BiH CoM Chair Adnan Terzic , RS PM Milorad Dodik and FBiH PM Ahmet Hadzipasic announced the talks to solve this issue would be continued soon. "[On Monday] we have reached an agreement to lift the blockade [of the account]...[and] to implement regulations of the agreement three of us signed on April 26 [note: agreement says final decision on the coefficients would be made on a base of the VAT returns], and that the coefficients for June – but only for June – are established in line with that agreement" , stated Terzic. Dodik stressed he is against blocking of the account and underlined that according to previous agreement 32% of VAT revenues belong to the RS, 2% to Brcko District, and remaining 66% to FBiH. "We have accepted distribution of funds for June to be carried out on a basis of this agreement; however, new solution should be proposed by June 20, and it should be the best possible solution for the sustainability of the entire system" , stated Dodik. FBiH officials announced that they would not agree to blackmails; they deem that the final agreement should be satisfying for all sides. "We all should take only what belong to us. We don't want somebody else's money, but we also don't want to give our own [money]" , stressed FBiH PM Hadzipasic. But as someone who was reporting on BiH war, I tried to illustrate how Balkans remained instable even a decade after fall of Yugoslavia." Beeston also stressed that this article is not only referring to Balkans, but to entire Europe.

Looking in long term, the fact that Croats, with Church's blessing, rejected the reform in the Parliament will turn out as a heavy mistake. Rational voices in the Church are already clear with that."
VL: Peoples in BiH have to recognize dignity of human beings	Vecernji List , pg 2 'Country with human face', by Friar Iko Skoko – the author argues that the two most topical issues in BiH at the moment are the preparations for the forthcoming October elections and 'whispers' that the Serbs will ask for separation from BiH. In such reality, notes Skoko , BiH could become a country of extreme differences that could lead to another war or a country of dialogue that would be an example for Europe. Skoko believes that the remedy lies in the dialogue between all peoples in BiH, which should be identifying best values and interests of all, which foremost have to include dignity of human beings.

Finally, Stipetic says the HR, Christian Schwarz-Schilling , will have more work than he anticipated, believing that Schwarz-Schilling will not be the last HR in BiH despite the IC's original plans.

Oslob op-ed: RS PM Dodik is the strongest in the country, building strength on fear of him	Oslobodjenje pg 9 'Fear of Dodik' op-ed by Zija Dizdarevic – Editorial refers to the letter addressed by the Ivo Bilic Markulj , representative of Croat community in Ilidza municipality [Sarajevo], protesting against the initiative of the BiH Ambassador to Turkey to include this municipality in the “Union of Turk world”, in which he calls on RS Prime Minister Milorad Dodik to help out. The author takes this example of demonstrating Dodik’s strength, as Markulj was “convinced that [Dodik] would answer [his] call” as local politicians in FBiH “are afraid of him here”. Thus, believes Mrkulj, the problem would be solved. Commenting this statement, and on one made by DEPOS Co-Chair Svetlana Cenic [who said that FBiH sees Dodik as competition], editorial reads “Dodik is being perceived from two environments, two angles as someone people are afraid of and someone who can solve issues on that basis. RS PM and SNSD leader became political particularity with a different and stronger influence on BiH scene than any other RS politician after the war.” Noting that “Dodik is as much strong as BiH is weak”, author concludes that in the situation in which ‘movement for Greater Serbia’ is again threatening BiH’s Euro-Atlantic perspective “it is necessary for USA, EU, NATO and OHR, together with parties that are in alliance with Dodik to make clear and common response.”

Canadian police seized approximately three tons of ammonium nitrate, commonly used for making explosives, during the operation; arrested persons are reported to be of Somalian, Egyptian, Jamaican and Trinidadian descent, most of them with Canadian citizenship. BHT reporter reminded that five persons suspected of planning terrorist activities have been arrested in BiH at the end of 2005. One of them is Cesur Abdulkadir; his attorney Semso Temin claims that his client has nothing to do with the group arrested in Canada. BiH Prosecutor’s Office indicted those five persons for terrorism; members of Prosecutor’s Office admitted that during the investigation they have worked together with security structures in numerous countries, but they did not say which ones. “You know that BiH still has one unsolved problem, the audit of citizenship... Certainly, it will be solved, maybe even by the end of the year”, stated Colak. So far, 38 decisions of giving BiH citizenship have been annulled. Dnevni List, pg 4 ‘We will prove we are not terrorists’, by Mensud Zorlak – Minister Colak noted that BiH would prove it is not harbouring terrorists, stressing the problem with the revision of issuance of BiH citizenships, which has often been linked to terrorism threats. It could easily happen that authorities would overlap.” He is of the view SIPOA should get the equipment. RS officials: RS Mol, Police and regions under their authority are minimum that should be provided	RTRS by Nada Arlov – RS Interior Minister Stanislav Cadj believes that decisions passed by the Police Reform Directorate Steering Board without support of the RS representatives would face before the BiH Parliament the same destiny as “Martens plan”. Commenting the police reform, the RS National Assembly Speaker Igor Radojicic said that RS would not change the recommendations of the RSNA [On 11 May, the RSNA has adopted the “recommendation on model of the future police structure in BiH”, which urges the PRD SB to respected the Agreement endorsed by the Assembly in 2005’ perseverance of RS Mol and regions within its jurisdiction; and clear structure of new police with a seat in Banja Luka]. “If FBiH does not care about the Agreement and if they hope that someone would impose decisions, I believe that they will come to their senses very late. Unfortunately, the whole country will delay because of this and we will all suffer because of such way of behaviour” , said Radojicic. BiH Foreign Affairs Minister Mladen Ivanic deems that this issue could move away BiH from signing SAA. According to Ivanic, EC is very worried about the issue of police reform and he underlines that some at the EC believe the last year’s police reform agreement presents acceptance of the Martens plan while others believe that the last year’s police reform agreement opened the way for the new police reform since Martens plan failed. Ivanic asked from EU Enlargement Commissioner Olli Rehn that EC takes into consideration proposals on the police reform that come from the RS.

Representatives of FBiH Commission for Missing Persons assume that more than 20 victims have been buried in this mass grave, but the exact number will be known only after the exhumation is completed. Since it is not yet entirely clear when and where those persons have been murdered, it is too early to speculate about the names of perpetrators; however, FTV reporter unofficially learns that Gojko Jankovic and Dragan Zelenovic (both arrested under suspicion for war crimes) can be linked with this crime as well. Radicals, late Serbian President Slobodan Milosevic ’s Socialist Party and representatives of current Serbian Prime Minister Vojislav Kostunica ’s party all agreed that Serbia has nothing to celebrate, even though it has become an independent state after 88 years. On the other hand, parties of democratic bloc congratulated both Serbian and Montenegrin citizens on becoming citizens of two independent states.
