Cavic said: "SDS Chair Board concluded dismissals of SDA Ministers are inevitable owing to constant attacks of Sulejman Tihic, SDA President, against RS. SDS would support RS Government and take part in parliament majority. On the basis of its politics, SDS would do all it can to preserve the stability of RS institutions." He reiterated once more early elections would only make the situation more complicated. He also stressed that at BiH Parliamentary Assembly, SDS would be acting independently, noting it would no longer be "assistance stick" to any option. He also noted that in a principal and independent manner, SDS would be passing decisions, offering selective assistance to technical composition of authority, but not personal support at all. He noted: "SDS would not be either position or opposition." SDS Chair Board decided to identify legal manner in which lawsuits against High Representative to BiH – over violation of human and civic rights and basic freedoms – could be filed at a state, whose legal system allows such sort of procedure. According to NN inset 1 'Stojicic is the candidate for RS NA Speaker', SDS Chair Board proposed Dusan Stojicic, SDS Spokesperson and SDS MP at RS NA, as the new RS NA Speaker. He warned that the sacking of the three SDA ministers could seriously destabilise both RS and BiH institutions. Osmanovic stressed that SDA would use all constitutional and legal possibilities to keep its ministers in the RS Government. Osmanovic reminded of the possibility to launch the mechanism for the protection of the vital national interest before the RS Council of Peoples, which could significantly hinder the efficiency of RS institutions. He reminded that the SDA Presidency would hold a special session in Sarajevo on Friday to discuss the initiative for the dismissal of SDA ministers and decide on its further action. Nezavisne Novine pg 3 'Removals would jeopardise RS institutions'; Glas Srpske pg 3 'Stability jeopardised'; EuroBlic RSpG 2 'Crisis without ministers' – Sefket Hafizovic, RS NA Deputy Speaker, is of the view that Mladen Ivanic's demand is not well-thought, noting such move would obstruct ongoing reforms' processes. Omer Brankovic, RS Minister for economic affairs and coordination, said that SDA Ministers at RS Government would continue to work in the full capacity at RS Government. He noted: "We will be working until the last day the same way we have been working so far. Ivanic, Mikerevic and Cavic are informed of our activities."
PDP on Osmanovic's statement	Glas Srpske pg 2 'Adil mixes up terms' – According to PDP press release issued yesterday, PDP yesterday assessed that Adil Osmanovic, SDA Vice President, "is mixing up terms" by stating that this Party would use RS Council of Peoples as a mechanism for blockade of political system. PDP further stressed that its demand for removal of SDA ministers is in full accordance with the RS Constitution.

He also said elections would be inevitable unless current situation stabilised. Petar Djokic, President of RS Socialist Party, said: "It will be hard to get out from the current political crisis without early elections." Marko Pavic, DNS leader, is still of the view early elections is the only solution to the crisis. Zekerijah Osmic, SDP of BiH delegate at RS NA, is of the view that "all Cavic's, Ivanic's and Tihic's stories are political games. The people would still have bad authority."
Feral Tribune on BiH politicians' behaviour on eve of local elections	Feral Tribune, pg 31, 'War jargon' by Ivan Lovrenovic – in light of recent political developments in BiH and behavior of leading politicians in that context (Cavic's admitting of Srebrenica war crime, Tihic's observations on the RS and Cavic's reaction to them, reactions to removal of RS officials by the HR over non-cooperation with the ICTY), the author finds it interesting that the protagonists of the latest fierce arguments are coalition partners at both the RS and the State level. He adds that judging by the practice so far, many wonder if this is again about the old, run-down but still efficient pre-election game of programming voters to vote as "members of peoples". Lovrenovic comments saying that everything in BiH seems to be in its old place adding it is premature to think that anything in the structure and mentality of local nationalisms changes and concludes by saying that Paddy Ashdown can prepare himself for a new one-year mandate, reportedly offered to him, with ease.

Ashdown harmonises education in three cantons with the state legislation	Herceg Bosna Radio, Dnevni Avaz pg 9 'Education laws in three cantons harmonized with the State Education Law', Nezavisne Novine pg 4 'OHR imposed Laws on education', Dnevni List pg 5 'Fines against Cantonal HDZ Boards abolished' by N. Bise, Slobodna Dalmacija pg 16 'Ashdown imposed Law to Cantons as well' by D. Pasic, Vecernji List 'Laws on education imposed' by D. Jazvic, FENA - The High Representative, Paddy Ashdown , has issued Decisions rectifying the failures of Central Bosnia Canton, West Herzegovina Canton and Canton 10 to bring their primary and secondary education legislation into line with the State legislation. With this Decision, the High Representative has addressed a situation which represented a challenge both to the Rule of Law and to the international obligations of BiH. Last year, the HDZ, together with all other parties, voted for the State Framework Law on Primary and Secondary Education. This was a unanimous vote in the State Parliament. Yet since the end of last year, these cantons with HDZ education ministers have consistently failed to take action to harmonise their cantonal laws with the State legislation. "This could not be tolerated further," the High Representative said when issuing these Decisions. "Necessary arrangements must be made in good time so that the children in these cantons are able to pursue a normal education, consistent with the best European practice before the start of the new school year. In addition, it must be made clear that flaunting the Rule of Law is simply no longer acceptable in Bosnia and Herzegovina," he added. With these Decisions, fines imposed on budgetary support to the HDZ in these three cantons will be lifted. Funds that have been withheld in the course of the sanction period will not be returned, but will be used for educational purposes in the relevant cantons, according to a press release issued by OHR on Thursday.
