

High Representative meets Bozidar Matic

The High Representative, Wolfgang Petritsch, yesterday met with Prime Minister designate Professor Bozidar Matic, who presented his provisional cabinet. The High Representative took note of the list of ministers and once again highlighted to Professor Matic the importance and urgency to form a new government.

The High Representative stressed that nearly four months after the elections, the people of Bosnia and Herzegovina have the right to see a government in place, that puts the country on track. The new government must quickly undertake the serious reforms required to improve the economic and social situation in Bosnia and Herzegovina.
