High Representative Valentin Inzko supported “Što te nema” monument exhibited today in the Srebrenica-Potočari Memorial Centre. “Srebrenica will always be a planetary place of remembrance, of ‘never again.’ Forgetting the victims would be, in a way, like killing them a second time. At the same time, Srebrenica could also be a place demonstrating the power of forgiveness, a place demonstrating that, through forgiveness, the whole humanity wins,” said the High Representative.
