The ICG has suggested that a definite decision on the status of Brcko should be postponed for 5 years, and that international administration and patronage be prolonged for the next 18 months. They state that Brcko is economically, military and strategically of vital importance for Serbs and the life of the RS. After 18 months, the administration of the town would be transferred to the joint institutions in Sarajevo, but international military forces would be required to remain in the area, under the command of NATO or temporary groups of the EU.
