Unions of BH TV and FTV reject BBC plan	RTRS, Oslobodjenje cover, pg 4&5 'Workers against firing and sell of building', Dnevni Avaz cover 'Union unanimously against firing 500 workers', pg 10 'Workers rejected BBC consultants' plan', Nezavisne Novine cover, pg 2 'FTV and PBS demand breaking of contract with BBC'; Glas Srpske pg 2 'Brits, go home' - At a meeting in Sarajevo on Wednesday, the independent trade union of workers in JPR TVBiH in transition and of the independent trade union of RTV FBiH fully rejected the proposal of a BBC consultancy team on the transformation of the Radio-TV system in BiH, considering it to be totally unclear and superficial. The TU organization said the BBC plan does not contain a clear strategy for the development of the public Radio-TV system and there is nothing to suggest on what basis the dismissal of about 500 employees was proposed. Unions have requested that General Directors, their collegiums and management bodies reject that plan and cancel contract on co-operation with BBC consultant team. Also, it has been decided to re-establish a working group, consisting from the experts from this media, to prepare normative documents necessary for the work. Unions also asked the PBS Steering Board and RTV FBH, to within 7 days answer to their requests warning that unless this happens they will for calling for the general strike. The Steering Board, who also refused the proposal, said it would require reconsideration of the responsible persons who allowed uncontrolled process of drafting this proposal. This proposal envisages job cuts for 500 workers.

Heavy critics against BBC plan	FTV – Employees asserted that BBC’s 1500-page plan did not offer any concrete answers how future TV would work, but just proposed destruction of all existing structure. They found plan was prepared without acknowledging existing education level of employees. Director of the Federation radio Esad Cerovic commented: ‘Our management also rejected the plan as unfeasible and unrealistic.’ Maja Anzulovic from children and youth program: ‘We know how to prepare program for children and youth, but what they proposed will not improve it at all.’ Nagorka Idrizovic from Journalists’ Union: ‘They think they need to teach us basic literacy...this is colonial approach and we will not accept it.’
Maroevic on BBC’s plan	BHTV 1 – EC assistance of 3 million Euros is conditioned with passing of the Law on Public Broadcasting system by November 7, otherwise assistance will be cancelled. EC spokesman in Sarajevo Frano Maroevic commented that ‘the new technologies provide that less people can do more job more then 15 years ago, so employment in new institutions need to be realistic, not to create institutions for the unemployed.’ FTV Management faces debt of 20 million KM.
SD on broadcasting, IC and OHR	Slobodna Dalmacija front, pg 15 ‘RTV building to be bought by NATO?’ by Zlatko Tulic – SD reads the key issue that is pressuring the employees in the public broadcasting sector in Sarajevo is whether the IC, to be exact the OHR, will sell the RTV building in Sarajevo to NATO. SD says that according to the Model of law on Public broadcasting of RTV system in BiH, which has been prepared in the OHR, the OHR has a right to order the sale of the RTV building, and the employees fear that the buyer is in fact NATO. SD notes that, when you consider the circumstances, since the building is the safest facility in the country, with an atomic shelter and loads of space, it is clear why NATO wants to buy the building.
Hadzipasic: boost authorities’ role in media regulation	FTV – FBiH Prime Minister Ahmet Hadzipasic commented on the discussion on future of electronic media stressing that broadcasters need to be independent and self-sustainable finances-wise. He added: ‘Nobody can be above the Parliament, so CRA should be brought into the system...we need to apply European standards in this area, but also to include public media’s regular reports to the Parliament ...Ministry of Communication should be in charge of regulating and proposing solutions in this area ... Conditions for self-financing is of special importance for independence of media, but it does not exclude accountability.’
Helsinki Committee writes to Hays on FTV	FTV – BiH Helsinki Committee sent a letter to Principal Deputy High Representative Donald Hays regarding the changes to the broadcasting Law. Letter reads: ‘You are not doing anything to prevent amendments of the FTV Law on even though you wrote to the Parliament against passing amendments on mandatory TV coverage of parliament session. This amendment will bring Fed TV to unbearable financial problems. Objections of representatives about biased reporting of Parliament are not founded and present violation of human rights.’
Ibrahimovic: authorities will not oversee media	Oslobodjenje pg 6 ‘Parliament will not oversee TV’, Dnevni Avaz pg – The Chairman of FBiH House of Representatives Muhamed Ibrahimovic send a letter to FBiH Ombudsmen stressing that delegates of FBiH HoR would not interfere with the editorial policy of FTV. He also said that the decision to broadcast live sessions of both Houses was on the other hand an important information tool, as citizens have not been informed enough of the important decisions Houses make especially in regard to the reforms.

