

Presiding Arbitrator Clint Williamson visits BiH

Ambassador Clint Williamson, the Presiding Arbitrator of the Brčko Arbitration Tribunal, arrived in Bosnia and Herzegovina today for an official three-day visit.

Together with Louis Crishock, the Principal Deputy High Representative/Supervisor for Brčko District, they will meet with Brčko officials, leaders of the state and state institutions, and international stakeholders to be briefed on the current political situation.

They will meet with COMEUFOR and NATO officials in BiH to consult on the current priorities on maintaining safety and security in BiH.

"I call on all parties to respect the status of Brčko District in accordance with the provisions of the Final Award," said Ambassador Williamson.
