A first train has officially passed the railroad from Tuzla to Doboj. The train - was marked with 89 - the official number for BiH railways in the International Organisation for the Railway Traffic. Today's passing by of the train from Tuzla to Doboj represents another important political and economic step forward for the BiH state in the time of the post war reconstruction, said a presenter. Combining Tuzla and Doboj, i.e. Federation and the Serb entity with this very important rail knot, is a positive sign for the integration of Bosnia.

Mate Granic, Croatian Foreign Minister, failed to inform the Croatian public of the most important point of the talks he held with the American officials during his recent visit to the US. After his talks with Madeline Albright, Granic mentioned only two conditions set to Croatia for stepping closer towards the joint western institutions: a meeting of the DPA requirements concerning Serbs and war criminals. He forgot to inform of the extremely strong accentuated conditions for American friendship - the refugee return to Bosnia, co-operation with the Hague Tribunal on Bosnia war crimes and supporting a revitalisation of the BiH Federation.

Cardinal Franjo Kuharic, Zagreb's Archbishop, distanced himself publicly today from the acts of Vjekoslav Lasic, the priest who tried in Zagreb during the First of May celebration, to stop this anti-fascist gathering. The gathered people demanded that the old name of the square "Square of the Victims of Fascism", which the Croatian authorities changed into the name Square of the Croatian Genius be returned. Father Lasic, however, praised the fascists achievements publicly. Lasic drew attention to himself recently when he served a mass for the Ustasha leader Ante Pavelic in Zagreb cathedral, asserting that he is more important for the Croatian people than Jesus Christ himself.

Pale – Upon his return from an official visit to Washington, Co-Chair in the CoM Boro Botic commented on the visit by saying that he had received assurances from his American interlocutors that the RS would be treated in the same way as the Bosniaks and Croats. According to Botic, it was jointly agreed that the economic recovery of BH was the top priority and the key element in the implementation of the peace agreement. The US presence will continue in some other form beyond the next year when SFOR withdraws, Botic maintained. The upcoming municipal elections were also discussed. Botic opined that Co-Chair Silajdzic was not so much in favour of elections being held in September, while Botic himself was supportive in that respect, underlining that "elections represent a democratic process with no other alternative".

Hague Tribunal and US – "The US is holding "under lock" incriminating evidence on crimes committed by Muslims and Bosniaks and thus the ICTY can go on safely with its farce", wrote Evropske novosti. According to the same paper, there is sufficient evidence to prove that the Muslim leadership was responsible for mass killing of civilians in Sarajevo in several instances. UNPROFOR reports forwarded to Lord Owen and some other officials were quite explicit about it, claimed the author, adding that the objective of the Muslim leadership was to internationalize the conflict.

Officials from various organizations for human rights request of the UN to establish an international permanent court for human rights. Even though Clinton's Administration supports this concept in principle, unofficially it has expressed concerns about it, maintained the report quoting the Los Angeles Times. Washington prefers a temporary arrangement such as the ICTY where it can retain control over it through the UN SC.
