Jovicic added that fact only Bosniaks representative were invited represents selective and biased view upon all war happenings in BiH. He said: "We are disappointed over the fact that not a single representative of victims of Serb nationality was invited." He said it is evident holding of such conferences, without participation of representatives of victims of Serb people, would not contribute to the main goal of these conferences, which is to establish the truth about suffering of all peoples during the past war. Dnevni Avaz pg 2 'Facing the truth and satisfaction for the victims' by Fena – Chair of the association 'Women – Victims of war', Bakira Hasecic, commented that the conference was an opportunity to face the truth and a certain satisfaction for the victims. Oslobodjenje pg 3 'Radovan Stankovic before BiH Court' by Onasa – Senior Advisor to the ICTY Secretariat and chairman of the conference on crimes committed in the Foca region held on Saturday, Christian Rohde, confirmed to FENA on Saturday that the ICTY Prosecution has information about a large number of crimes committed in this part of BiH. Medunjanin, Dnevni List pg 3 'Cheaper electricity for industrial consumers' by D. Polovina-Mandic— On Sunday, after more than decade, the two electricity zones in BiH have been reconnected. The synchronization process took place over several hours on Sunday morning, and re-connected the BiH power grid so that it operates at the same frequency. This also reconnected the network of South-East Europe with that of Western Europe. The Union for the Co-ordination of Transmission of Electricity (UCTE) system, which coordinates the operation and development of the electricity transmission grid from Portugal to Poland and from Belgium to Romania and Greece , has coordinated this event. BHT 1 – In this way BiH fulfilled one of the conditions set by the EU. "We are the only Balkan country with capacities to export electric power and that is why this reconnection is maybe more important to us than to our neighbors," BiH Minister for Foreign Trade and Economic Relations, Dragan Doko, stated. FTV – At the same time, electric power system in BiH has been integrated. Reconnection is also important because of the Stabilization and Accession Agreement with EU. "Cheaper electricity is base for development and you cannot have it without competition and transparency, and that currently does not exist in this sector," said Head of the European Commission delegation in BiH, Michael Humphreys. Principal Deputy High Representative, Donald Heys said that this represents a good first step. "But, it took four years to happen because of wasteful politics," Hays underlined. RTRS – Omer Hadzic, General Director of joined Energetic Coordination Centre, said that new Companies in BiH are being formed, which is independent coordinator of the system as well as joined transfer Company for BiH. Director of the BiH Joint Energy Coordination Center Omer Hadzic said on a independent regulatory company will be establish to coordinate the system and the joint transfer company. Doko pointed that this represents a reform of the energy sector. "Process of joining, in fact of integrating of electro-energetic market of BiH, presents very important part of stabilization and association process as well as important element of BiH association with EU" Michael Humphreys said. Donald Hays said that until recently, BiH has had three "Elektroprivreda", connected to two Entities and three Parties, adding it is not accidental that only after the audit reports BiH authorities have agreed on action plans and reconstruction of "Elektroprivreda". "You have had a chance to read the audits on "Elektroprivredas" and you could, based on that, see whose interests were protected by "Elektroprivreda" and whose weren't" Hays said.

Objections of Elektrokraina Trade Union regarding electricity transfer company of BiH	RTRS – Trade Union of “Elektrokraina” will file charges and organize protests against RS Government, if it implements the decision on transfer of distribution parts of this Company to future joint transfer Company of BiH. RS Ministry of Economy, Energy and Development says that everything around establishment of the new company has done in accordance to the Law and they point that Unions’ reactions are premature. Union claims that establishment of new Company will mean that “Elektrokraina” will be majority in a private ownership, which is in contradiction with RSNA decision according to which majority capital of this company should be in the state’s hands. Dusan Vrhovac, Chairman of the Trade Union, said that on one side this would jeopardise the Company and the employees and on the other side they are confident that it isn’t good that this kind of Company is mainly privately owned. RS Ministry of Energy claims that there is no need for concern, because this Company will remain public ownership adding that a merge of “Elektrokraina” and “Elektrodoboj” has been planned.

VL concludes that BiH has great natural resources when it comes to production of electricity and that the only obstacle to realization of such projects is the issue of ecology.

