UN spokesman Ivanko said that the local police chief in Stolac, Matic was discharged. The new police chief is Boskovic, who is expected to conduct investigations into the recent incidents immediately. HR deputy Schumacher also visited Stolac. Schumacher talked to intimidated families in Stolac, as well as with the local authorities. The scheduled meeting with the Stolac Mayor was supposed to be held in the municipality building. However, since the Croatian flag was waving from the building, Schumacher asked it to be removed. Since this was not done, the meeting was held at another building, but a Herceg-Bosna radio journalist insulted an OHR interpreter, so Schumacher refused to have the meeting until the journalist left the room. Schumacher said that everything is being done in a very planned and co-ordinated manner to intimidate the people to leave the town, and that the IC will not allow this to happen. Schumacher explicitly stressed that the IC wants to see the established office for the return in Stolac, within a week, as well as the team for assessment of the housing fund, and that the returnees to Stolac must be treated as equally as other citizens. Schumacher said that the responsibility for events in Stolac lies on the leading persons of the town, and especially the Mayor, Raguz. Schumacher also stressed that in the case of lack of progress, he will personally ask for the replacement of Raguz, and asked for the usage of the BiH Federation flags, stressing that this is not Croatia, and that the president of this state is not Franjo Tudjman. 3:00
