Acting High Representative and District Supervisor Crishock visits Brčko together with NATO Commander Fowler

Acting High Representative and Brčko District Supervisor Louis Crihock, together with the Commander of NATO Headquarters Sarajevo, Brigadier General James Fowler, visited Brčko District of Bosnia and Herzegovina, where they met in separate meetings with the District's political and police leadership.

During the meetings, they discussed the current political and security situation, the state of reforms, and progress in implementing key projects of importance for the District's continued and sustainable development.

Acting High Representative Crishock stressed that "safety and security, coupled with a strong business-enabling environment is a good foundation for achieving lasting prosperity and progress, ultimately serving the well-being of the citizens of Brčko District."