DA brings that in addition to possible agreement with HT Zagreb, Mobilkom from Austria is still being considered. Gavrilo Grahovac, Deputy FBiH Prime Minister, states that entire approach in solving the problems related to awarding HT Mostar with 3rd GSM licence is wrong. "The value of GSM licence owned by HT Mostar has been ignored. The talks have been led as if that company, and not Eronet with network but without licence, is in difficult situation. The Government will deal with this condition of this company, in a way to ensure that employees and users of Eronet are protected too," Grahovac stated adding that he submitted a series of criticisms against the Memorandum on Understanding with HT Zagreb. Dnevni Avaz pg 9 'Mobilkom Austria submitted new offer' by E. Arifagic – In light of upcoming meeting of BiH and SCG Business Councils to be held on Monday in Sarajevo, daily writes that this marks the beginning of the process which would solve some of the key economic issues between the two states. One of such is the implementation of the Free Trade Agreement. Trials regarding Croat Self-
Rule case
starts today

RHB, Dnevni Avaz pg 4 'Group to plead on charges for Croat Self-Rule', Oslobodjenje pg 3 'Pleading of indictees for Croat Self-Rule' by u, Dnevni List, front and pgs 4-5, 'Trials to self-rule start today', by Ivica Glibusic – Ante Jelavic, Miroslav Prce, Dragac Curcic, Marko Tokic, Ivo Andric Luzanski, Zdravko Batinic and Petar Milic will be entering pleas in Sarajevo before the BiH Court today on Monday in the 'Croat self-rule' case. According to Milic, he will be appearing before the court today and plead not guilty, insisting that the whole case has been politically rigged. Milic claims that the issue of territorial jurisdiction was compromised here, since it was first envisioned that the Cantonal Court in Sarajevo was to conduct the proceedings. In that context, Milic claims that the Constitutional Court suspended the proceedings because the event itself took place in Mostar, and Milic goes on to say that the OHR pressured the Constitutional Court not to publish its decision until the BiH Court has been established, which eventually took over the case.

Vecernji List, pg 2 'Trials to Croat self-rule a dangerous precedent', mentioned on front, by Zoran Kresic – According to VL, one can expect the defendants to warn that the case is about a dangerous precedent and proceedings to political struggle for equality of the Croats in BiH.

DL on Croat self-rule	Dnevni List, pg 2 'Croat self-rule', by Ivica Glibusic – The author is wondering what triggered the Croats to establish the Croat self rule, noting that some people believe it was about justified Croats' request to enjoy the same rights like other two peoples in BiH, whilst others believe that political leaders and their associates started the whole project in order to hush up their dishonorable deeds. However, the author claims that the project was supported by the majority of BiH Croats, who hoped that the Croat self-rule would ensure fundamental human rights to the Croats and others who lived in the areas under the self-rule. Finally, the author wonders why the project lasted very shortly, wondering whether the Croat leaders had a clear vision what was about to happen, whether they had enough diplomatic support and wondering whether the timing was right.

Asked whether people who work in the BiH judiciary are ready to face with all challenges, Kreso says that BiH has a capable and professional cadre who will be able to take over all tasks after a mandate to foreign judges expires. She added that for the time being presence and assistance of foreign judges are very much needed. Asked whether it is true that a court within a court is being established by the establishment of the Registry Office, which according to a journalist shows that the International Community does not trust enough domestic judiciary when processing of the most serious crimes is in question, Kreso says that these are hypothetical assumptions and she would not comment on them. She added that according to her personal opinion, it is necessary to have the Registry Office.

NN update to
'coup
d'état'

Nezavisne Novine pg 4 'F BiH Prosecutor did not prevent leak of information' by M. Cubro —The Chief Federation Prosecutor, Zdravko Knezevic, failed to prevent the leak of confidential information about the arrest of Radovan Karadzic and Ratko Mladic during the so-called "coup" scandal. According to Knezevic's testimony in the proceedings launched before the Tuzla Canon Court in relation to the alleged tapping of high-ranking officials, known as the "coup" scandal Knezevic launched an investigation against Karadzic, Mladic and around 40 other persons in 1992. Shortly after, the information about this investigation was disclosed and the media speculations began. Knezevic claims that the information did not leak from the Prosecutor's Office. Munir Alibabic, the former Director of the Federation intelligence service (FOSS), claims that FOSS tapped him and staged the scandal in order to protect war crime suspects. Alibabic was working as an ICTY investigator at the time, and this too leaked to the public. The Spokesperson of the ICTY Prosecutor's Office, Florence Hartman, refused to say whether the tapping of Munir Alibabic slowed down the process of the arrest of persons indicted for war crimes. The BiH Prosecutor's Office is currently investigating whether the "coup" scandal compromised persons enjoying international legal protection. The BiH Court's President, Medzida Kreso, said that it was only after the Court threatened with a lawsuit for obstructions that they received documentation about the scandal from the BiH Parliament.

VL update to Stolac case	Vecernji List pg 5 ‘Prosecutor investigates ‘Stolac case’ ‘ by R. Soldo – VL reports that Deputy Cantonal Prosecutor in Mostar Nedžad Karalic has got interested in the background of the case in which Croat flags in Stolac were set on fire last month and the suspects in this case are Amer Zugor, Asim Kohanic and Emir Kekic. VL goes on to say that the Prosecutor asked from the police to investigate as to who and according to whose order put up the Croat flags. VL says that they were told in Stolac that employees of the Stolac Public Utility Company put up the flags since they are in charge of decoration of the town in accordance with municipal provisions and not members of HSP Jurisic-Djapic as some media carried.

