

High Representative visits Great Britain

The High Representative, Wolfgang Petritsch, met yesterday in London with Robin Cook, the UK Foreign Secretary, and Clare Short, Secretary of State for the Department for International Development, for talks on the situation in Bosnia and Herzegovina. He received strong support for the work of his Office, as well as assurances of continued support in the future.

Today, the High Representative delivered a speech at Chatham House, the influential international affairs society.