

HR Inzko attends opening of Gracanica Business Fair

The High Representative, Valentin Inzko visited Gracanica today, where he VISITED the 7th Entrepreneurship and Business Fair GRaPos-EXPO.

“This year’s motto of the Gracanica fair – “The future needs to be built, not waited for” (Buducnost se ne ocekuje, ona se gradi) – sends a strong message to everyone in BiH: politicians as well as ordinary citizens. Improving BiH’s business environment through reforms and business-oriented initiatives remains key to investments and business development, and thus also to tackling one of BiH’s serious weaknesses: high unemployment. A better future can be built and an event such as GRaPos-EXPO – which contributes to a better climate, strengthens business cooperation and facilitates contacts that can result in new contracts and projects – is an important step on that path.” – the High Representative said.

During his visit, the High Representative met with a great number of business representatives and with Mayor of Gračanica Nusret Helic.
