Orao Affair

'Orao' affair	Oslobodjenje pg. 1 and 7 – the OHR refused to comment on speculations of possible removal of Mirko Sarovic and did not want to say whether they were satisfied with the latest report. According to OHR Spokesperson, Vedran Persic, it is the BiH authorities that will answer before the UN Security Council for the breach of UN embargo. Following accusations by RS officials that certain companies from the Federation, particularly those dealing with military industry, Director of 'Vitezit', Pero Djepina, stated the breach of the UN embargo only turned into affair after an attempt to connect military industries from Croatia, BiH, Serbia and Macedonia. The daily further carries a statement by Milorad Dodik. "If Sarovic was to be removed, and there were no sanctions against Ivanic or myself, that would then be labelled as an attack against the SDS." He said he did not know whether Sarovic actually knew of the illegal arms sales, but that he was politically responsible. As for Ivanic, Dodik stated that he did not know whether he was responsible, but stated the fact remained that it was Ivanic who established a commission that wrote in the initial report that there was no violation of sanctions.

Behmen	Avaz pg. 4 'Three inspections in Bratstvo and Vitez showed nothing suspicious' – Alija Bhemen's reaction to Dragan Cavic's accusations on the involvement of companies in the Federation in the 'Orao' affair. Behmen yesterday stated that while he was Federation PM three inspections of military production firms were conducted. "That included the 'BNT' and 'Vitezit'". The last results, which were ready just before the hand over of authority to the new government, showed that everything was checked and there was not a single case of goods being delivered to Iraq." He added that the last results were forwarded to SFOR and OHR. Dnevni List pg. 5 by Fena, 'Three inspections of companies for military production carried out' – "According to instruction of the Federation government during the time when I was the Prime Minister, three inspections of all companies for military production including the 'BNT' and 'Vitezit' were carried out." Behmen added that the last analyses (made before the authority hand over) showed that everything was checked and there was not a single case of weapons being delivered to Iraq.
Mark Wheeler	Nezavisne Novine pg. 1 and 3 – Marc Wheeler, Head of the ICG (International Crisis Group), yesterday told the daily that the RS authority would surely be punished over the 'Orao' affair. He thinks HR Paddy Ashdown has already made decisions on whom and how will be penalised. He presumed that Mirko Sarovic might likely be the one left 'holding the baby'. The ICG Head is of the view that the public should be informed of results of the investigation conducted in the Federation, in regard to potential violation of the UN sanctions against Iraq. According to an NN inset, Saban Rizvic, Director General at the 'Bratstvo' firm from Travnik, and Pero Djepina, Director of the 'Vitezit' from Vitez, yesterday denied claims by RS President Dragan Cavic. "The statement by Cavic is inaccurate and without any ground. It is interesting to note that Cavic is much better familiarised with dealings of some Serbian firms than with the dealings of the RS firms." Djepina told Fena news agency that Cavic obviously wants to water down the problems related to the 'Orao' affair.
SNSD	Blic pg. 7 – The SNSD is surprised with a statement of RS President Dragan Cavic, which was an attempt to blame former Prime Minister Milorad Dodik for the 'Orao' affair. The party believes that Cavic is trying to protect carriers of power from his party and coalition partners by pointing at everyone else, from the Federation to Dodik and his government. "The truth is that the current and former authority of the same coalition partners – the SDS and PDP – had first attempted to cover up the facts in relation with the 'Orao' affair, and then sought for culprits everywhere else but in their own house," the SNSD party claims.
'Vitezit'	Following a statement by RS President, Dragan Cavic, that even some Federation-based companies were breaching the UN-imposed embargo on the export of military equipment to Iraq, Vecernji List (pg. 9 by Srecko Stipkovic 'Iraqi fuel still sitting in Vitezit') went to visit the 'Vitezit' company from Vitez, which was labeled by Cavic as one of the companies that breached the embargo. The manager of the company, Nikola Krizanovic, even permitted the journalist to take a photo of the so-called gunpowder charges for long-range missiles, some 800 of them that were originally prepared in 1990 to be exported to Iraq. According to Krizanovic, the charges were never shipped to Iraq because of the war in BiH and due to unsuitable storage. Hence, the quality of charges does not meet the criteria and needs to be disposed of.

