RSNA discusses economy report	FTV, BHTV 1, Glas Srpske carries a separate article on pg 2 'Urgent measures', Nezavisne Novine pg 5 'Concept of privatisation was wrong'; Glas Srpske pg 2 'Patience for recovery' - The RS Government report on economy, discussed by RS National Assembly on Tuesday, reads that the concept of the mass privatisation was wrong and did not have good results. Government further assessed that the key problems of the privatisation process were: non-competitive firms whose capital was subject to privatisation, bad business and investment environment in RS and BiH, weaknesses of the institutions in charge of privatisation process and inefficiency of the officials of the international community. Dragan Mikerevic, RS Prime Minister, said that Government is supporting "more aggressive approach to privatisation, instead of placement of moratorium to this process, as some people propose". Milorad Dodik, SNSD President, proposed that the process of a complete liberalisation should be abandoned, custom fees on raw materials should be abolished, loan interest rates should be decreased and a fund for stimulating small firms should be established. He recommended audit of the entire process of privatisation. RTRS - The RS Trade Union was also dissatisfied with the Government's report. "Since RS Government cannot deal with such problems, we ask for transfer of its management and obligations to local institutions," said Cedo Volas, President of the Union. Mikerevic argued that there were evidences that certain progresses had been made.

RS officials on economy in the entity	Blic pg 13 '5 exits from crisis' – Minister of Economy Milan Bogicevic believes the biggest problem of RS economy is that the great majority of firms is not prepared for market competition. He said the Government believes strategic firms should be taken care of first, in order for their development to help developing small and medium sized companies. The President of RS chamber of Commerce, Mladen Micic, thinks the biggest problem is poor personnel policy, inefficient privatization and lack of incentive measures. The President of RS Trade Union, Cedo Volas, requested accepting of the Trade Union demands on increasing industrial production from 10% to 20%, accelerating the privatization process, putting a moratorium on privatization of public firms and establishing of an agency for a revision of certain cases of the privatization. The President of the RS Association of Employers, Damir Miljevic, has suggested the RS NA to oblige the Government to create an action plan on short-term measures in order to improve the situation in economy.

The third way is more aggressive approach to the privatization process and the fourth chance is the protection of domestic production. Finally, the fifth chance is in public works through approving concessions.

"As the Austrian Ambassador I wish to use this opportunity and especially appeal on Austrian investors and businesspersons to travel to BiH, and to the RS, where I think there are many interesting and lucrative business opportunities. The Embassy's Economic Department and I are available for mediation in establishing certain contacts", Austrian Ambassador to BiH Gerhard Jandl said. Dnevni Avaz pg 9 'Jandl: I appeal to Austrian businessmen to travel to BiH' by M.Dr. - Asked by Avaz as to what caused such estimate at the first place, Ambassador Jandl explained that it was published on 8 April, several days after SFOR action in Pale with an aim to arrest war crimes suspects. Glas Srpske pg 2 'An old news', Dnevni List pg 3 'BiH safe country for Austrians', mentioned on cover, by Nina and Vecernji List pg 2 'Austrian Consul for change of information on security in BiH' by F - also reported on the statement.

Reactions to the NATO SG statement	Nezavisne Novine cover and pg 3 'OHR: The BiH progress obstructed over RS' - OHR yesterday assessed that the entire progress of the state of BiH "is obstructed over the failure of the RS to support the state and its duties towards the Hague Tribunal". Oleg Milisic, OHR Spokesperson, stated on Tuesday that: "Whether and when BiH would be admitted into PfP is an issue to be addressed to NATO. The defence reform was a big success. However, progress of BiH has been obstructed over the failure of the RS to support the BiH in its cooperation with The Hague." Commenting on statement of NATO Secretary General, Jaap de Hoop Scheffer, (who said that BiH will not, most likely, be invited to join PfP at the Istanbul Summit) Nikola Radovanovic BiH Defence Minister, said that the decision on BiH admission into PfP has not been reached as yet, noting that this issue will remain open until the Istanbul Summit. Martin Raguz, Chairperson of the BiH House of Representatives, is also of the view that its is still too early to make any definite assessment into this issue. Sefik Dzaferovic, Raguz's deputy, concluded that the obstructionists of the entire process are known, stressing that this situation can easily be settled through political arrangements. Milorad Dodik, SNSD President, is of the view that the RS authorities will not be able of fulfilling the most important pre-requisite to ensure BiH is invited into PfP.

