List holder from this Canton for BiH Parliament would be Halid Genjac . Genjac said that list would be completed by June 20, but according to unofficial information SDA would opffer almost the same lists, as in last elections. For four places that belong to Sarajevo Region in BiH Parliament, according to NN, nominated are SDP's Zlatko Lagumdzija , SBiH's Beriz Belkic , SDU's Sejfudin Tokic and allegedly, SDA's Bakir Izetbegovic. SDP stated that they still aren't certain about the lsits, as well as the HDZ, which stated that only known fact is that HDZ leader Dragan Covic will not run.

	are crucial for the benefit of BiH citizens. He met with the representatives of BiH House of Representatives. They agreed to continue the cancelled session of BiH HoR on Monday, while the new session would be held on Tuesday. Schwarz-Schilling believes that this decision represents a step forwards, but deems that it doesn't solve the

the HR for using	boycotted the BiH Parliament's work, the High Representative to BiH, "collective	Christian Schwarz-Schilling , showed that the easiest thing for him furthermore adds that the HR managed to order the BiH Parliament to that I should use my Bonn powers in order to impose these laws and punish or dismiss individuals who keep on blocking Parliament's work.

	But, while taking over the duty of the HR, several times I have emphasized that I am not going to the work BiH institutions and their

2nd round of SAA	Hayat By Nebojsa Radulovic The second, official round of end on Friday;	Stablisation and Association Agreement talks between BiH and EU has ended on Friday. Some of the most important issues were migrating of complete police	employees, justice, freedom and security. But, European negotiators reform	paid the most attention to reforms, which are being poorly implemented, such as police one. Before having the SAA signed, the EU is going to ask for certain guarantees from BiH, especially in terms of police reform, public broadcasting system, public administration and a specific economic reform. "In order to have the SAA signed till the end of this year progress has to be achieved in terms of reforms. The EU, together with its 25 member states, wants to be sure that BiH is able to implement all SAA regulations before having the agreement signed", said Director of the EC's General Directorate for Enlargement Reinhard Priebe . Another technical round of SAA talks is going to be held on July 28, while the next official round will be held by the beginning of November. BHT1- BiH Chief Negotiator with the EU, Igor Davidovic, said that the technical negotiations with the EU might be completed by the end of 2006. Priebe stated that the third negotiations round won't be postponed, but he stressed that the EU is going to insist on implementation of police reform, which is a pre-condition for signing of the SAA. However, the work of Police Reform Directorate has come to a of entity Interior Ministries. RS Interior Minister Stanislav Cadjo said earlier that RS Mol is not going to be abolished through imposing, stressing that a change of constitutional issues cannot be achieved on fire	that the school was going to be burned down, while soon afterwards, hooligans started gathering in front of the school, threatening professors and pupils, trying to get in school, due to what the school had to be locked up. "Attempts on interfering politics and education are obviously faced with failure" said Mostar Gymnasium Deputy Director Bakir Krpo. School Principal, Ankica Covic, says that it is in no one's interest to have something like this going on. "There have been no tensions, whatsoever, in this school, from the day we have launched this project together, our pupils go on well together and it is hard to understand why some 'outsiders' are trying to do something like that", says Covic. "Local authorities and the Ministry of Interior have not done all they were tasked to. They have to asses the situation and do all it takes", said Anatoly Viktorov, Head of OHR Regional Office Mostar.

RHB: Problems in society can be solved only by politicians and righteous Constitution	RHB Wrote by Ivica Simunovic - In a weekly comment, Simunovic refers to recent incidents in Mostar, which followed the football game between Brazil and Croatia, stressing that many have "jumped to blame the education system" for this. Simunovic underlines that "two schools under one roof" have never prevented children to socialise, while in Sarajevo, where all schools are "under one roof" Croat children are "forced to say how Islam is their religion" and where people openly say that "wouldn't vote for Croatian representative at Eurovision, because Severina is Croat". Stressing that all these issues are up to the politics to solve, Simunovic adds that these disputes are "centurial continuity of misunderstandings, which today's politics or today's Constitution aren't able to solve. It is easy to Europe to calm down fans passions, because they are mainly coloured by clubs fans. Ours, can't be solved by the police. That can be done only by political representatives of three peoples and righteous Constitution, which would make unnecessary all antagonising of all segments of life, from politics to sports."
forced to do its job	Dnevni Avaz pg 3 'Can Police do anything to hooligans' op-ed by Faruk Vele - Commenting on recent incidents in Mostar, which happened in last 24 hours [riots after the football game Brazil- Croatia and threats to Mostar Gymnasium], Vele argues that it is now clear that police had to act more energetically, since they now have to put 24 hour security in Gymnasium. Arguing how hooliganism is something that is only talked about, while nothing is being done, Vele stresses that cantonal, federal and especially state structures haven't even reacted to last incidents in Mostar. "What has to happen in order for Mostar night, from Tuesday to Wednesday, to be names with a right name? Politics shouldn't be involved in this, but just make the police to do its job," Vele concludes.
in life cannot be the reason for hatred	Dnevni List pg 2 "Extinguish the Hatred' op-ed by Zvonimir Jukic - Commenting on latest events in Mostar and stressing that everything is being used, in BiH, for provoking of tensions, Jukic writes: "Different political stances, belonging to some other race or sexual orientation cannot be a reason for hate and desire to extinguish those, who are differentBecause of that, all segments of society have to teach young people tolerance and respecting of others, first of all, because as we saw, on June 13 in Mostar, hatred can escalate very quickly into its most primitive forms".

	it was told to DA, Schwarz- Schilling talked about this with representatives of BiH Court, ICTY and BiH Justice Ministry, which according to DA once again points out the dedication of the HR to provide full cooperation with the ICTY. DA anonymous source explaines that current law enabes the Court to determine the detention only up to the year, which is the problem especially in cases that are transferred from the ICTY to BiH Court. "Those cases are often very complex, demand presence of numerous witnessesIn such situations, trials, soldiers in BiH	be finished, but that he can say, "even now, there is space for decrease of number of soldiers stationed in BiH". Stressing that problems in BiH aren't specific only for BiH and that BiH has made a progress, Chiarini said: "I can say that presence of foreign troops is not necessary. At least not in this amount. But, the Europe is still dedicated to this region and wants to be sure that it would remain stabile, so that we can only consider the decrease of number of soldiers". Commenting the Monday's signing of the Protocol with BiH authorities, regarding the transfer o authorities over the space area, Chiarini said that that this refers to higher sky, but added that control over the lower sky is only the matter of equipment, which should soon be solved, trough donations. "I really think that it is time, ten years after Dayton, for BiH to take over control over its total air space," said Chiarini.
