Storm ahead of the SDP Main Board Session: Durakovic writes a letter to explain why he will not attend the session

Glas Srpski(page 3) and Nezavisne Novine (page 3) quote the Head of the RS Government's Bureau for Public Relations Cvijeta Kovacevic as saying that the RS Government yesterday appointed former RS Chief Market-Inspector, Boro Babic a new RS Minister for Trade and Tourism. Kovacevic said that the Government also decided at its yesterday's session to appoint Djuro Bulic a new RS Customs Administration Director. Currently Bulic is the General Manager of the Banja Lukabased Joint stock company "Meridijan", which deals with international transport. The paper also reports that Babic owns a sawmill near a very-well known bordello "Sherwood" in Prijedor. The paper also reports that several criminal reports were filed against Babic Court criminal report Basic Court. On June 19th 2001 the Mrakovica Hunting Association filed with the Prijedor Basic Court against Babic for false representation, forge documents and fraud. On July 16ht 2001, another two criminal reports were filed against him, but the paper claims their journalists could not find why and by whom. A source close to the PDP claims that Ivanic has been told several times that Babic is the wrong person, but Ivanic did not do anything.

Glas Srpski (page 3) reports that the SDS welcomed the RS Prime Minister's decision to appoint Boro Bulic a new RS Minister for Trade and Tourism and Djuro Bulic a new RS Customs Administration Director.

Werner Blatter: Number of returns was being constantly increased in the past period

The Head of the UNHCR Mission to BiH, Werner Blatter, said at a press conference held in Sarajevo on Thursday on the occasion of the June 20 – The World Refugee Day that "the number of returns was being constantly increased in the past period." (Oslobodjenje – p 8)

"Given that the Dayton Agreement's Annex 7 does not foresee just a real return, but it only gives those willing to return the right to do so, its is hard to determine exact figures," Blatter said.

"The Board of Principals at its regular weekly meeting in Sarajevo today considered an incident in Srebrenica earlier this week during which police had to protect Bosniaks from Serbs. This incident confirms the importance of fundamental and robust measures to support the return process. Much has been done to promote sustainable return and there has been considerable progress in this respect in Srebrenica. This week's incident is being investigated. However, it is clear that prejudice and ignorance remain basic stumbling blocks to the return process," OHR Spokesman Oleg Milisic said at a press conference in Sarajevo on Thursday. (Dnevni Avaz – p 2, Jutarnje Novine – p 8)

Dnevni List (page 2) reports that BiH Association of Refugees and Displaced Persons (SIRL) pronounced Bishop Franjo Komarica the personality of the decade for his support to refugees in the period 1992-2002. (Sarajevo dailies also reported on the issue)

Serbs from Srebrenica send an open letter to Charlie Powell

Glas Srpski (front page)carries a letter, which Serbs from Srebrenica sent to the Head of the OHR Srebrenica Office Charlie Powell in which they are complaining about numerous omissions which Powell made in his work and which are detrimental to the Serb community in this town. The main objections is that Charlie Powell has been seen sitting in a restaurant with the war time Chief of the Srebrenica Police, Hakija Meholjic, who along with Naser Oric and Zulfo Tursunovic ordered and participated in murders of Serbs in 1992/1993. "We find such behaviour of yours extremely offensive. It causes us a great pain and it causes even a greater pain to the families whose family members were killed by Meholjic's orders", reads the letter. The Serbs from Srebrenica also stated in the letter that the way in which Powell operates will not lead to reconciliation but will rather make that the local Serb community looses trust in the IC institutions.

Socialists call on Serb member of Bosnian Presidency to resign

The RS Socialist Party (SPRS) believes that BiH Presidency member Zivko Radisic should resign because he no longer enjoys support of the party which delegated him to this post, SPRS secretary general Zivko Marjanac told a news conference in Banja Luka yesterday, Nezavisne Novine reports (page 4). Radisic officially announced in Derventa two days ago that he had joined the People's Party of Socialists (NPS). Marjanac believes that Radisic, although directly elected as member of the BiH Presidency, at the time of elections was SPRS chairman and therefore he took part in elections as party member. (Blic – p 11, Dnevni Avaz – p 10)

Radomir Neskovic on RTRS

Blic (p. 10) carries an interview with RTRS General Director, Radomir Neskovic. He thinks the RS Government has not created a favourable financial ambient in which RTRS may function, which has an adverse effect on collection of prescription fee. According to him, the agreement RTRS has with Telekom (on collection of prescription fee) damages this TV station, since it does not have insight into its own funds, which are controlled by Telekom (and which is controlled by the PDP and the SDS). He supports former High Representative Petritsch's Law on RTRS. He says RTRS has to stay independent, without any political influence.

The BiH Federation Government to request the High Representative to reconsider the previous property laws-related decisions

Oslobodjenje (p 6) and Dnevni Avaz (p 12) report that, concerned about a fact that approximately 80,000 plots for construction of houses have been illegally allocated in the RS so far, the BiH Federation Government decided at its session in Sarajevo on Thursday to address the High Representative in a written form with a request for reconsideration of the previously imposed property legislation. In his address to the press, the Urban Planning Minister Ramiz Mehmedagic, said it was very important for the OHR to clearly make its stand on the issue, in order to avoid making a picture it is taking part in ethnic shaping the area according to the Radovan Karadzic concept from 1992.