SFOR confirms reducing of forces	Vecernji List pg 3 '500 SFOR's soldiers less as of June 1' by dja , Dnevni List pg 9 'Only 7000 soldiers remain as of June 1' by D.P.M. , Blic pg 15 'Only 7,000 soldiers as of June' by J. D. – Domestic authority is more and more contributing to safe and stabile environment in BiH, therefore SFOR has decided to reduce the number of its troops down to 7,000 as of June 1. DA editorial says IC also responsible for BiH failure on road to European integrations	Dnevni Avaz pg 3 'Rejection in Istanbul' editorial by Sead Numanovic – Author says that lack of cooperation with ICTY has become the most serious obstruction on the path of BiH integration into Europe, and asserts that Chair of BiH CoM Adnan Terzic has been right to say that a cease of further BiH integration to the democratic community is a reward for war criminals. "BiH and its bigger entity cannot do anything change situation. Obviously, everything is in the hands of IC and RS authorities," reads editorial adding that the international community, which recognized RS legitimacy, is also responsible for the failure of BiH in further progressing to Europe. The question is, says author, what will OHR and IC do to remove that obstacle to BiH road to European institutions. Listing some possible sanctions – such as banning RS, removal of some officials, taking part of RS authorities away and loss of its financial power, editorial concludes that everything else below that would be 'throwing dust in the eyes' but also "complicity in enabling BiH to became a part of normal world."
Oslobodjenje editorial argues on consequences of negative answer to BiH re membership to PfP	Oslobodjenje pg 2 'One Karadzic's victories?' by Antonio Prlenda – Noting that it is almost certain that BiH will not be invited to join Partnership for Peace during the NATO summit to be held in Istanbul in June, author says that, however, it appears as NATO is very willing to have BiH "under its auspices". He also believes that this is also case with State and Montenegro, arguing that NATO set very low technical conditions for PfP membership in both cases. Concluding that Radovan Karadzic has once again stop and delayed this country on a path of recovery, author says failure to be invited for PfP in June could be a strong setback to successful defence reforms, but also reformatory forces in BiH. Noting that cooperation with the ICTY is not only an issue of RS, editorial concludes that "perhaps Federation authorities would also wake up on this issue and in a bit more 'quarrelling' manner talk to their counterparts in RS. Reforms are being implemented because of BiH, and perhaps tempo of other reforms could be delayed after announcing this failure. But, that is a separate test... It should be proven that Karadzic, after all, did not win."

War crimes

D. - OHR spokesperson Vedran Persic stated at the press conference on Tuesday that recent comments that appeared in some media that cooperation with ICTY will be empty talk until SFOR establishes joint operations with BiH authorities, sounds like just another excuse for not doing anything. Persic reminded that BiH is under an international obligation to arrest PIFWCS, and stressed that the RS in particular is failing to uphold that obligation. He further underlined that RS authorities will need to demonstrate that they are serious about carrying out operations to detain war crimes suspects before the Istanbul summit at the end of June if BiH is to have any chance of changing the perception that BiH is not serious about upholding its international obligations. Dnevni Avaz pg 3 'Djeric and Njegus have to continue with actions of apprehending war crimes suspects' - Persic stressed that OHR expects the RS Minister of Police Zoran Djeric, and the RS Director of Police, to continue to authorise and undertake operations against PIFWCS as a matter of urgency, adding that unless the RS shows a dramatic change in their attitude and delivers results instead of excuses, they are putting this country's future in Europe at risk.

He stresses that BiH Justice Minister cannot think otherwise, if RS President holds such information and makes a public announcement. He also says he was unofficially informed Carla del Ponte, ICTY Chief Prosecutor, would visit Sarajevo on 2nd and 3rd June. However, he cannot confirm whether she would bring some new bills of indictment. On the establishment of the Special Criminal Department at the BiH State Court and Prosecutor's Office in charge of processing war crimes, he says that many pre-requisites need to be met in order to make it functioning, such as financing, construction of business premises, harmonisation of regulations and election of judges. Mothers of Srebrenica will ask OHR to extend Srebrenica Commission mandate	Dnevni Avaz pg 5 'Mothers of Srebrenica demand word 'genocide' to be included in the report' by J.S. – Association Mothers of Srebrenica and Zepa met on Tuesday with the representatives of the Srebrenica Commission demanding word 'genocide' to be included in the report on events that happened in Srebrenica in July 1995. Otherwise, said Association, they would not allow Commission members Gordon Bacon or its Vice President Smail Cekic to sign off report on behalf of families of missing persons. In addition, Association will send a request to OHR to extend deadline by when Commission has to complete its works. "We believe that the results only appeared. Fourteen mass graves have been discovered, a vast number of people were interrogated, and we also gave to Commission some names of people to be interview. All this needs to be done for report to be comprehensive. That is why we will ask for Commissions' extensions," stated president of the Association, Munira Subasic. Commission Chair, Milan Bogdanic, expressed his satisfaction with the meeting, and commented on request to use word genocide saying that the Commission's mandate has been specifically limited to locating mass graves and to establish a number on missing persons. "That legal qualification has been given by the ICT... Hence, it is not up to us to give legal qualification. At the same time, nobody denies or can deny qualification given by ICT," says Bogdanic.
