The B&H Parliament adopted a proposal for the Law on the Council of Ministers, according to which it will consist of a Chairman and 6 ministries. There are several conditions that should be fulfilled in order for B&H to become a member of the Council of Europe. B&H is now further than ever from membership of the Council of Europe, said the B&H Foreign Minister, Jadranko Prlic. The report was produced by OBN journalist Damir Kaletovic.

This evening's guest in TV INFO was the SDP leader, Zlatko Lagumdžija. The new Law on the Council of Ministers will not bring any solution for B&H, he said. The country is on the way to economic disaster. New authorities will have to change the Law after the elections in October, Mr Lagumdžija added.

The counting of votes is still taking place. Non-confirmed votes, that is, votes of citizens whose names weren't on registration lists, are also being counted.

From 72 municipalities in the Federation of B&H, the HDZ has the majority of votes in 24 municipalities, the SDA in 21 and the SDP leads in 17 municipalities.

In the RS, the SDS leads in 54 municipalities, the SNS in 3 and the SNSD in 2 municipalities. These are the most transparent elections organised by the OSCE, said the OSCE spokesperson, Tanya Domi. The OSCE refuted the allegations made by the SDA, said Ms Domi. This process is completely transparent for all supervisors, she added.

The report was produced by Zeljka Lekic and Sanjin Beciragic.

Banja Luka

The Election Commission representatives refute the allegations of bad organisation of the registration process. Citizens are partly to blame for problems with registration lists, because they should have checked them before the elections, said Vukasin Boskovic, the Election Commission President in Banja Luka. Reported by Darko Savic and Sanja Srdic.

The SDP is the leading party in B&H at the moment, said Zlatko Lagumdzija. Bosniacs have decided not to vote for national parties any longer, and it is praiseworthy, he added. National parties won a much smaller number of votes than at the last elections. After the general elections in October, the SDA, the SDS and the HDZ will be opposition parties, said Mr Lagumdzija.
