

OBN News Review, 31 October 2000

Headlines

- “No one can prevent the Croat referendum in B&H, not even the OSCE”, the HDZ Chairman, Ante Jelavic said
- 31st October – The World’s Saving Day
- Employees of the RS Railways started a strike today
- The first US-Russian crew was launched to the space

Sarajevo

The World’s Saving Day was marked today in B&H. The B&H Central Bank organised a round table on reform of the payment system and achievements of the Central Bank. “B&H will have a unified, self-sustainable system of payment”, the Governor of the Central Bank, Peter Nicholl said. Reported by Anes Alic.

Banja Luka

According to results of polls, citizens of Banja Luka are not ready to put their money in B&H banks, Milorad Milojevic reported.

Mostar

The HDZ organised a press conference in Mostar. The HDZ Chairman, and Chairman of the Croat Assembly, Ante Jelavic said that the Croat referendum will take place, adding that only international stabilisation forces could prevent it. Anita Zovko produced the report.

Sarajevo

The Sarajevo Canton Court cancelled the decision of the Federation Ministry of Economy on sale of the company “Konzum”. A group of employees-shareholders submitted a complaint. The contract on sale of the company has already been signed with the Canton Privatisation Agency. The company "Droga d.d." from Portoroz is the buyer. According to the employees of "Konzum", there were many irregularities in the transaction, Amarildo Gutic reported.

Banja Luka

Employees of the RS Railways organised a strike today, because the RS Government did not obey the deadline for fulfilment of their requests. Reported by Suzana Vukcevic.

World

A plane "Boeing 747" from Singapore crashed immediately after taking off from Taiwan to San Francisco. 30 people were injured. Causes of the crash are unknown yet.

3 Palestinians were killed in clashes with Israeli forces in Gaza. Palestinians demanded that a Conference on the Middle East takes place.

The Democratic Union of Kosovo won 58% of votes in Sunday's elections, OSCE announced last night.

An Italian ship with venomous chemicals sunk in La Manche, between France and Great Britain.

Gordana Frimel reported on world events.

Tuzla

Mushroom poisoning is very frequent in the area of Tuzla. A 2,5-year-old girl died yesterday, after she had eaten venomous mushrooms, gathered by her father. Reported by Elma Nakicevic.

Banja Luka

WHO experts predicted a large flu epidemic this winter. Anti-flu vaccination started in Banja Luka. Dijana Rakulj produced the report.

Sarajevo

The B&H National Library celebrated 55th Anniversary since its foundation, Meliha Hasanbegovic reported.

Bijeljina

The central computer with database has been stolen from the Central Office of the RS Democratic Party in Bijeljina. "Thieves did not take any other, more valuable things. This implies that there were some other motives for the theft", said the Party Secretary, Gavriilo Antonic. Vesna Mladenovic produced the report.

Sport

Reports the 34th Chess Olympics in Istambul and international football and tennis were presented.