CoM Co-chariman Silajdzic addressed a letter to the 'Washington Post' on the text 'Moslem's Turning Away' from February 22. Silajdzic firstly corrected the term 'Moslem' into 'Bosniak' as accorded with the Constitution. Replying that Bosniaks are less pluralist than Serbs and Croats, Silajdzic said that Croats and Serbs also live in the Federation, whereas far less Bosniaks and Croats live in the RS, and that all nations in the Federation have their sacral objects, whereas most of non-Orthodox sacral objects in RS were demolished. Answering the claim that Bosniak leadership is mainly consisted of former communists, Silajdzic says that this should not be worrying, considering that there is a large number of fascists who are trying to divide Bosnia by ethnic cleansing. Another announcement from Silajdzic's cabinet, saying that CoM was informed about activities on opening the Brcko port, and that Yugoslav ships entered harbor. The announcement follows that it is worrying that international representatives were present, including the OHR, and that CoM was not officially informed about the event.
