News Summary

109 officials resign from public positions in favor of elected duties

The final election results have not yet been issued, but OSCE spokesperson Tanya Domi claims that the results issued so far are 99.5% accurate. After the elections, 109 officials followed through with PEC regulations and resigned from their public positions in favor of their elected duties. Domi stated that there are currently 79 cases of conflict of interest that the PEC is investigating.

SDA says elections proved their political role in BiH

The SDA Presidency evaluated its position after the elections and stated that their political role in BiH has been confirmed, but that there is a need to revise party executive bodies and operations in areas with poor results. The party Main Board is to reconstruct executive bodies and examine trust in the party among the highest state bodies.
