Police reform
Parties reached an agreement on one police, one national coat of arms and equal salary	RTRS - The talk of 11 parliamentary parties in BiH on police reform at Vlastic brought the agreement of establishing one police, one national coat of arms and equal salary stated HR to BiH, Paddy Ashdown. He expressed satisfaction for the situation adding that nothing is still agreed until they decide upon police regions in BiH. Leader of SDP Zlatko Lagumdzija sent a letter to HR stating that he accidentally received a congratulation note from Ashdown on reached agreement on police reforms. Lagumdzija said that his party is against the agreement that doesn't regulate efficiency of police in fighting against crime. He added that HR should send this congratulation note to his licensed reformers. BiH Security Minister Barisa Colak regarding the Vlastic meeting said that, finally, they have agreed important things regarding the police reform. He added that police regions, 9 + 1, should be determined according to the efficiency of the region. SDA party said that they accept the compromise of keeping the entity ministries as long as there is only one state authority over police. RHB, Nezavisne Novine pg 2 'SDP does not accept "congratulation note" for agreement on Vlastic' by R. S., Oslobodjenje pg 3 'I have received a congratulation note by a mistake' not signed -also carry statement of Lagumdzija. Nezavisne Novine pg 2 'Entity boundaries will not be an obstacle for regions' by A. Sisic, Glas Srpske pg 5 'Regions cut boundaries' not signed, Dnevni List pg 4 'Entities without jurisdiction over the police' by Erna Mackic, Dnevni Avaz pg 5 'Entity Mols are not authorised for the work of the police' by Srna, Oslobodjenje pg 4 'Significant progress in police reform' by S. R. - carry statement of SDA.

HR Ashdown: I am not afraid of failure in continuation of negotiations	Dnevni Avaz cover pg splash 'Remains of communism were erased from the police' and pg 5 'I am not afraid of failure in continuation of negotiations' by Sead Numanovic – High Representative Paddy Ashdown said that the most striking results of the Vlasic accord were the separation of political influence from the operational work of the police and the exclusive responsibility of the state for the work of the police. "Using the metaphor of the conclave, which reporters used to describe the talks on Vlasic, I can say that this is indeed 'white smoke'. Prior to Vlasic BiH had 13 police forces, 13 bureaucracies, 13 different uniforms and emblems, 13 different commands and 13 salary levels, while now we have one police force, one emblem, and equal pay. You don't need to be an expert to realize which of these two organizational concepts is more efficient," Ashdown said. Ashdown said that the entity interior ministries could remain, but that they would be responsible for fire prevention or civil defence and a certain right to consultation in shaping police policy, but would have no authority over the operational work of the police. The High Representative repeated that nothing was agreed until the second round of talks between political parties, scheduled to open on 11 May, reached agreement on a map of the police regions, which must be in accordance with European principles and drawn up to suit police operativity, not politics. Ashdown added that, although this was possible, he did not believe that the political parties would take a step backwards and annul the results of the talks on Vlasic. Glas Srpske pg 2 "White smoke" on Vlasic' not signed – carries parts of the same interview of HR Ashdown.
Police experts support Vlasic conclusions, but also present their remarks	Oslobodjenje cover pg splash 'There can be no decision making by consensus at police' and pgs 4 – 5 'There is no decision-making by a consensus at police forces throughout the world' by Azhar Kalamujic – features statements of police experts from BiH (former F BiH Minister of Interior and Head of SBS Muhamed Basic, SIPA Chief in charge of VIP protection Mijo Golub and former F BiH Interior Minister Ramo Maslesa) who all support agreement political leaders have reached on Vlasic, but also present their remarks regarding the police reform. Basic claims no person should expect ideal solutions in this phase of police reform and he favors the model of division of the police in five regions – however, he suggests the sixth region for Brcko District should be introduced as well. Golub says the police are a semi-military organization, in which decisions should not be made through a Committee by a consensus. Maslesa too thinks such a committee might be an obstacle in the police work and might result in even greater political influence over the police.
Javier Solana welcomed agreement on police reform reached on Vlasic	RTRS, Nezavisne Novine pg 2 'A step towards a better police' by N. N., Glas Srpske pg 2 'A great step forward' not signed, Dnevni Avaz pg 5 'A step towards a successful fight against crime' by S. N. – EU High Representative for Foreign Affairs Javier Solana welcomed the agreement on police reform reached on Vlasic. He evaluated this as a step closer of accomplishing pre-requests of Feasibility Study.

