

OHR Local News Issues, 31 July 1997

Sarajevo - The participants of today's CoM session did not agree on the Law of Citizenship and Passports, although suppressed by deadlines decided by Sintra agreement. RS representative Botic said that there was no agreement on the Law of Citizenship, because it was created in opposition of the DPA, and unconstitutionally. Unlike Botic,, Vice-Chairman Tomic said that the bigger part of the law was agreed, and that there is only a few things left to discuss. HR Westendorp was also present at the session and his comment was that the laws have to be adopted, so that the IC could see progress in this matter. Westendorp said that he wished to reopen all aid sources because all sides had shown co-operation. The other subject of the session was the memorandum on opening the airports. Botic said that there was a proposition to SFOR to open the Banja Luka airport tomorrow at noon. OHR spokesman Bullivant said that tomorrow is the deadline for agreement on airports, and if both sides do not agree by then, OHR will impose it's solution, which would be some sort of a punishment. Bullivant also said that the OHR do not accept excuses related to Krajisnik's absence from the CoM sessions, but that the OHR has some indications that it will change with the forthcoming visit of Holbrook to BiH.

Prijedor - 'If there was justice and if the Hague wasn't what it is - a stage for lynching the Serbs in public, than a large number of protests against the arrest of a doctor and humanist would be accepted,' SRT commented on the peaceful protest of Kovacevic's working colleagues and people from Prijedor in front of the hospital who gathered to show their disapproval of the proceedings against Dr. Kovacevic. One of doctors said that the destiny of the Serbs is repeating over again - 10 armed men attacked a doctor at work and killed an another man in front of his son. Serbs are attacked although they only want to have their own life, peace and their piece of a land. He sent a message to Kovacevic to survive the Hague as he survived Jasenovac in the World War II.

Flash news:

Dutch media reported that US and Germany intend to start a media war against SRT in the course of the SRT pre-election programming campaign by interrupting it. Russian Foreign Office said that Russia does not want to send its troops to capture alleged war criminals because it goes beyond the SFOR mandate. A journalist of Belgrade Vecernje Novosti, Lalic, said that US was strongly against arrest of war criminals when they took part in the establishment of the DPA. However, Clinton and British Prime Minister Blair changed their position and sent SFOR not only to arrest war criminals but also to kill them. The SFOR mandate doesn't finish with this, Lalic said, but now they insist on conducting the process of refugee return.