Pilav – a special audit that was conducted by international financial experts established the Federation Ministry for refugees and DPs damaged the Federation budget for 14,5 million KM. The report shows serious mismanagement, potential criminal and embezzlements that former Minister Mijat Tuka and his closest associates are responsible for. The daily source says the audit was conducted on an urgent procedure because the IC was concerned the Ministry was producing poor results in reconstructing refugees' houses even though it received significant financial means. HR Ashdown will announce the audit results today at the OHR HQ. Dnevni List pg. 1 and 5 'An audit of Federation Ministry of Refugees and DPs' – a special auditor has completed an audit of the Federation Ministry of Refugees and DPs and the same detected bad management and embezzlements of finances that were originally allocated to refugees and displaced persons. The audit report also shows illegalities related to ignoring of tender-related processes and awarding of contracts to some contractors, which charged the Ministry too much for services they provided. The audit reportedly recommends an investigation into these tenders. The remaining time of the mandate for both leading officials in Mostar will be of special significance, since it is clear that the present situation in Mostar is a reason behind numerous problems in the City and measures for solving it have to be undertaken. VL editorial on Mostar	Vecernji List pg. 12 by Professor Ante Markotic – an editorial where the author criticizes the current organizational set-up of Mostar seeing the remedy in returning the city to the region and region to the city as before. He also recommends a lot less politics and a lot more entrepreneurship, citing examples of 'Aluminij', 'Lijanovici' and 'Grafotisak', in order to improve things and says that the current BiH as well as Mostar have been defined by foreigners so the foreigners now feel at home in BiH. "Modern development means the centralisation of most necessary institutions and decentralisation of the society. The world (and BiH citizenry) is being governed from modern offices and not from capital cities. So, let (the unified) Mostar become the capital of (Federation) Herzegovina," says Markotic.

Thus expecting to be cleared of wrong accusations. Vuk Hamovic, a member of the EFT Main Board, stated the OHR only viewed their business dealings from one segment, which led to wrong conclusions. He also stated that their profits were not as high as thought, and connecting them with political parties was ridiculous.
Kragulj on VAT	Nezavisne Novine pg. 6 'VAT important for BiH' – Nikola Kragulj, SNSD senior official and delegate at the BiH House of Representatives, is of the view that the story on VAT is over exaggerated. He thinks that through the VAT politicians regard statehood, including the political and fiscal independence. SNSD official stated that the VAT introduction would result in opening of new perspectives for Gradiska region.
Humphreys	Blic pg. 6 'Acts are more important than words and promises'- an interview with Michael Humphries, Head of the European Commission delegation, who said that there were many conditions BiH needed to meet prior to the admission to the EU. Among others it needs to introduce a single VAT and customs. Humphries further stated that BiH must develop its institutions, primarily the political ones. He claims that arresting Radovan Karadzic is one of the indirect conditions. "I doubt someone would say that first Radovan Karadzic should be arrested and only after this to be able to talk about the European integration. However, it is completely impossible to have the country approaching Europe while Karadzic is free," he stated.

Hercegovacka Bank	Globus pg. 32 and 33 by Vedran Kukavica 'Carla Del Ponte in wrong bank: The Hague on wrong trail' - regarding last week's reports in Croatian dailies that Chief ICTY Prosecutor, Carla Del Ponte, has requested from the Croatian government to provide documentation on the business operations between the 'Privredna Bank' Zagreb and 'Hercegovacka Bank' in the period between April of 1992 and April of 1994. It says the whole deal cannot be connected to the 'Hercegovacka Bank' because the bank was established in 1997. Globus says what ICTY Prosecution is actually interested in documentation of the 'Hrvatska Bank' Mostar, which is now called the 'Zagrebacka Bank' BH because the 'Zagrebacka Bank' of Croatia bought 'Hrvatska Bank' Mostar in 1999. The rest of the article speaks about money transfers from Croatia to Herzegovina that went through the 'Hrvatska Bank' Mostar during 1992, 1993 and 1994. It is worth to note that according to Globus' estimates some 1,5 billion DEM were transferred during the period of 17 months.

Charges against Buljubasic and Anic	Dnevni List pg. 7 'Investigation against Anic and Buljubasic requested' - as reported yesterday in the Federation papers (see yesterday's Round-Up), the Sarajevo cantonal Prosecutor's Office demanded an investigation against former Federation Minister of Defense, Mijo Anic, and his Deputy, Ferid Buljubasic, and manager of the Sarajevo company 'In Trade', Nihad Spahalic. They are all suspected of illegal sale of guns to a purchaser from the US. Also, it has been suspected that 60% less tax was paid for two deliveries of the guns. Asked to comment on this information, Anic denied that he participated in this affair and said that he only signed an approval for transport but only after he saw that SFOR had already given its consent. "I do not know why there is an attempt to place me in the background of this case. It is truly unfair and what makes me even more surprised is the fact that Prosecutor is completely familiar with the whole process... I do not see the reason why they do not launch the investigation against SFOR Commander as well."
