BiH HoR in session: MPs reject information on first VAT effects despite ITA, CoM claiming progress achieved	Hayat by Alem Karamesic – On Monday, the BiH House of Representatives resumed its work after blockade caused by the refusal of the RS MPs to attend sessions before the establishment of the Commission for on suffering in Sarajevo. The first session in several weeks was focused at the information on the first effects of Value Added Tax [VAT] implementation, presented by the BiH Council of Ministers [CoM] Chair Adnan Terzic . After hours long discussion, MPs rejected information upon proposal of the SDP despite the fact Terzic argued VAT implementation has been successful to date. Terzic underlined public revenues have increased by 52% comparing to the same period in 2005, while BiH achieved increase in foreign trade exchange. "For the first time after the war, more than 50% of import has been covered with export. During first five months of 2006, import to BiH was slightly less than KM 4 billion, while the export from BiH was slightly more than KM 2 billion", explained Indirect Taxation Administration [ITA] Director Kemal Causevic . RTRS – SDA deputy Elmir Jahic stated that VAT obviously caused improved tax discipline, increased export and more job openings. Lagumdzija criticised CoM whose representatives left the session during the break [before the vote]. BHT1 – HoR deputies disagreed with the information Adnan Terzic presented saying it was incomplete. "I see no positive effects beside the fact that a law has been passed, a single account has been established and we have 'stolen' from poor people money we were unable to steal from grey economy", Gligoric says. The session concluded that 6 months after VAT introduction, BiH citizens' life has not improved but worsened. FTV- "People in BiH are living no better, number of unemployed has increased", said a HoR MP Sead Avdic. SDS' Momcilo Novakovic, said, "not a thing was returned to an ordinary citizen." Dnevni Avaz pg 8 'Information on VAT effects rejected' by H.Orahovac – Daily also notes that no MP was directly opposing Zlatko Lagumdzija's arguments against the VAT, including SDA members. DA comments that one "could conclude from this that [Lagumdzija] was right. She added that FBiH's suggestion is to allocate funds on base of the monthly VAT payments, as defined by law: "On base of what does he demand 32% or defining 2% for someone else? It has to be explained how that number was reached. Besides, it would mean demand change of law, which is more apprehensive procedure." Daily reminds that deadline for ITA SB to determine method of money allocation is end of month, adding that if it is not respected, ITA single account could be freeze again, as happened in previous two months.

CEIS also warns that the Serbs in the RS have not completely accepted the fact that the RS would always be a part of BiH, whilst the Bosniaks have to support de-centralization of state.

VL comments one can already say that the abolishment will go gradually, noting that RS parties are in favour of the abolishment of the Bonn powers, whilst the Bosniak parties believe it is too early to do that and the Croat parties have not reacted probably thinking it cannot influence the position of Croats in BiH. On the contrary, under political pressure of the RS Prime Minister Milorad Dodik, such atmosphere has been fabricated as if that was the only way of decision-making process. The real way is consensus, experts should reach an agreement by consensus without any political influences.... We have fantastic opportunity to receive a green light in October already, for signing the Stabilisation and Association Agreement [SAA] with EU, and I will do everything within my power not to let reforms be put under question but to implement them within the set deadlines.” Article carries that PRD should discuss police structure at the state level at its Wednesday’s session. RS member in PRD Steering Board, RS Police acting Director Nijaz Smajlovic freezes his status and participate PRD session only as an observer. Other members reached consensus regarding Opinion on the model of police structure and refused RS demand to preserve entity polices, in line with three EU principles. He reminded that former EU demanded from BiH to introduce single VAT rate: "Reason for such demand was the fact that duty rates were in pretty mess. Our estimates were that due to that, BiH is yearly losing between one and two billion KM. That money was vanishing either in certain political channels or it was result of corruption." He stressed that demand for transferring the authorities to the entity level is just a try of some politicians to gain money for their pre-elections campaign. Asked to comment series of statements made by RS Prime Minister Milorad Dodik regarding possible referendum on RS secession, Hays said that the policy Dodik is leading now is wrong and that it can 'turn on' only ignorant: "Majority of BiH people do not want past. They want to be part of Europe, have bigger salaries and better life... BiH will not fall apart, International Community clearly said so." Hays is now engaged with drafting second phase of BiH constitutional changes and a project that works on improving the function of municipalities in BiH.

In this context, he fears Bosniak parties could be able to win the elections for the office of the Croat member of BiH Presidency, underlining that this especially refers to the SDP, which will most likely not run for the Bosniak member of the Presidency and instead focus on the Croat office. (NB: Herceg does not speak anything about formation of a (Croat) coalition that would make sure Croats elect their representative)

Referring to Tihic's reply to journalist claim [that SBiH members are leaving the party and joining SDA], SBiH says it is SDA members who are actually leaving their party to join SBiH because they have recognised "Tihic's quisling-like policy".
GS op-ed says situations at both sides of Drina so similar, while solutions US and EU propose differ	Glas Srpske op-ed pg 2 'Contradictions of the great ones' by Nenad Kecmanovic – The author says that "the contradictory approach the USA and EU – embodied in insistence that BiH is centralised while Serbia and Montenegro disintegrated – represents a drastic level of inconsistency especially in regard to attempts of western centers of power not to connect the future status of Kosovo with RS status! However, the situations on both sides of Drina river is so similar, while announced solutions differ to the extent of insult of common sense. Since they have no arguments, nobody from Washington and Brussels is even trying to explain anything." Furthermore, he adds he does not support application of Bosnian model in Kosovo but rather Kosovo model should be applied to BiH.
Serb delegates at BiH HoR will not support framework law on high education, sent to the procedure by Minister Halilovic	EuroBlic pg RS2 'Deadlines approaching, no compromise' by R. R. – Serb delegates at BiH HoR have announced they would not support framework law on high education, which was sent to the parliamentary procedure upon a request of BiH Civil Affairs Minister Safet Halilovic. SNSD's Dusanka Majkic thinks BiH CoM had deliberately transferred this sensitive issue onto BiH Parliament, although it was not realistic to expect RS delegates would support the framework law since BiH Constitution foresees the entities should keep certain competences in this field. PDP's Jelina Djurkovic too confirmed she would not support the framework law because she did not get consent of RS NA for such action, while SDS's Momcilo Novakovic warned there is another high education law already in the procedure. Novakovic added the way in which BiH CoM sent the framework law to the Parliament was a brave move and, most probably, an attempt to blame the Serb side for failure of this reform. Glas Srpske pg 4 'Amendments secretly' by M.Filipovic – carries SNSD Majkic's statement.

