	11 of the leading parliamentary parties in BiH [SDS, SNSD, PDP, DNS, SDA, HDZ, SPRS, the Centre Club, SBiH, NHI and SDP], the High Representative, the EUPM Commissioner and the Chair of the Police Restructuring Commission have gathered in the Hotel Pahuljica on Mount Vlasic to hold three-day negotiations on police reform in BiH. The aim of the negotiations is to produce a draft Political Agreement on the future of Policing in BiH that is to be adopted by Entity Parliaments in May.OHR stressed before the meeting that they will not impose this reform but it is up to political parties to decide on the future of BIH.
	At the beginning of the talks, the EC representative to BiH, Michael Humphreys, reminded the participants on three key conditions set by the EC that must not be compromised in negotiations on police reform: control and financing of the police at the state level; police in service of citizens and extradition of political influence over police. All media noted that the Hotel is

	"Nobody is talking about the abolition of the entities. Instead, what is required is for those minimal institutions that exist at state level to be effective and affordable. So, for example, if the EU is negotiating with BiH on a policing matter it must be confident that the interior minister with whom it is talking wields sufficient power within the country to deliver results." Solana explained why it was necessary to implement police reform and he explained what would be results of the police reform. Asked to say if the current influence of OHR is really necessary, Solana rejected common accusations that BiH is a protectorate, explaining that the position of the High Representative and the Bonn powers were designed to meet a specific need in a specific time. 'Without the High Representatives' interventions BiH would not have been able to achieve the progress it has already made', he added. He also said: 'If you want to get into the EU then you must do so without the High Representative. This means adopting and implementing the necessary reforms for starting a BHT1 on police reform: Politicians stance differ very much	BHT 1 by Svjetlana Topalic – BHT 1 comments that unlike the EU representatives, BiH politicians have different positions when it comes to the process of the police reform. On its last session, RS National Assembly supported RS Government conclusions on the police reform, which includes the future existence of the RS Ministry of Internal Affairs as a minimum acceptable for politicians from this BiH Entity. "There is no way we can talk about the disappearance of the RS Ministry of Internal Affairs, or the RS Police" , stated RS Interior Minister Darko Matijasevic earlier. Even parties from FBiH have different opinion on the police restructuring process, says BHT. "We are not satisfied with the existing organization of the police forces, because the results of that organization are not as we expected" , said HDZ spokesperson Pero Pavlovic in a statement for the BHT. "We want the police at the state level, than we can discuss the other issues" , added Pavlovic. BiH Presidency expressed its certain that politicians will find the right solution on the police reform meeting at Vlasic.

