

December 6th Deadline for Claims under the Amended FBiH Labour Law's Article 143- Information sheet

If you made a claim for reinstatement of your employment or for compensation for dismissal from work under Article 143 of the Federation Labour Law be aware that under recent amendments to this law, there is a new procedure for the handling of these claims.

If you made a claim within the original deadline for claims under Article 143 ( i.e. before 5 February 2000), and if your case has not been resolved, you should now re-submit your claim:

- Write a complaint to the Cantonal Commission for Implementation of Article 143 where you were employed (see addresses below), state your name, the name of the company you worked for and that you are submitting a claim under Article 143 of the Labour Law. You may submit supporting documentation at the same time, however the complaint letter is sufficient to initiate the claim process.
- Send your claim by registered mail, make photocopies of all documents you submit and keep the originals.

THE DEADLINE FOR RE-SUBMISSION OF CLAIMS TO THE CANTONAL COMMISSIONS IS 6 DECEMBER 2000. –

NO CLAIMS WILL BE ACCEPTED AFTER THIS DATE.

1. The amended FBiH Labour Law obliges the Federal Ministry of Social Affairs, DPs and Refugees and Cantonal Ministries to establish Commissions for Implementation of Article 143.

2. Before taking a decision on the merits of any claim, these Cantonal Commissions may hear testimony from the employee and employer, may call witnesses, and can require competent authorities and companies to provide all relevant information and documentation. If a claimant remains dissatisfied with the decision of the Cantonal Commission, an appeal can then be made to the Federation Commission for the Implementation of Article 143.

Note: If you have started a civil proceedings before a court, and the court has not yet made its judgment, then the case will be automatically transferred to the Cantonal Commission.
