Sarajevo – Social-Democratic Party for BiH supports the SFOR action of arresting the war criminals, demanding it's continue, so that it could be done before the forthcoming elections. The actual situation in RS is considered as a fight for the govern, although it may indicate the RS resistance to the democracy process. Regarding Brcko, it was said that it is all about another election mischief, for there is about ten thousand people more on the registration lists than it was in the last year. Some pamphlets with a text like death to the invaders that were found in Brcko, suggest the revolt against the joint life between different nations.

Summary SRT TV News

The RS President in BiH Presidency, Krajisnik congratulated Slobodan Milosevic on winning the FRY presidential elections. Krajisnik expressed his hope that there is better future for Serbs in the RS, because peace and stability in the region are the only pre-conditions for economic development. He also said that the RS is going through a very difficult period in its history at the cross-over to the 21st century.

Pale – The CoM Co-chair Botic met the HR Deputy Wagner and discussed the issues related to the work of the CoM and current political situation in the RS and Federation. Botic said that the process of implementation will not succeed if the situation is tense and has a tendency towards development of new conflicts. All the problems can be solved only through political agreements and compromise. Wagner also agreed that present tensions are not in the interest of any party, adding that he and the OHR wish to solve the current situation as soon as possible. As for the CoM, they discussed the most important issues such as urgent adoption of the laws on citizenship and passports, which will be the priority at tomorrow's CoM session. Botic also noted that the CoM hasn't interfered with the political situation in the RS, which was not the case at the BiH Presidency's last session.

Commentary on the Venetian Commission analysis – SRT reported that the RS leadership had asked for an expert opinion of the Commission only once, while drawing up the RS Constitution. The RS Senator Cavoski said that this is an ad hoc body that doesn't have any authority. The Commission was wrong when it claimed that the RS institutions accepted the authority of the Commission, and there is also no any written document to prove that. Besides, the Commission had not established a collegium for the purpose of discussing the situation, but had left it up to only two of its representatives to do the analysis, 'who met in a hotel in Geneva, probably at a bar, and discussed the RS situation while drinking whiskey,' Cavoski said, underlining that the RS Constitutional Court is the only institution that can make any decision with regard to the present crisis.

Prijedor – Last night, an unknown person or persons set off two hand-grenades near the IPTF HQ. There were no casualties. The first grenade destroyed an IPTF vehicle, whereas the other one exploded near the Oskar restaurant and broke the windows on a nearby house. Prijedor MUP communicated the IPTF message released at today's press conference, that IPTF had not been involved in Kovacevic's arrest or Drljaca's murder and that it is appealing to RS citizens to restrain from causing such incidents because they can seriously jeopardise the relations between the RS police and IPTF.

New York Times and CNN reported that France refused to join the multi-national forces in future arrests of the alleged war criminals in the RS because of a huge risk involved.

Pale – Report of the SRT Main Editorial Board and SRT General Manager on Plavsic's statements against the SRT – After she returned from Belgrade and declared war against everybody in the RS, Plavsic's main target were the media, that is, SRT, although the Serb TV had sent her several letters, asking her to address the people in the RS and explain her meetings with all those international representatives, as well as her non-attendance of the Parliament, Government, and SDS sessions. She stated that the SRT [and not herself] should be ashamed because it broadcast only lies, and then she called SFOR to protect the Presidential Palace and block the SRT studio in Banja Luka. Her men broke into Banja Luka studio armed several times on July 3 and demanded from SRT to broadcast all information coming from her Cabinet. SFOR of course joined them by blocking the TV transmitter at Kozara and requesting from the Banja Luka studio to secede from Pale and establish Plavsic's private TV station. That is why SRT decided to suspend the broadcast of programme from Banja Luka, which lasted for 12 hours. At the Parliament session, the SRT General Manager said that although she had used Stalinist methods of rule, SRT did allow Plavsic to set up the date and time for addressing the people. Regardless of that, on July 5, after she met the US Special Envoy Gelbard, he demanded from Krajisnik to allow Plavsic the access to the state media. Plavsic obviously wants to put the blame on SRT as a perfect alibi for her behaviour. On July 10, Plavsic appeared on SRT and totally ruined her reputation that she had enjoyed among the SRT employees. After the SRT broadcast Drljaca's funeral live because of a large public demand throughout the RS, on July 14 Plavsic threatened with IC protectorate over the SRT, finally revealing her true intentions with this regard. Right after her speech, 'the army of foreign media, orchestrated by the local scum from Muslim Sarajevo, quoted her so that the RS people feared that SRT will fall into the hands of Arabs, blacks, Mongolians, and other experts of the international community who possess spiritual beauty and marvellous education such as Alex Ivanko, Duncan Bullivant, David Foley and Simon Haselock.' It is very important to add, the report said, that the RS Government had established the SRT, which respects the RS Constitution and is ready to resist any kind of protectorate.
