FTV feature on constitutional changes	FTV by Sinan Saric - FTV brings a feature on the possible changes to the BiH Constitution, adding that those in favour of such idea claim that the Constitution is discriminatory. Articles 4 and 5 of the BiH Constitution deprives citizens of their political right to be elected to the office. "As it is well known, this right is reduced in a way that delegates in the House of Peoples from Serb people can be elected only from the RS territory, delegates from Bosniak and Croat people can be elected only from the FBiH territory, and the same thing is with the BiH Presidency," said the Chairman of the BiH Parliamentary Constitutional and Legal Commission, Mirsad Ceman . Four proposals on the constitutional changes have been submitted to the Commission, but those were never discussed due to opposing of three Commission's members, Petar Kunic, Tihomir Gligoric and Momcilo Novakovic . They claim that the national interests of the Serb people would be jeopardized with harmonisation of the BiH Constitution with the European human rights convention. "That is about individual citizens rights and that is about European human rights convention. That convention is, in a way, pushed to the centre of attention, but it is normal that Serb is elected from the RS in function of protection of that community," stated member of the Commission, Petar Kunic .

To me, that was a clear signal that certain political movements cannot accept citizens will for changes expressed at the elections, thus they are obstructing work of the authorities, in this case, the work of municipal head," said Krsmanovic. According to the source, the reason why "Covic and company" want to keep Jelavic in custody lies in the fact that Jelavic, if he were defending from outside the prison, would be able to realize who had the interest to keep him behind the bars, after which he would be able to undertake actions which would shatter Covic and people around Covic's cover, in other words he would be able to expose them and charge them for the deeds he has been solely charged with.
