RS MPs continue with boycott of BiH HoR	RTRS - MPs in the BiH House of Representatives from the RS are not attending today's session since the BiH Council of Ministers has failed to - in spite of previous conclusions of BiH HoR - form Sarajevo Commission [Srna news agency reports session was attended by 24 MPs from FBiH and only two from the RS]. Deputy Speaker Nikola Spiric has reminded that BiH CoM was given 10-days deadline to complete this task. BH Radio 1 by Mustafa Karahmet- At the time of broadcast [12.00], extended Collegium was negotiating on steps to get out of the crisis. Meanwhile, CoM Chair Adnan Terzic rejected accusations that he was obstructing the process, explaining the Commission is not established as the FBiH Government is expected to submit candidates which would be done soon. Terzic also noted the Commission is not a true reason for the boycott, but rather a desire to prevent reforms that RS objects to. Head of SDA Caucus, Elmir Jahic , reminded MPs of recent statements about RS referendum and argued a reason of the boycott is to destabilize BiH. Head of SBiH Caucus Beriz Belkic also expressed harsh protest and invited Serb MPs to stop the boycott, reminding them of their responsibility towards citizens. Belkic also announced launching an initiative to establish similar Commissions in several municipalities, starting with Prijedor. Co-Chair of BiH HoR Sefik Dzaferovic claims the behavior of the RS MPs in the HoR was not accidental deeming it to be anti-Dayton activity. He also proposed calling on the HR Christian Schwarz-Schilling and Peace Implementation Council to prevent "destruction" of the state.
Foreign Minister Ivanic says FBiH HoR declaration should not be taken seriously	RTRS - Mladen Ivanic , BiH Foreign Minister, has today assessed that Declaration of F BiH Parliament House of Representatives (demanding SNSD be penalized over Milorad Dodik's statement on referendum) should not be taken seriously, adding it is another attempt to impose their own views as the sole in BiH. Parliament would have a dignity to do something like that if it had adopted Declaration against all those requesting abolishment of RS.

FBiH HoR adopts declaration urging HR CSS to use Bonn powers, penalize anti-Dayton activities	BHT1 by Zoran Sarenac – FBiH House of Representatives at Wednesday’s session adopted a Declaration judging all anti-constitutional activities. Semsudin Mehmedovic from SDA stated that Declaration also urges OHR and BiH Central Election Commission [BiH CEC] to penalize all anti-Dayton activities of certain political circles in RS. BHT 1 reminds the RS Prime Minister Milorad Dodik stated in Novi Sad the initiative for the RS referendum is a response to pressures coming from Sarajevo [i.e. FBiH parities] and a part of the international community with ambitions to abolish the RS. The BOSS Chair Mirnes Ajanovic also submitted a request to the OHR urging the Office to use of Bonn Powers and asked BiH CEC to register violation of SNSD election registration. “Since SNSD and Dodik signed a statement stressing that they will respect Dayton Agreement BiH CEC is obliged to make [such] decision,” says Ajanovic. HR was without a comment to Dodik’s statements on referendum. RTRS – The HoR’s Declaration states the HR Christian Schwarz Schilling should, in accordance with Bonn authorities and Annex 10 of Dayton Agreement, impose sanctions against Dodik to prevent further radicalization of the situation, and from BiH CEC to punish both the party and Dodik. RS PM Dodik says his statements on referendum only response to politics of Sarajevo , not anti-Dayton activity but an example of freedom of speech	RTRS – Commenting the Declaration passed by the FBiH House of Representatives, RS PM Milorad Dodik stated that it s a result of a “political chase” taking place in Sarajevo for long time aimed against those with different opinions: “If each our opinion is to be penalized... it will only demonstrate how democratic life in BiH looks like”, said Dodik, further adding he “can’t believe that serious people sitting in there could adopt such a stupidity. This shows that this parliament doesn’t have any importance and it shows that [its results are] results of daily political needs.” He once again repeated that his recent talks about referendum in RS are not serious. Dodik also said that HR has the right to decide on Dayton issues, stressing this case is not an issue of respecting/violating Dayton, but only a matter of freedom of speech. He concluded that any reaction from the HR would demonstrate he is being used by those in majority in Sarajevo. RS PM added his statements are in accordance with UN conventions on citizen’s rights to express their will. SNSD’s Krstan Simic says that the story on referendum is a reaction towards anti-Dayton activities from FBiH. “Isn’t it anti-Dayton activity to use every public appearance to say that the RS should be abolished?”, wonders Simic. Commenting the statement that each party leader signs when registering for elections, Petric said: “It is not defined by Election or any other law, which activity is violation of the Dayton. It is unknown which body is establishing that or which sanctions it prescribes”. Petric added that Election Law prescribes signing of the statement that Dayton wouldn’t be violated, but it is not defining what after that.

