"But, the IMF has not agreed upon all things with the Federation, particularly regarding the planned revenues. This may result with IMF's refusal to allow the arrangement, which would affect the RS too, because they look at the two entities together," Vracar said. He said the RS is very worried with this, because the withdrawal of the IMF does not just mean that the budget would not receive funds from this source, but also that the World Bank (WB), European Commission (EC) and all other institutions would give up supporting the budget. "We have final talks at the state level tomorrow, and we will try to overcome the problems between the Federation and IMF, but I have a feeling that the agreement might not happen, which would have huge consequences for the entire country," Vracar said. The Finance Minister also stated that the RS Government would provide 35 million KM, in order to improve situation of the pensioners and health workers.
