In talks with Beecroft, RS President Dragan Cavic stated that the BiH defence minister should be a Serb: "I would not get into speculations, I think that it would be useful for BiH that first MoD is Serb. It would be useful for BiH"- said by Cavic. He stressed that the RS is prepared for implementation of reforms and resolving of organizational problems in order to insure BiH's accession to Euro-Atlantic integration. Beecroft said that it was not important whose representative Defence Minister will be, but what are his qualifications. "We're talking about civilian control of the Army and that is one of the main issues for Partnership for Peace, to find a competent person"- said Robert Beecroft. RS President Cavic suggests that all personal issues from defence structure should be solved together: "And that means: ...personnel solutions about Defence Minister and his Deputies; personnel solutions regarding the Commander of the Jointed Command and his Deputies and Operative Commander and his Deputies, so at all three levels". RTRS – Dragan Kalinic, RS National Assembly Speaker, said he shares Cavic's opinion regarding the appointment of state defence minister. Dnevni Avaz pg 2 'Tomljenovic proposes Pocrnja', Glas Srpske pg 2 'Bells for alert'-, while RS Vice Presidents – who also met with Beecroft – do not. "We cannot decide about that in SNSD. We do not have capacity for making decision. That belongs to people in the power. "USA are ready to organizationally, technically and training wise assist these reforms. I was informed that US troops would stay in BiH regardless to the future organization of peacekeeping forces. Oslobodjenje editorial on defence reforms	Oslobodjenje pg 2 'It might be too late to join PfP [original: 'Kasno Marko u PfP stize' refers to a saying with a meaning in spirit of given translation] op-ed by Antonio Prlendica – Editorial refers to the appointment of the first state defence minister, in which author says that the delays in that regard "are the real indicator of the complexity of the new defence system. And of course, it is almost not necessary to say that this is another proof of the inefficiency of local officials... It is clear that even in some ideal country... quick fulfilment of such [Defence Ministry] personnel requirements would be hard to realize. And with us,... it is a hell of difficulty. It doesn't even matter that in this system it is not important how is the man at top. Because, everyone will get one of the key military-political positions and will be protected from eventual misuse of army against any of the constituent people. Unfortunately, here, for a long time the first time that comes to mind is advantage from any change. Therefore, these parties' trades are expected. However, if this way is applied in the implementation of other provisions from Law on BiH Defence and military reforms, it is not excluded that BiH will stay without membership in NATO's Partnership for Peace this year as well."

Update to FBiH Govt reshuffle plans	Oslobodjenje cover splash, pg 5 'Dzihanovic will not sign decision on dismissal of FBiH Government' – Daily claims that following consultations with Party for BiH, Federation Vice President Sahbaz Dzihanovic refuses the SDA initiative to dismiss FBiH Prime Minister Ahmet Hadzipasic and the rest of the Government. Article also reads that this will be officially said to Federation President Niko Lozancic and his second deputy Desnica Radivojevic today. Apparently, one of the Dzihanovic's opinions regarding the SDA initiative was the problem of the Government itself, but the fact that parties and other 'centres of power' are trying to manage it. Oslobodjenje claims that most probably FBiH parliament will further decide on SDA initiative. Dnevni Avaz pg 2 'Leaders of Federation still wait on attitude from Party for BiH' – brings that Lozancic, Dzihanovic and Radivojevic held meeting to discuss possible dismissal of the Government, but without any conclusions to date. Dnevni Avaz pg 2 'Doors to Europe being closed by both politicians and lobbies' – BiH Prime Minister Adnan Terzic commented on the plans to remove FBiH Government, stressing that the restructure is necessary and that it has to be implemented quickly: "I don't understand either behaviour by PM Hadzipasic. It is obvious that he lost the support of parliamentary majority and he should step aside."
Comments to Ashdown's warning on slow pace of reforms	Dnevni Avaz pg 2 'Doors to Europe being closed by both politicians and lobbies' – Following statement by the High Rep Paddy Ashdown in the DA interview published on Monday, which said that slow pace of implementing reforms in BiH could close the doors to Europe for the country and brought criticism against RS, article brings several reactions. Chairman of the Council of Ministers, Adnan Terzic: "High Representative is probably right. The situation is not alarming, but it could be if we keep like this." Spokesperson for PDP, Sinisa Djordjevic said "every time there are some issues problematic for FBiH, as it is now with the issue whether or not FBiH Government would fall down, the ball is being sent to RS." SDU President Miro Lazovic said that for him words by the HR were "alarming and warning on serious delay at reforms' road." RTRS, Nezavisne Novine pg 6 'Republika Srpska does not obstruct reforms in BiH' – Borislav Paravac, Serb member to BiH Presidency, on Monday expressed disagreement with the assessment of the High Representative to BiH, Paddy Ashdown, that Republika Srpska is obstructing reforms in BiH. Paravac said that: "Republika Srpska approaches this problem seriously. The best proof for this is that Republika Srpska has raised an issue regarding the BiH Constitution, which would clearly stipulate the process of transfer of authorities from Republika Srpska onto BiH level."
NN int with Ashdown	Nezavisne Novine cover, pg 4 'I will react if Police Minister Djeric continues with threats' – In an interview to NN, the High Representative to BiH, Paddy Ashdown, said that: "I never talk about possible actions. However, if the Republika Srpska Interior Minister, Zoran Djeric, keeps threatening to freedom of journalism, there would be reason for me to react." High Rep also stressed that OHR is closely following up on the acetic acid anhydride affair. Speaking of "coup d'etat" affair, Ashdown said that the journalists should file a lawsuit before the Court, if the Parliament Commission established that they were tapped illegally. He also denied media speculation that OHR opposes to removal of Ahmet Hadzipasic, stressing that the authorities of this state decide on these issues. On accomplishment of 16 pre-requisites from Feasibility Study, he expressed belief those could be achieved or at least some progress on implementation of those should be made. He also accuses Republika Srpska authorities of obstructing the beginning of SIPA operation work. He also said that Zoran Djeric, Republika Srpska Police Minister, sent a letter to SIPA, including 50 amendments to SIPA Law, which cannot be accepted.

