DL on Tadic's apology	Dnevni List, pg 2 'Is only apology enough?', by Ivica Glibusic – Commenting on the apology of the Serbian President, Boris Tadic, the author wonders what President Tadic and Serbian authorities are doing to bring the responsible before justice. The author also notes that the Croatian President, Stipe Mesic, already apologized for crimes committed by the Croat(ian)s, saying it is down to Sulejman Tihic to apologize for crimes committed by the Bosniaks. However, the author wonders whether an apology only is good enough for the future in these areas.