Political issues

Ashdown on politicians' influence over police	CRHB, RTRS, Oslobodjenje cover splash, pg 5 'SDA interferes police with the politics', Dnevni Avaz pg 4 'Ashdown warned SDA', Dnevni List front, pg 3 'Ashdown: SDA interferes in Police work', Vecernji List pg 3 'We shall not tolerate pressures exerted against Police', Slobodna Dalmacija pg 7 'Politics interferes in police work', Nezavisne Novine cover, pg 5 'SDA excels in pressures against police', Glas Srpske pg 2 'Keep your hands away from police', Blic pg 13 'SDA wants to control police' – The High Representative Paddy Ashdown warned all political parties, especially SDA, in BiH to cease all efforts to impose their influence over the local police forces, adding this must stop because it brings in question the rule of law and prevents the introduction of European standards in police work. On Wednesday, together with EUPM Commissioner Sven Frederiksen, he addressed the journalists in Sarajevo saying that political interfering of political parties in police work also hampers the work of the international community and brings into question the right of citizens to lean on good, professional and objective police. 'In past few months we have been witnessed some members of the Party of Democratic Action [SDA] are trying to bring into question the professionalism of police in the Una-Sana, Podrinje and Sarajevo cantons.' Asked whether this is only related to SDA members, Ashdown said that 'all parties in power make the influence.' Asked to comment on the letter sent to him by FBiH Prime Minister Ahmet Hadzipasic, in which FBiH PM asks for OHR help to improve the situation in F Interior Ministry, Ashdown said that OHR analyses the letter and that the answer will probably be sent on Thursday. BHTV – Paddy Ashdown said: 'Those who are interfering in the police matters should be aware that I am ready to undertake whatever is needed to prevent such behaviour. No party or politician are authorised to influence police authorities. EUPM commissioner Sven Frederiksen will continue to monitor all new events in this regard.'
VL editorial on Ashdown's remarks re police and politicians	Vecernji List pg 2 'Who will rescue police?' by E. Medunjanin – Editorial regarding Paddy Ashdown's remark on the political interfering in the work of the local police reads that in order to get a complete picture of this problem the HR has to be aware that the former authority in BiH was also in favor of interfering when the police work is in question. The author says: 'This country will not have good and reliable Police as long as the Police is under the influence of politics. It does not matter whether that influence comes from the parties that are currently in power or from those that represent the opposition... Possible sanctioning of only those who are currently exerting pressure against the Police would only prolong professional agony of the BiH Police.'
BiH HoP postpones adoption of Defence Law	RTRS, BHTV 1, FTV, Oslobodjenje pg 6 'Defence Law after HoP' – At its session on Wednesday, BH House of People rejected to discuss, in urgent procedure, draft BiH Defence Law, the draft Law on Changes and Amendments to the Law on Ministries and other administrative bodies of BH and the Law on Council of Ministers. Postponements to the discussions followed after Serb delegates said that they could not bring a decision on important issues without previous consultation with the RS institutions. It has been decided that these draft Laws will go through normal procedure, with the possibility of shortening certain deadlines usually applied, in order to accommodate adoption of these Laws till December 15. BiH House of Peoples passed in an emergency procedure a set of laws in the field of judiciary, which were earlier imposed by the High Representative Paddy Ashdown as an interim measure. Some of the adopted laws include the Law on BiH High Judicial and Prosecutorial Council, the Law on Amendments to the Law on the BiH Court and the Law on BiH Prosecution Service. The parliament also adopted a rebalance of the budget for the BiH institutions for 2003 and the law on its implementation.

Authorities in Mostar North Municipality announced that there would be elections for citizens to express their wishes concerning future status of this municipality. Majority of the dwellers of the North Municipality are Bosniacs. Benes underlined that all actions regarding Mostar restructuring outside the Commission would be unacceptable and leading to divisions.
Head of Mostar North on referendum initiative	Dnevni List front, pg 18 'Municipality North organizes referendum' by Vesna Leto – DL carries an interview with the Head of Municipality North, Salem Bubalo, in which he talks about the issue of referendum of the future of the municipality that is going to be held in mid-November. Bubalo says the decision on referendum is in line with legal provisions, and that the main reason to organize the referendum is that the municipality does not want to lose its current status because it would be detrimental to it, saying that in past times, all the revenues were spent in Mostar centre whilst the Mostar North was neglected. "We never wanted to break away from the city of Mostar. There has been a lot of media speculations about illegal activities of Municipality Mostar North", says Bubalo. Bubalo also notes that the Municipality North formed a commission that was to talk about the Mostar restructuring with a former Head of OHR South, Ambassador Jean-Pierre Bercot, but Ambassador Bercot did not want to see them. It is worth to note that Slobodna Dalmacija front, pg 15 'Bosniak Municipality North seceding from Mostar' by M. War crimes