The Embassy calls on the participants to continue the negotiations in the same spirit so that final results that satisfy the criteria from the Feasibility Study could be reached by May 19.
NSRzB: agreement on police reform hasn't resolved anything	RHB, Oslobodjenje pg 4 'Vlasic conclave' not signed – NSRzB (People's Party Trough Work to Prosperity) feels that agreement on police reform hasn't resolved anything. According to NSRzB it is ironic that HR Paddy Ashdown feels that the negotiations are historic achievement since they were carried out under supervision of international community.

11 NGOs from RS confirmed protests on the proposed and accepted agreement regarding RS Mol	RTRS, Glas Srpske pg 5 'Protests in front of the Assembly' by G. K., Dnevni Avaz pg 12 'They are preparing large protests in Banja Luka to protect RS' not signed- Coordination committee of 11 RS NGOs confirmed protests in front of RS Government on the proposed and accepted solution at the Vlastic meeting. They demand that RS President Dragan Cavic speaks to public on accepted agreement on police reform. The Chair of Coordination body of RS Association of refugees Veljko Stevanovic said that citizens of RS did not deserve to hear from Chairman of BiH CoM Adnan Terzic on the future of RS and RS Mol. RS PM Bukejlovic: police reform is not final pre-requisite	Glas Srpske pg 5 'No end to pre-conditions' by D. B. - During SDS rally in Prijedor held on Thursday, RS PM Pero Bukejlovic has stated that, although it had been announced as final pre-requisite for the admission of BiH to Europe, police reform will not be the last pre-requisite international community would set before BiH. 'It is obvious there are attempts to centralise BiH and I expect many other problems to occur', Bukejlovic said. Oslobodjenje pg 4 'Police is not the final pre-requisite for accession to Europe' by B. Ka. - also carries Bukejlovic's statement.
HDZ: police reform should break three principles of EU Commission	RTRS - HDZ said that police reform should break three principles of EU Commission.
Colak: we confirmed our determination to support basic principles of EU Commission	Dnevni List pg 4 'Talks on police regions to follow' - HDZ President Barisa Colak informed party members on Vlastic talks. Todorovic: parties entered arrangements without support of RS citizens	Nezavisne Novine pg 2 'SDS entered the arrangement without support of citizens' by V. P. - Head of RS Helsinki Committee for Human Rights Branko Todorovic has assessed that the Vlastic talks have lead to abolishment of entity authorizations and he accused political parties, especially SDS, of having entered such political arrangements for which they have no support of RS citizens. He wonders why the international community insists on out-of-institution resolving of problems, since Vlastic is not an institution in which decisions should be made.
RHB reporter comments on Vlastic negotiations: negotiations were completed without success	RHB Report by Ivica Simunovic - RHB brings the commentary of its reporter Ivica Simunovic on police reform negotiations that were held at Vlastic. Simunovic feels that negotiations were completed without success rather the solution was postponed. He adds that Serb representatives will never accept negation of entity borders which in fact the police reform is all about. Simunovic further states that "Vlastic fiasco" has brought into question the strategy of international community in BiH. The strategy according to Simunovic represents continuous mixing of all relevant issues in BiH. Reporter feels that a similar thing is planned for law on public RTV system so with the mixing of education system everyone in BiH could soon speak in the same language. If the mixing continues all citizens in BiH could soon become unaware of their nationality, language, religion or local self-governance. He also says that since Croats gave up on many things they seem to be more appropriate for the mixing than the Serbs since according to the international community the law on public RTV system is one of conditions for membership in EU and that is where Croats need to give up on the channel in Croatian language.