BiH Prosecution welcomes decision of HR to change Criminal Procedure Code, BiH HoR MP Novakovic says it would had been better for Parliament to do that	BHT1 by Damir Simic – BiH Prosecution welcomes the decision by the HR Christian Schwarz-Schilling to introduce changes to the BiH Criminal Procedure Code, especially in terms of detention issues, which extends detention in the BiH Court to maximum 3 years. Prosecution welcomes the decision especially due to the fact that there is possibility for indictees with double citizenships to escape to Croatia or Serbia. "There are no legislative or constitutional possibilities to perform extradition, and this issue is no longer of a legal but political nature, and regional politicians should bring solutions which would enable extradition between the three states" , said BiH Chief Prosecutor Marinko Jurcevic . "It is not good for the practice the see the High Representative continue bringing laws. It would be much better for the BiH Parliament to do that" , said SDS representative in the BiH House of Representatives, Momcilo Novakovic . "Such decision is justified, but it should not present a kind of an indirect justification to Courts and Prosecutions to delay the processes" , said the BiH Constitutional-Legal Commission representative Mirsad Ceman . The decision was brought upon BiH authorities' request and parliamentary procedure has been avoided due to its urgency, claims BiH Justice Minister Slobodan Kovac .
BiH Prosecution, Justice Minister and Attorneys greet the HR's decision on extending of detention for most severe cases	Oslobodjenje pgs 4-5 'Three years of detention only to ones indicted for most severe war crimes', mentioned on cover, by A.Omeragic – Spokesperson of the BiH Prosecution Boris Grubesic welcomed the decision of the HR Christian Schwarz-Schilling to amend the BiH Criminal Process Code and extend the detention for most severe cases to maximum three years. BiH Justice Minister Slobodan Kovac said these changes were necessary and added he advocated for two-year detention, however the HR decided otherwise. Daily comments that OHR, which passed state judiciary laws, was trying to accelerate the processing of war crimes and make judiciary more efficient, but the deadlines showed to be too short. It also stresses the ICTY experiences have shown it takes more than a year for a trial. Attorneys are pleased with HR's decision, as they do not have to wait for an end of the trial to be paid. Attorney Dragan Gotovac says this is a good thing, adding that in other countries detention period is also longer for most severe cases. Commenting the fact that HR imposed the decision despite the fact he said he would not use Bonn powers too often, Kovac said: "HR told me that he is reluctant to do this, but that he has no choice because the changes wouldn't be passed on time" .

BiH takes over partial control of its air space in area above 3 thousand meters	FTV by Nerminka Emric – As of June 19, BiH will be in charge of a part of its air space, controlled by EUFOR to date. On Monday, the BiH Minister of Communications and Transport Branko Dokic and EUFOR Commander to BiH Gian Marco Chiarini signed a protocol on transfer of authorities. The protocol transfers all EUFOR authorities to BiH institutions in terms of air traffic control in area above 3.000 meters. “Our civil authorities are ready to take over full responsibility in organizing and controlling the air area in BiH”, said Dokic. EUFOR will remain in charge of air area below 3.000 meters. “We are ready to transfer the authorities regarding this part of the air space to local authorities the moment they technically become able to take over the responsibility”, said Chiarini. Hayat – BiH will have 100% control over its airspace once it purchases necessary equipment, which could happen at the beginning of 2009, said Deputy Director of the Civil Aviation Administration Marinko Simunovic. The headquarters of Flight Control will be in Banjaluka. BHT1- BHT 1 argues that due to technical inability, flight control from Zagreb and Belgrade means a loss of great amounts of money. Igman Initiative Conference: regional media offer no quality or accurate information on neighbouring countries	BHT1 by Lejla Zvizdic – Two-day conference of the Igman Initiative under title “Monitoring of Media Reports in the Dayton Triangle States” commenced in Sarajevo on Sunday. The Initiative was established in 2000 and it gathers more than 140 NGOs from Serbia, Montenegro, BiH, and Croatia with a goal to facilitate renewing cooperation and normalizing inter-state relations within the Dayton Triangle. Media in the region offer no quality or accurate information on neighbouring states; mostly negative issues are being presented, as it was concluded at the session in Sarajevo. The situation could be changed by a project of 30-minutes regional TV magazine, which would be broadcasted in BiH, Serbia, Montenegro, Croatia and Kosovo. “If we continue writing and speaking about each other in this way, we will become hostages of people who committed some of the worst crimes”, said BiH Council of Ministers Chair Adnan Terzic. “Europe’s perception regarding the West Balkans is in the most cases extremely negative and we are to be blamed since we are presenting no affirmative and positive values on our neighbouring countries”, said Igman Initiative’s representative Sejfudin Tokic. “Certain media in BiH are still being very partial; this does not refer to BHT and Radio Free Europe”, said the Head of the OSCE mission to BiH Douglas Davidson. PINK, RTRS, Dnevni List pg 4 ‘Media report only bad things about neighbours’ by R.
