

OBN News Review, 21 September 2000

Headlines

- The Head of the University of Sarajevo, Nedžad Mulabegovic resigned
- Employees of one of the "Energoinvest"'s factories are on strike again
- Guest of TV INFO: Bisera Turkovic, the B&H Minister for European Integration
- The Supreme Court in Belgrade sentenced 14 world leaders to 20 years in prison

Sarajevo

The Head of the University of Sarajevo, Nedžad Mulabegovic resigned. The Canton Court started an investigation against him, suspecting him of embezzlement of KM 658 000. Mulabegovic feels that he is a victim of previously planned scenario. The University Board proposed Prof. Dr. Boris Tihi as the new University Head. Reported by Damir Kaletovic.

Tuzla

The Association of Women of Srebrenica reacted after the statement of the Prince of Saudi Arabia, Salman bin Abdul Asis, about DM 200 million that they granted for B&H. The Association thanked the High Saudi Committee for the money they never received. Sanela Fazlic produced the report.

Sarajevo

Employees of one of the "Energoinvest"'s factories are on strike again, due to the alleged company's debt in the amount of DM 1 400 000. The factory has existed since 1953. Reported by Sevkio Bajic.

Banja Luka

Representatives of the RS Union and the RS Government met today in Banja Luka. They discussed the following issues: financial situation of employees, budget users, minimum price of work and implementation of collective contracts.

Mostar

The Mostar City Council decided that the B&H "Elektroprivreda" and "Elektroprivreda" of Herceg Bosna pay to the city budget for using hydro-energetic facilities in Mostar. The OHR supported the decision.

"This was the first time that B&H had a joint team in the Olympic Games in Sydney. We were planned to stay a week, and I was back on Monday", Bisera Turkovic, the B&H Minister for European Integration, Bisera Turkovic, denying last night's claims of the British Ambassador, Graham Hand in TV INFO.

"Process of including B&H in European integration is slow, but we have to fight. A war is behind us, and it will be a very difficult process", Ms. Turkovic added.

Mostar

The HDZ announced today that they would not participate in the elections in November, unless the issue of election of delegates in the Federal Parliament House of Peoples was solved before that. Reported by Misijana Brkic.

Yugoslavia

The pre-election silence will start in Yugoslavia this evening. The Supreme Court in Belgrade found 14 western officials guilty for war crimes in Yugoslavia last year and sentenced them to 20 years in prison.

According to local journalists, the Yugoslav Army left their barracks and stationed on positions around cities in Montenegro. The Commander of the FRY Army, Nebojsa Pavkovic said that the Army would recognise election victory of an opposition candidate. Reported by Danica Ilic and Amarildo Gutic.

World

The City Councillor of the leading Spanish party, Hose Luis Casado was killed last night in Barcelona. The police suspect that "Eta" was responsible for the murder.

Several people were kidnapped in Soca, at the Black Sea. Kidnappers demand ransom in the amount of $ 30 million and release of all Chechens in Russian prisons.

The London police are trying to find the responsible for last night's explosion in headquarters of the British Intelligence. The report on world events was produced by Adis Saranovic.

Sarajevo

Due to obstructions in implementation of property laws, the Federal Government decided to carry out penal measures. They defined a deadline for local authorities to implement property laws. If there are no results, some of them will be suspended. Reported by Mirna Sadikovic.

Banja Luka

The RS Prime Minister, Milorad Dodik demanded replacement of the Minister of Energy and Mining, Vladimir Dokic. The RS Deputy President, Mirko Sarovic and the Chairman of the RS Assembly, Petar Djokic were against the replacement.

Sport

Reports on the 27th Summer Olympic Games in Sydney and international football were presented.