Ashdown and Prosper on war crimes	RTRS, BHTV 1, CRHB, Oslobodjenje cover, pg 8 'No PpP without cooperation with the Hague', Dnevni Avaz cover 'US will help BiH Court for War Crimes', pg 2 'Without full cooperation with the Hague, BiH cannot access PpP', Blic pg 13 'Chamber needs 28 million euros', Vecernji List front page 'USA gives one third of amount for mini-The Hague', pg 3 'USA gives one third of amount for Sarajevo mini-The Hague', Dnevni List pg 5 '38 million Euros are necessary for trials to war criminals in BiH', Vecernje Novosti pg 11 'Mladic in the Hague, trials in Belgrade' – The High Representative Paddy Ashdown and US Ambassador for War Crimes issues Pierre Richard Prosper said the objective of donors conference in Den Haag to be held on Thursday is to raise the funds needed for the establishment of the Council for War Crimes on the state level, which should, in the next 5 years, work as part of BH State Court. Ashdown stated that some 28 million Euros is expected to be collected during this conference, whereas – as Prosper announced – US have promised to donate third of that sum. Ashdown repeated that BH cannot join Partnership for the Peace if it does not give clear and concrete evidence that it is prepared to actively, and constructively engage in the work of international crime court for former Yugoslavia. Prosper said that following the establishment of the Council in BiH, The Hague Tribunal will decide to transfer some of the cases to BH. Serbia, in the case it arrests and extradites Radovan Karadzic and Ratko Mladic, will in return be granted with ability to process some of the cases in the Belgrade. In the case domestic judiciary can take some cases, ICTY hopes to finalize its in the period 2008 – 2010. As key argument for donors, he stated necessity of creating rule of law and democratic institutions in BH. It is in the interest of everybody for BH to have strong judicial system. Talking about Srebrenica, Paddy Ashdown said at the beginning of November he will announce the members of the Commission tasked to draft report on the genocide committed in Srebrenica. RS Government will also appoint several members for the Commission, while High Representative is to nominate a representative of Srebrenica people, ICTY, the international community and a monitor on behalf of OHR. Nezavisne Novine cover, pg 2 'EURO 38 million necessary for War Crimes Chamber', Glas Srpske pg. 3 'The Hague at home' – Florence Hartmann, Spokesperson of ICTY Chief Prosecutor, announced that 48 cases, on which investigations have been completed, may be forwarded to the War Crimes Chamber of BiH, which should then press charges for these cases.
Donor conference in the Hague for BiH Council for War Crimes	Dnevni Avaz pg 2 'Council for War Crimes needs 38 million Euros' – Organized by the Office of the High Representative, the donor conference to raise money for the BiH Council for War Crimes has started in the Hague on Thursday morning. OHR announced it expected representatives of about 30 countries to be present, and they would contribute to 38 million KM sum needed for the Council's five years work. As ICTY and OHR work together for years to enable local institutions to process war crimes' cases, before that Council must be fully equipped, have qualified staff, prosecutor, witness protection programme, detention centre, etc.
DA editorial on lack of RS cooperation with ICTY	Dnevni Avaz pg 3 'Mikerevic's new excuse' editorial by Edina Sarac – US Ambassador for War Crimes issues Pierre Prosper was more than clear in his statement made on Wednesday in Sarajevo in which he said that the war crimes' suspects must be arrested and RS must cooperate with the ICTY. However, as editorial read, only two days earlier RS Prime Minister Dragan Mikerevic said that RS police forces were not equipped to carry out arrests. 'Simply, leaders of Republika Srpska, where for years most wanted war criminals Radovan Karadzic hides [following these kinds of statements, it is questionable whether he hides at all], are running out of the excuses to justify failure to arrest all those who committed crimes.' The author further says that Mikerevic's statement clearly indicated that he was protecting RS Interior Minister Zoran Djeric, but also himself and others. 'RS will not arrest those who created it and put so much effort in creating 'Srpska' through politics of genocide and aggression.' Article concludes that Mikerevic better start working on the arrest because: 'Prosper was more than clear. He did not say 'should' but 'must'. There is a huge difference.'