Omeragic - The representatives of both position and opposition parties in BiH and the international community on Sunday evening gathered at Vlasic to hold the negotiations on police reform. Daily notes that while a number of participants emphasized its optimism regarding the success of the talks, there are still plenty of doubts. "We have no much time We have to reach an agreement that EC demands," stated the BiH Security Minister Barisa Colak upon arriving to Vlasic. "After statements of the politicians in RS and RSNA decisions I am not an optimist. I will do everything to have an agreement reached, but I am not ready to make some unprincipled compromises that would legalize the current situation in the police," commented Sulejman Tihic. SDA, he added, will not accept the division into regions within the entities border lines and the financing of police through entities. SBiH President, Saftet Halilovic, hopes that the agreement which would be a "rotten compromise made to be used by the HR to show he did something." He added that by calling on Vlasic meeting, the HR Paddy Ashdown admitted that he could not reach an agreement on the reform "with his licenced reformists." NHI leader Kresimir Zubak, also believes that no compromise around three EC principles can be made, while the division of the police regions could be further negotiation. SDS leader, Dragan Cavic, refused to make any comments [Note: all media reported Cavic's refusal to give any comment, except Glas Srpske].
Cavic to protect RS NA conclusions at Vlasic mtg; SNSD: Constitution not to be encroached	Glas Srpske pg 5 'Playing by their own tunes' by N.Diklic – Dragan Cavic , RS President, claims that he would not give up on Agreement on harmonised political activities at Vlasic meeting, neither on conclusions of the RS NA, that obligate him not to accept any proposal to the detriment of RS. Cavic says: " I will support only that reform, that stipulates the existence of the RS MOI and preservation of the constitutional order of RS. " Cavic brings Darko Matijasevic as his advisor to Vlasic meeting. Krstan Simic , SNSD Vice President, says: " We can fulfil basic principles IC is demanding from us without encroaching the constitutional order and seizure of authorities of RS, which belong to it according to Dayton Agreement." 	Moreover, Kukic says that people have noticed that the High Representative, Paddy Ashdown, has evolved, as seen in parts of his address to the RSNA, when he stated among other things that the police reform does not necessarily mean the abolishment of the RS Interior Ministry. In that context, Kukic says that calculations, which say that the "party on Vlasic" has a goal to persuade national leaders from the FBiH to acknowledge the proposal from Banja Luka, cannot be ruled out. This in turn will satisfy Dragan Cavic and his people's Lagumdzija: HR has outlived his functionality	 Dnevni List pg 5 'HR has outlived his functionality' by E. Mackic - At the session of independent intellectuals 'Krug 99' held in Sarajevo on Sunday, SDP President Zlatko Lagumdzija presented a report of the Commission for Balkan in which the strategic orientation of the International Community towards the Southeast Europe has been defined. DL says that as far as BiH is concerned, Lagumdzija stressed necessity of the constitutional changes. Apart from the constitutional changes, Lagumdzija stressed defining of the High Representative's role as the second important element and he added: 'The HR in BiH has outlived his functionality and it is necessary to transform the OHR in some sort of office of the EU negotiator.' According to Lagumdzija, the Commission for Balkan proposes an approach of so-called individual performance, which means that BiH, Serbia, and Montenegro, Kosovo, Macedonia and Albania should resolve the basic, status issues by autumn 2006, while the EU in coordination with the USA would organize a summit at which each of these countries bi give a clear instruction and map for the fast joining the EU. VL criticizing HDZ and HDZ relations with IC	Vecernji List cover pg splash 'HDZ, party that pulls down itself' and pg 2 'Life on infusion' by M. Vasilj carries a harsh commentary on the current situation in HDZ and the author says that, among the other things, divisions and personal interests within HDZ contributed to a difficult position of the Croat people in BiH. The author also says that although HDZ leaders claim that they have the solution for the constitutional changes, this claim is not true. The author concludes that in case that HDZ is not able to make changes then it should leave the political scene and give an opportunity to those who can respond to the challenges that the representatives of the Croat people in BiH will be faced with soon. In an inset to VL under headline 'From accepting to strong conflict' the author qualifies HDZ relations with the International Community in the last few years as flirting. According to VL, only after the removal of Croat member of the HDZ Presidency Dragan Covic , HDZ President Barisa Colak strongly opposed High Representative Paddy Ashdown before the UN General Assembly however many people judged that such reaction was too late. The article also says that according to some unwritten rule, the IC representatives were making moves to the damage of the Croat people before the elections and this used to unite the Croat electorate around HDZ.

' EU demands for reforms from BiH and this, most probably, includes partial changes to the Final Award ', Djapo said. He added the District wishes to establish such mechanisms that would enable Brcko to participate equally in changes and protect its position and Final Award. With regard to police reform, Djapo said: ' We support establishing of a single police in BiH, single law and single budget. However, the minimum, beyond which Brcko cannot go in frame of this reform, is that the Brcko police should be regional, in frame of the District or wider. This would guarantee a complete personal and property security of all citizens in this area'.

VL on mujahiddins who received BiH citizenship	Vecernji List pg 5 'BiH humanitarians played host to humanitarian workers with blood-stained hands', mentioned on cover 'Citizenships to persons with blood-stained hands' by M. Relota carries that one of crucial reasons because of which one cannot enter any European country with a BiH passport without a visa is the fact that Bosniak officials used to issue BiH personal documents to the persons of an African and Asian origin since most of them use to be members of mujahiddins' units, which committed war crimes in BiH. VL also says that many mujahiddins received the BiH citizenship in an irregular and illegal manner.

FBiH Defence Minister Nikolic: Conscription must be abolished	Dnevni List , front pg splash 'Conscription is being abolished' and pg 3 'Abolishment of conscription is inevitable', by Marko Karacic – Carries the FBiH Defence Minister, Miroslav Nikolic , as commenting the course of the defense reform: "We are going into the second phase of defense reform. One of the issues is the mandatory conscription. As far that issue is concerned, it is absolutely clear. The Presidency has opted for NATO and that is a done deal, the mandatory military service has to be abolished". Nikolic notes that one of the main reasons is to cut costs, since the costs for mandatory military service in the FBiH in 2005 will amount to some 33 million KMs.
