(3) If votes on certain issues have been divided among several different opinions, and if none of them is joined by majority, the issues shall be separated and voting shall be repeated until one is joined by majority of the panel. If no majority decision has been reached in this manner, the decision shall be adopted by adding those votes that are most unfavourable for the accused to the votes that are less unfavourable until the majority decision is reached.
(4) Members of the panel cannot refuse to vote on questions put by the presiding of the panel of the panel, but a member of the panel who has voted to acquit the accused or to abolish the verdict and who is minority shall not be required to vote on the penalty. The appointed defence attorney shall be given the necessary period of time to acquaint himself with the case file, whereupon the verdict shall be served on the appointed defence attorney and the proceeding shall resume. If it concerns another decision whose date of service becomes the date of commencement of the period of time for an appeal or if it concerns an appeal of the opposing party that is being submitted for a response, the decision or appeal shall be posted on the bulletin board of the court. Following expiration of the eight-day deadline from the date of its posting, it shall be assumed that the service has been accomplished.

In such case, the period for pursuing a legal remedy or responding to the appeal shall commence on the date when the writ is delivered to the accused or defence attorney. If the decision or appeal cannot be served on the accused because the accused has failed to report a change of address, the decision or appeal shall be posted on the bulletin board of the court and following expiration of the eight-day deadline from the date of its posting, it shall be assumed that the service has been accomplished.
