed by just one party if possible), saying multi-party coalitions bear everybody's or even nobody's fault for anything, stressing: "Minority Government will not resolve all problems, but at least we will know who is responsible for what." Daily adds the context of this idea leads to conclusion that entire project is aimed against Party for BiH, that has always been a coalition partner with every party on power, and never bore responsibility for anything. Headline refers to claim that Radonicic allegedly exchanged several SMS message with insulting and threatening content with Tihic following Tihic statement in Gorazde that he would clash with Avaz' propaganda after elections.

SDS: SNSD and PDP are hypocrites because they did not remove RSNA Deputy Speaker Hafizovic	Dnevni List, pg 5 'Political hypocrisy', not signed - SDS has accused the SNSD and PDP of political hypocrisy after the SNSD and PDP did not support (SDS' and SRS') request for removal of RSNA Deputy Speaker, Sefket Hafizovic. SB: civil BiH is dishonest, richly paid lie	Slobodna Bosna pgs 4-5 'Nationalistic RS and civil FBiH' op-ed by Senad Avdic- Commenting on moves of RS Government and its Prime Minister Milorad Dodik "who provided solid means for returning of Bosniaks", which was the condition for Bosniak Caucus in RS Council of Peoples to withdraw vital national interest Avdic wonders whether Serb Caucus in FBiH House of Peoples would do the same. "But Serb Caucus in FBiH Parliament will never accomplish that because of a banal reason: even four years after last elections, this Caucus doesn't exist!" says Avdic. "For several reasons, it will be hard to reconstruct BiH into decent, acceptable construction: it is not possible to build FBiH on civil and RS on national principle! Civil FBiH is dishonest, richly paid lie, and from that RS drains vitality..." concludes Avdic.

Responding to press question why RS President Dragan Cavic and herself confronted, she says: "...There are many reasons for split up, and as main one, I personally refer to insincerity of President Cavic towards the institution of RS president and towards Government, which he entrusted with mandate...Unfortunately, the work of such Government obviously was not at Cavic' measure and he dismissed our Government in cheap political trade." On accusations against Cavic related to harmful agreement Bosanski Brod Oil Refinery signed with British Company "Vitol", she says she has never criticised Cavic' role, but instead said it loud and clear he pledged for this contract the same way the-then RS premier Dragan Mikerevic pledged for agreement with "Galaxy". According to her, both contracts were harmful for RS. Dorothy Krebs Sarro, employee at US Embassy in Sarajevo, confirms to weekly building of new construction "proves US commitment to stay here and help in creating better future for all people in BiH, and also shows US determination to assist in preservation of integrity and multi-ethnicity of BiH as a state". Mladen Ivanic, BiH Foreign Minister, also views this as an important sign, noting: "Naturally they (US Embassy) will not force itself on us as political master here, neither will it take over the role of OHR". DEPOS Co-Chair: Paddy Ashdown and local politicians are main culprits for halt in police reform	Slobodna Bosna pgs 26-29 'Cavic' crime destroyed RS' In inset 'I knew Serbs would lose' by Mirha Dedic - In an interview to weekly, Svetlana Cenic, DEPOS Chair, in response to press question to name main culprit for halt in police reform, says: "The culprits are rather ambitious Paddy Ashdown and insincere local politicians. Paddy Ashdown want to succeed at any cost at the end of his mandate, but success in his previously probed manner. Local politicians were buying time hoping everything will find self-solution, i.e. everything will change after Ashdown leaves. Bosniaks knew international community will do a job for them, while Croats waited to see how much Serbs will win for." She says secret talks and agreements were run behind the back of negotiating team, whose member she also was, adding that Adnan Terzic, BiH Council of Ministers Chair, hands draft decision on Police Reform Directorate to Dragan Cavic, RS President, saying this document contained hand-written note "Paddy's last version".