Zepic: To abolish the entities or to give one to Croats too

Vjesnik (page 7) carries interview with Bozo Zepic, professor at the Mostar University (Croat) with the title "To abolish the entities or to give one to Croats too". Zepic is the author of the book "Enigma BiH" that was presented in Zagreb. Talking about role of International Community in BiH Zepic said that their role is primarily positive and stabilising. Talking about possible solutions for building functional BiH Zepic said: "Therefore, we have to abolish the entities (Federation BiH and RS) or to give one entity to Croats as well. We should dissolve cantons or cantonise the whole country." Answering to the question about solution that would be most suitable for Croats Zepic stated: "Any solution in which Croats would remain constitutive and become equal to other two larger nations is acceptable… As long as Croats are inferior, more and more put aside, and Croat national issue is still pending one, that will not be possible."

OHR forwards draft legislation on strengthening fight against organized crime, corruoption to the BiH Council of Ministers

"On Wednesday afternoon the OHR forwarded draft legislation under which special organised crime, economic crime and corruption panels would be established in the BiH judicial bodies to the Ministry of Civil Affairs and Communications, asking the Ministry to propose the law for consideration by the Council of Ministers. The new legislation will tackle serious inter-Entity crime and international crime that involves Bosnia and Herzegovina," OHR Spokesman Oleg Milisic told journalist in Sarajevo on Thursday. (Oslobodjenje – p 3, Dnevni Avaz – p 10, Jutarnje Novine – p 4)

BiH House of Representatives adopts law on the state agency for information and protection

Nezavisne Novine reports (page 4) that the House of Representatives of the BiH Parliamentary Assembly held a session in Sarajevo yesterday at which it adopted in emergency procedure the Law on Agency for Information and Protection of BiH (SIPA). This law establishes the Agency for Information and Protection of BiH, regulates its operation, competencies and other issues of importance for its work. The agency is an independent BiH institution and is accountable for its work to the BiH Parliamentary Assembly and has the duty to submit reports on its work to the BiH Presidency and the BiH Council of Ministers. The seat of the agency is in Sarajevo, with regional offices in Mostar and Banja Luka. The agency will have an administration, which will comprise of director and his two deputies who will be appointed by the BiH Presidency at the proposal from the Council of Ministers and after consultations with entity governments. (Oslobodjenje – p 8, Dnevni Avaz – p 4)

Dnevni List, Slobodna Bosna and BH Dani comment on OHR, Ashdown's activities

Dnevni List (page 4) carries editorial by Ilija Sagolj in which he criticizes the High Representative Paddy Ashdown. Regarding Ashdown's story about sitting next to late Croatian president Tudjman, making sure his (Tudjman's) glass is always full of wine, and then publicly stating Tudjman's views about future of BiH, the author stated that that is below level of a decent person, especially diplomat. The author adds that it was public knowledge that the filthiest war was agreed in many points among international bigwigs. Sagolj says that "fight against crime and corruption that Ashdown proclaimed will not leave him possibility to deal with espionage, what he used to do in the past".

Slobodna Bosna (June 20) notes in a shorter article that the OHR cannot be too proud of its economic advisors. "Only a few months ago, the PDHR Donald Hays visited Sabix furniture company in Hadzici and said after the visit that he was thrilled with what he saw, as the furniture there was 'as of good quality as in the US, however three times cheaper.' Hays was obviously not aware that the secret of Sabix's success was lying in the fact that it does not produce its own furniture from scratch, but refurbishes used furniture imported from western European countries. Only a few days later, Paddy Ashdown could not hide his exuberation after the visit to Bobita company in Citluk. Ashdown was obviously not told that only a few days earlier, Bobita was also visited by customs inspectors who discovered a tax evasion in the amount millions of KM"

In a shorter article titled "Two major mistakes of Paddy Ashdown", Slobodna Bosna writes that the High Representative, Paddy Ashdown, failed to remove Hasib Salkic, the Deputy Director of the Federation Customs Administration, at the same time he removed Nikola Grabovac from the post of the Federation Finance Minister over the AM-SPED affair. According to the weekly, Salkic is as responsible for the financial scandal which shook the Federation. "According to sources from the OHR, Ashdown spared his party colleague, Liberal Salkic, who was his generous host on several occasions during the war. This was the second serious mistake of the High Representative, who was in the most euphoric manner greeted at the beginning of his mandate. He made the first mistake already during the second day of his mandate, when he visited Bobita company in Citluk."

BH DANI (June 21) marks as a very good move the initiative by the High Representative, Paddy Ashdown, to create a special panel within the BiH State Court which would try cases of international and inter-entity crime. "This would ensure that after seven years of vigorous criminal activity because of the silly legal gaps the justice will not die at the boundaries of entity jurisdictions," writes DANI.

In the latest tissue, BH DANI calls catastrophic the behavior of the OHR with respect to the "illegal" distribution of socially-owned land in Kotorsko. "The OHR welcomed with greatest delight the resignation of Nikola Gavric, the head of Doboj municipality, who felt politically responsible for the failure of town's authorities to comply with the High Representative's Decision on the ban on the allocation of socially-owned land and the construction of homes for Serb refugees on the land belonging to Bosniaks near Kotorsko. Gavric was obviously not patient or wise enough to realize that no one even thought of removing him. For, why would Kotorsko be an exception, when the OHR does not have any intention to even warn, much less to remove some of the municipal officials across the RS who have distributed thousands of pieces of land which was socially-owned, and worked so diligently on the implementation of the concept of ethnically clean land where no more than 10% of the non-Serb population can live? Paddy Ashdown is not even aware that that he has fallen into the nest of bureaucratic institution which, going along the wind, is peacefully watching the idea of the indicted war criminal Radovan Karadzic becoming a reality...."