OHR on Jelavic case, Mostar Statute	BHTV 1, Slobodna Dalmacija pg 8 'Letter was written before Ashdown', Vecernji List pg 4 'Current Statute will be applied after the October elections too'- OHR Spokesperson Kevin Sullivan said that reports on alleged OHR interference in legal proceedings against Ante Jelavic are the result of a transparent attempt to divert attention from the criminal charges against him. Regarding some announcements of the changes to Mostar Statute, Sullivan said: "The Statute imposed on 28 February will be the Statute that will be in force in the October elections and afterwards. Instead of talking about changing the Statute, Mostar's politicians should focus on implementing it... There are some people who are clearly trying to turn Mr Jelavic into a martyr by suggesting that he has been arrested for his political views. The reality is that the charges against him relate to crime and corruption, and his innocence or guilt is now a matter for the courts." Commenting the alleged OHR interference in case of Ante Jelavic, Kevin Sullivan has pointed that some people are trying to make martyr out of Jelavic, by saying that he was arrested for his political attitudes. "The reality is that charges against Ante Jelavic are about criminal and corruption and his guilt or innocence is the matter of Courts"- said Kevin Sullivan Dnevni Avaz cover, pg 4 'Jelavic will be held responsible for Croat self-authority', Oslobodjenje pg 4 'Jelavic may threaten Croat self-authority' - Lawyer for Ante Jelavic, Josip Muselimo, stated for DA on Monday that the case will expand. He claims that Prosecutor John McNeir will extend Jelavic's indictment persecuting him for the establishment of Croat self authority in Herzegovina territory in 2001.
Int with Wnendt on Mostar issue	Vecernji List front, pg 5 'I would be happy if Mostar becomes a more normal city' by Zoran Kresic - DL carries an interview with the Senior Deputy High Representative, Werner Wnendt, and the daily reports that the SDHR, after having recent meetings on Mostar, is optimistic that the political parties will implement the Mostar Statute. "Failure to implement the decision would for majority of people mean the maintenance of the unbearable situation. Unification of the city, which was divided for years, is a difficult task, but I am optimistic that we will succeed", says SDHR Wnendt. Questioned about the scenario according to which the political parties would first adopt the new Statute, only to reject it soon after, SDHR Wnendt says: "I do not think the political parties will accept, and then reject it. If political parties start toying with the implementation of the Statute, it would strengthen the belief among the people that they care more about their, rather than about interests of the people". Questioned whether the electoral rules for the Mostar City Council could open an opportunity for "buying" of votes in order to achieve the two-thirds majority, SDHR Wnendt says: "If there's competition among the parties for votes of different ethnic groups, then I will welcome it. It will not be possible to achieve a domination of one ethnic group", says SDHR Wnendt.
IHT on Dayton Peace Agreement	Oslobodjenje pg 7 'Dayton equalized civilisation and barbarism', Dnevni Avaz pg 9 'Republika Srpska will have to disappear' - Dailies carry article published by the International Herald Tribune, and written by Alexandar Ivanko, former UN spokesperson in BiH that deals with the Dayton Peace Agreement. Author argues: "Dayton tried to equate two things that couldn't be equated: civility and barbarity. It set a precedent that still sends shivers down my spine - and not only mine - by legitimising ethnic hatred... Under [the] circumstances, even when taking into account the many positive developments over the past years in Bosnia, one has to ask whether it is not time to revisit the Dayton agreement. Let's not forget that three signatories are either dead or in custody. The main question that should be addressed is this unbalanceable balance between civility and barbarity... Any future arrangement for Bosnia has to take into account its history, and not from B.C. It has to be morally defensible and politically feasible, not just the latter. It has to establish a viable state structure, replacing the current amorphous and unworkable one. This has to be a structure encompassing one state, without any entities getting in the way." Of the ESI initiative for the changes to DPA, Ivanko writes: "[It] may be a good start, but only if the governing bodies at the federal level are functional, and not window dressing. RS also has to go. It can not be incorporated into any agreement as a separate entity, canton, whatever. It should be divided into several parts that report to the state... It is now time to revisit Dayton and change that."

Del Ponte on cooperation with SIPA

Dnevni Avaz pg 3 'Inside SIPA there are people protecting Karadzic' - Chief ICTY Prosecutor Carla Del Ponte stated in an interview to FTV: "I never, never look at the ethnicity of my targets, but now, at the sunset of my activities, I am forced to do that." Stressing that RS was 'the entity for itself' Del Ponte said she was on the other side satisfied with the cooperation with Federation and FOSS: "Despite statements of the new SIPA Deputy Director, we don't have any problems. Of course, ensuring full cooperation with us could be a problem for the High Representative Paddy Ashdown. You known, locating fugitives such as Karadzic cannot be performed by that service. But, what it can do is to collect information. However, it is hard, very hard, as even inside SIPA there are people protecting Karadzic so you cannot at the same time collect information and avoid Karadzic being completely informed."