OHR: Serbian decision to visit BL is welcomed but has to be arranged with consent of BiH institutions; RS has no jurisdiction to schedule referendum	RTRS - OHR issued a press release on Wednesday commenting the announcement of the Serbian Finance Minister Mladjan Dinkic that the first official visit of the Serbian Government and PM Vojislav Kostunica would be to Banja Luka, and that one of the topics for discussion would be a referendum on the status of RS. OHR welcomes the Serbian Government's intent to travel to BiH, but notes that an official state visit can only be arranged to the sovereign state with the full consent of the relevant authorities - in this case the BiH authorities. Furthermore, the statement reads that as the OHR and other international organizations have said on repeated occasions, there is no legal basis for a referendum on the status of RS. "The status of Republika Srpska is clear. The RS is an entity within the state of BiH, and as such has no jurisdiction to organize a referendum on separation. Any such move would violate the Dayton Peace Agreement," reads the OHR press release. BHT1, FTV, Nezavisne Novine pg 2 'Official visits with consent of BiH bodies only' by N. Finally, Vasilj says the HR, Christian Schwarz-Schilling , should react promptly to Dodik's warmongering and nationalistic statement arguing that this more than enough even if it is about Dodik and his pre-election campaign.

Genocide in Srebrenica is openly celebrated in this poem published on the internet, and ICTY indictees Radovan Karadzic and Ratko Mladic are marked as heroes in this poem. Member of the Fund for Humanitarian Right Sandra Orlovic feels the poem is a result of phenomena in Serbia related to denial of Srebrenica genocide. At the same time in incident that took place in the Parliament, SRS MP Zoran Krasic insulted the Minister of Agriculture Ivana Dulic-Markovic for being a Croat. Members of G 17+ party stressed that Public Prosecutor should address this issue and start a procedure that will ban the work of SRS. Reporter concludes that SRS members use hate words for years that all other Serbian officials and non-government organisations severely judge. RHB - Commenting the issue, Serbian Prime Minister Vojislav Kostunica said that the representative should publicly apologize to the Dulic-Markovic. Outgoing SiCG Minister of Human Rights Ljajic: Sandzak views Sarajevo the same way as RS views Belgrade	Novi Reporter pgs 18 'Sandzak views Sarajevo the same way as RS views Belgrade' by Goran Tarlac - In a lengthy interview to weekly, Rasim Ljajic , the outgoing SiCG Minister of Human Rights, says: "The truth is that majority of Bosniaks in Novi Pazar would like to see Sarajevo their capitol, the same way as majority Serbs in Banja Luka would view Belgrade. But this simply is not possible. We in Sandzak can love Sarajevo and Bosnia, but the reality is that we build political future in a completely different state. As for Bosnian Serbs, the relation in this case is still different, no symmetry could be set for many reasons. The RS position is incomparable better than Sandzak position, which has no administrative integrity." On idea of RS Premier Milorad Dodik regarding referendum, he says: "I find it to be unrealistic idea."

Oslobodjenje op-ed: If West is taking protective role, why is then tolerating in BiH whet they do not want to see in their alley?	Oslobodjenje pg 9 'Badgers in our alley' op-ed by Gojko Beric - Commenting recent political developments in BiH, editorial reads that BiH is again under general political offensive, adding that it would be naïve to lay it all on pre-elections fever: "Spite politics that has been led in triangle Banja Luka-Sarajevo-Mostar is reality we must face. With such heritage, BiH is simply not able to function, and maybe not to survive." Author points out that even more realistic danger than talk of RS referendum on secession is a new platform of RS PM Milorad Dodik for forthcoming talks on constitutional changes [after elections], by whom he demands transforming BiH into federal state with three federal republics. Editorial concluded: "In the last ten years, IC has never managed, nor it ever wanted to solve key issue of BiH, and these are ethnic and religious nationalism. It did not react with energy to establishing ethnically exclusive schools and other forms of segregation, it never interfered in chaotic relationship between religion and politics, it never monitored behaviour of Serbia and Croatia towards their significant neighbour... Europe and America pretend not to see in BiH anything what is in discordance with principles of democratic world. If West is taking protective role, why is then tolerating here whet they do not want to see in their alley?"
Vjesnik: Remedy for referendum initiatives lies in good const. changes, abolishment of current structure of BiH	Vjesnik , pg 35 'There will be no 'chopping up' of Bosnia', by Marko Barisic - commenting on the statement by RS PM Milorad Dodik , on the separation referendum of the RS, Barisic says Dodik's repeated statements show that he is not giving up the initiative in the long run. Barisic goes on to say that many foreign media are repeating a thesis according to which a part of Serb(ian) policy in fact wants to 'swap' Kosovo for the RS since it looks as though Kosovo will become independent by end of 2006. Reminding of EU Javier Solana's statement that the RS has no right to separation referendum, Barisic argues the remedy lies in carrying out good constitutional changes in BiH, which would abolish the current organization of BiH in which the three peoples are locked in two entities and in which, as the name suggests, one entity belong exclusively to one people.

