

OBN News Review, 11 June 2000

Headlines

- Women of Srebrenica and Podrinje demand stationing of SFOR in this area
- A tense political situation in the RS
- The Brcko District Assembly adopted several laws
- There was a good voters' turnout at the municipal elections in Montenegro

Banja Luka

Dragan Kostic organised a meeting of the SNS Club of delegates. Considering the dispute within the party, the question is which delegates attended the meeting. According to the latest information from Ostoja Barasin, the Spokesman of Kostic's SNS, their attitude towards the government will be known after the meeting. The 11th Assembly session will take place tomorrow. Reported by Nedeljka Breberina.

Tuzla

Women of Srebrenica and Podrinje protested in front of SFOR headquarters in Dubrave, near Tuzla. They demanded stationing of SFOR troops in Podrinje. Otherwise, they won't be able to return to their homes. Reported by Adis Nisic.

Potocari

Bosniacs and Serbs still haven't agreed about construction of a commemorative centre in Potocari, where all victims of genocide in this area would be buried. Serbs agreed with the construction, but the location is the main problem. The International Community will have to involve more actively in order to solve this problem. OBN reporter Damir Kaletovic produced the report.

Sanski Most

220 Serb families demanded restitution of their property in the village of Tomina, near Sanski Most. More than 50 returnees live in an elementary school, without basic conditions for normal life. They hope that they will receive aid from international organisations. Milena Letic-Joves produced the report.

Bratunac

Return process in Bratunac started in February. There were numerous incidents in this area. Therefore, returnees demand protection from the international community. Reported by Muhamed Berbic.

Podgorica

There were no incidents during the local elections in Montenegro so far. The President Dukanovic was very optimistic about the election results. The first official results should be announced tomorrow afternoon. The report was produced by OBN reporter Amarildo Gutic.

World

The Chairman of the Chinese Parliament, Li Peng visited Yugoslavia. This is the beginning of his tour around this part of Europe.

The leading Syrian party proposed appointment of 34-year-old son of the dead Syrian President as his successor.

The Russian President, Vladimir Putin threatened that Russia would stop the disarmament process, if the USA continue with construction of a new anti-rocket system. Adis Saranovic produced the piece on current events in the world.

Korea

The first summit of leaders from North and South Korea will start on Tuesday. The President of South Korea will lead their delegation. The war between the two countries has officially lasted since 1953. OBN journalist Mladen Maric analysed current situation in the two countries.

Brcko

The Brcko District Assembly adopted several laws. "The Parliament's work has been satisfactory so far. This is a pioneer work, and we are faced with numerous problems", said Miodrag Pajic, the Vice-president of the Brcko District Assembly. Reported by Slobodanka Radojkovic.

Sarajevo

Sanjin Beciragic produced a piece on difficult situation in B&H sport, because of the non-existence of a law on sport.

Sarajevo

The creative centre "Cardea" presented the project "Made in B&H" in the art gallery last night. The project was realised in co-operation with top Italian designers. Reported by Gordana Frimel.

Sport

Reports on local and international football were presented.