Oslobodjenje editorial on ICTY / SCG compromises	Oslobodjenje pg 2 'Trade' editorial by Edin Krehic – The editorial refers to the statement by US Ambassador for War Crimes issues Pierre Richard Prosper given in Sarajevo on Wednesday in which he commented possible arrest of Ratko Mladic by SCG authorities: 'One of results of such action would be to start thinking of Serbia and Montenegro to process such cases in their country.' Author says that, having in mind similar statement made by Chief ICTY Prosecutor Carla Del Ponte recently, this clearly shows that these statements were not cases of individuals giving their estimates, but the part of well-coordinated attitude. 'Trade at markets, in sport and politics, and than in the Hague as well, is nothing new or surprising. The guideline of the international community in ending the war was not justice. Rough compromise had been made which lead to peace. Therefore, new compromises in the Hague should not be surprising. [Even though it is made] damaging justice. Just like the verdict in the case of Bosnian Serb Predrag Banovic, former guard from Keraterm [concentration camp] who was sentenced to ridiculous 8 years of prison for killing 5 and beating 27 Bosniaks and Croats.' – concludes the editorial.
DL: Ganic, Delic, Alispahic, Delimustafic, Mahmuljin under investigation	Dnevni list front, pg 2 'Ganic, Delic, Alispahic, Delimustafic and Mahmuljin under investigation' by Irfan Mujkic – With regard to The Hague investigation on late honorary SDA President Alija Izetbegovic, DL carries that according to reliable sources from The Hague the investigation will continue. Prior to the parliamentary debate, the Economy and Finance Board of the RS Parliament proposed that relevant body conduct a control of the audit report and in accordance with results of the control to launch a process to determine the possible responsibility. Economy and Finance Board Chairman Branislav Stojanovic said that the audit report did not comprise any specifications about 38 million KM of losses, the amount Telekom Srpske lost because of "weak governance and bad tender practice." Stojanovic said that the Telekom Srpske management had successfully refuted before the Board most of the findings made by the special auditor, believing that the audit had been tendentious and without arguments as well as that it would inflict a lot of damage on Telekom Srpske, since 95 percent of findings were not correct. "The board calls on the Chief Audit Service for the RS public sector to conduct its own audit of Telekom Srpske for the period prior to the time when the special audit was carried out, 1999 and 2000," Stojanovic said. The Economy and Finance Board has determined that the "statements and findings made by the special auditor and the Telekom Srpske management were conflicting and contradictory, especially in their respective explanations of tender procedures." They also advised Telekom Srpske to reexamine the mutual accounting and tariffs for consumed impulses agreed on with neighboring countries, especially with Serbia and Montenegro. This is an absurd approach to reality' Principle Deputy High Representative Donald Hays said in Sarajevo on Wednesday after visiting the Association of BiH Unions. Together with Association President Edhem Biber and presidents of branch unions he discussed the current economic situation in BiH and the role of unions in the privatisation process and attracting foreign investments. Voices of both those with jobs and those without jobs need to be heard in this country', Hays said. Dnevni Avaz cover splash, pg 2 'Hays: Privatisation in BiH failed' – PDHR Hays stated: 'Workers in BiH must know what is going on in this moment... Privatisation is basically failed process. You know that better than I do. Companies in BiH are being managed by the politicians, despite them being aware of the fact that communism failed that way. The investments in the economy are in rapid decrease. If this keeps going on, many workers will stay without their jobs.' He also suggested new approach to the privatisation, which foresees the first step to be adoption of the Law which would cancel all privatisation processes where it has been established it was illegal or damaging for the workers.

NN editorial on ITA	Nezavisne Novine editorial pg. 7 by Branko Todorovic, 'Crime at Telekom' – The author starts the article by saying that the future of BiH would, to a great extent, depend upon an outcome of numerous political battles between IC and local politicians, led by war-time coalition SDS-SDA-HDZ. As an example of this, he refers to recent warning by the Chairperson of BiH Council of Ministers, Adnan Terzic, to Joly Dixon (regarding selection of ITA director). The question author raises is to whether it is possible to establish democracy through undemocratic means and also whether HiRep is only a cover for inadmissible improvisation, corruption, absence of work and obstruction by local politicians. The article concludes by saying that the people of BiH expect from HiRep to bring these affairs to their ends, meaning that those responsible will be brought to justice. Because if local politicians do not want to do that, HiRep still holds the major power in the state and accordingly responsibility for this.
