Pale – Instead of the final decision, the Constitutional Court called the interested sides to be present at tomorrow's session and voting. The RS President, Plavsic's cabinet considers this call as a break of the law. As Plavsic's councilor said, this call represents a delay of the procedure, and disabling of Plavsic's party campaign. Plavsic discussed the issues of current situation in RS and the pre-election with HR deputy Wagner. Wagner said that OHR thinks that the pre-elections are the only solution for the current situation in RS.

Summary SRT TV News

Pale – Krajisnik held separate meetings with the Special Envoy of the UN Secretary General Eide and Chinese Ambassador to Sarajevo. Chinese Ambassador communicated greetings of the Chinese President and the hope for establishment of good relations between the two countries. They talked about the implementation of the DPA, the current situation in the RS and Dayton BiH, and political and economic relations between the RS and China. Deputy Foreign Minister Bozanic, who also attended the meeting, said that China recognised BiH as a whole but consisting of two equally important entities.

Krajisnik, Deputy Minister of Interior Karisik, and Bozanic talked to Eide behind closed doors. The discussion was about the security situation in BiH prior to the local elections. Eide said that reorganisation of special police forces goes beyond his authority, but he expressed hope that this issue will be solved soon.

President of the Constitutional Court Mijanovic said that the deliberation on Plavsic's decision to dissolve the Parliament and schedule pre-term elections will continue tomorrow. He called the RS President, the Prime Minister, and the Parliament Speaker to attend the deliberation. However, SRT learns from a source close to the Presidential Cabinet that Plavsic refused to attend the deliberation.

Banja Luka – Plavsic met HR Senior Deputy Wagner and discussed the political situation in the RS. After the meeting Plavsic said that 'Wagner was interested in the political situation in the RS, elections, that is, the municipality elections, the new party, the implementation of the DPA, media, what's the best way to organise a real state media which would properly inform RS citizens, and we will make certain progress with this regard,' Plavsic said. Wagner said that he supports the idea of scheduling Parliamentary elections because it is the only way out from the current crisis. 'I would like to confirm that OHR cares to solve certain issues which are very important for the RS, such as the Law on Passports and Citizenship that will be discussed at the next CoM session in Sarajevo. It would be good that RS citizens possess passports to travel, which is one of the most important reasons,' Wagner said. Asked to comment on non-attendance of tomorrow's CC deliberation, Plavsic said that she will wait for the final decision so she finds no reason to attend it. 'I can only say that the previous discussion was more about unimportant details instead of the case itself,' Plavsic said commenting the CC public hearing held on July 12.

SRT reported that there are more and more speculations with the RS territory. In view of that, it notes the meeting in Split between Tudjman and Izetbegovic, at which Tudjman said that Banja Luka is a territory which gravitates towards Croatia and it will probably go to the Federation in the end, reported the Muslim papers Ljiljan close to SDA. In that sense, Croatian papers National reported that Foreign Minister Prlic said that Banja Luka is a strategic interest of Croat people. SDS and RS SP (Socialist party) gave their comments with regard the above, condemning Prlic's statement and concluding that they have noticed open aspirations of Croats towards west part of the RS which could have fatal consequences, or even cause another war. They (SDS) warned RS people to reunite in order to protect vital interests of their country. Prlic proved that Croats do not respect the DPA, and some parts of the IC even support them. SPS said that Prlic went beyond his mandate, and proved that he doesn't respect the RS and its institutions.