He noted: "No one has a right, not even in name of democracy or artistic freedom to assault the deepest religious feelings," adding that children need to be thought to respect others religious stances, or "if no one is called on responsibility, children are educating for aggression and terrorism". Inset 'We will send our message before elections' - Puljic said that it is not true that he is against some political leaders, but is against some of their stances, which he criticizes: "I am always open for every catholic, even if is not a practical believer, to offer the arm as a Sheppard to anyone...When it comes to elections, we will soon send our Sheppard's message to all believers. The source says the HDZ will re-examine its relation towards the SDA at its next session, and invite High Representative Christian Schwarz-Schilling to use his powers and do what his predecessor Paddy Ashdown, had asked i.e. that Hadziomerovic be removed from politics. HR will also be asked to re-examine the work of the OHR South, for not penalizing such SDA statements and actions. Next week in Sarajevo, he will be leading EC team in 2nd round of political talks with BiH. The political round of talks is to include general and political parts of the Agreement and the issue of reform implementation in BiH, adding it would not be surprising "if EC gets even more concerned with the process of police reform after upcoming talks, since this obviously does not proceed in line with the plan". According to him, the EC is aware of current political moment in BiH and certain intensification at political scene in BiH (owing to statements of some politicians), adding this should not have negative impact on talks' flow, adding: "It is clear to us this is election year in BiH." He has also added that it is clear along with police reform issue, the issue of Public Broadcasting Service in F BiH still remains open, adding only the process of VAT introduction was assessed positively. According to inset 'OHR transformation', Priebe underlines the importance of the issue of OHR transformation into EUSR Office, stressing: "It is of extreme importance to be assured BiH is heading ahead and that local authorities are taking over full responsibility for the destiny of the state."
EU's Rehn: no enlargement until 2010	PINK - EU Commissioner for Enlargement Olli Rehn Stated that, after the association of Bulgaria and Romania, the EU is not going to accept new members until 2010. According to Rehn, next member country might be Croatia, but not until 2010. Commenting the association of Turkey, Rehn stated that the association process has started, but he stressed that this process is going to be long, and without any guarantees regarding its outcome. According to Rehn, same applies to the West Balkan countries, which are on an even lower level of relationship with the EU.
Oslobodjenje op-ed: BiH will remain in 'obscure marsh of Balkans', as it deserves	Oslobodjenje pg 9 'Deserved marsh' by Svjetlana Salom – Commenting statement of EU Commissioner for Enlargement Olli Rehn who said that after the association of Bulgaria and Romania, the EU is not going to accept new members until 2010, editorial reads that Rehn actually stated that "countries candidates [for EU membership] did not even reach threshold of their [EU] doors." Author notes that such outcome was to expect due to EU legal and institutional crisis, adding that BiH will remain in "obscure marsh of Balkans". Editorial concludes any other line is throwing dust in the face: "Brussels is definitely wrong address in searching reasons for we will remain living in the ghetto, isolated from the distressed and disoriented Europe, which we did not deserve to live in."

FBiH HoR refuses to equalize rights of National Defence Western Bosnia members with those of BiH Army and HVO veterans	Hayat By Alem Karamesic – At its special session, The FBiH House of Representatives has passed proposed changes to the law on rights of veterans and their families. The HoR didn't want to equalize rights of former members of National Defense Western Bosnia [NDWB] and their families with the existing BiH war veterans' rights, pointing out that that the rights of former NDWB members should be defined by some other law i.e lex specialis. "By doing so, the FBiH HoR has violated the FBiH Constitutional Court's decision", said DNZ member Hafeza Sabljakovic.