Glas Srpske pg 2 'Strong and determined' by M.B., Nezavisne Novine pg 4 'Dodik: New approach to administration bodies' by N. Ko., Oslobodjenje pg 2 'Trebinje to restore its soul' – On Sunday in Trebinje, President of SNSD, Milorad Dodik, said that everything bad in local administrations of Municipalities where SNSD has now won must be repaired and cleared. At the session of the SNSD Executive Board, Dodik announced changes in the approach towards local administration, noting that "Mayor should be Mayor of all the people, but also implement the policy of SNSD." He stressed the interest of SNSD is the interest of all the citizens, regardless of their ethnic or party background. Commenting on election results, Dodik said that SNSD recorded a raise of 25% in electorate, noting that "SNSD has now become the first party by support in RS and currently the second party by strength in BiH".

RTSR – The satisfaction with election results was pointed during the session and Dodik stressed that it isn't accidental that this session is being held in Trebinje, because this city has showed that it is prepared for changes. "We must not start with a logic that ruled so far, because we will fail immediately. We must made new approach, new approach...meaning what I have said, and in administration, and in mentality, in relation of Head of the Municipality toward the citizens..." Dodik underlined.

DA int with
Barisa Colak

Dnevni Avaz pg 5 'Dragan Covic will stay on position till the end of mandate', mentioned on cover, by Faruk Vele – In an interview to DA, the HDZ President Barisa Colak stresses that media speculations on HDZ's weak elections results and possibility for removal of some of its top officials are malicious, emphasizing that speculation of Dragan Covic to be replaced in Presidency were not true. He underlines that the party has been very satisfied with its success on elections, adding that announced inter-party elections [to be held in January in Neum] have nothing to do with municipal elections. Colak denies that low turnout signified the lack of citizens' confidence in ruling parties, adding that HDZ will produce the analysis on this matter. Asked about elections in Mostar, Colak says that while election results have not yet been announced, it is clear that Coalition of Croat parties will win majority number of councilors, adding: "It is logical than that we offer the Mayor. Therefore, I believe that future Mostar mayor will be a Croat from HDZ Coalition. In that sense, I expect the cooperation from other parties." Asked to comment on recent announcements from HDZ that they would work to change or even replace the Mostar Statute imposed by the HR Paddy Ashdown if they win in elections, Colak says: "I don't not when is that going to happen, but as both man and HDZ President, I expect the work on changes to imposed Ashdown's Statute, because simply something better, more natural, something in common interest must be made."

VL: 'Mostar: SDP refuses to join 'pro-Bosnian coalition'	Vecernji List, pg 6 'Jahic's idea fails', by Miroslav Vasilj – According to VL, a statement by the President of SDP of Herzegovina-Neretva Canton, Nermin Niksic, that the SDP will not form coalition with any national parties, in reality shatters the idea of the current Mayor of Mostar and President of SDA of Mostar, Hamdija Jahic, who wants to form a pro-Bosnian coalition in the City Council of Mostar. According to Niksic, the SDP is in favour of a pro-Bosnian coalition, however Niksic claims that national parties are not pro-Bosnian. "It would mean that we would have a pro-Bosnian and a pro-Croat coalition in one city. It is about division into two blocks, which is unacceptable", stresses Niksic.

of self-

Vecernji List, pg 6 'Heads of municipalities and councilors in legislative chaos', by Milan Sutalo – The daily claims that many municipalities in BiH could be in for crisis unless a new law on local self-government is in place before municipal councils have been constituted. The author claims that such law should be defining authorities of the heads of municipalities and municipal councils and their relations, considering that many municipalities will have heads of municipalities who are not members of majority in municipal councils, which in turn could result in clashes between the two. According to the President of Association of municipalities and cities/towns in FBiH, Anton Stitic, there is a complete chaos in the area of local self-government in BiH, noting that some people obviously do not want to have a new law, despite the Council of Europe and OHR insisting on it.

Dnevni List, pg 8 'New heads of municipalities will work according to old law', mentioned on front 'New mayors, old laws', by D. Kozina – Carries the secretary of the FBiH Parliament's House of Representatives, Ante Baotic, as saying that the law on local self-government will go into the (parliamentary) procedure in about a month or two. Baotic stresses that the fact that the new law has not been adopted yet will not affect the work of new heads of municipalities, because they will be working according to the old law until a new one has been adopted. "Whether the heads of municipalities have more power in the new law or not, it will be regulated by the new law that cannot be adopted without a broad public discussion, which takes time", stresses Baotic.

NN op-ed on census	Nezavisne Novine op-ed pg 7 'List us' by Dragan Risojevic – The author is supportive of most recent statement of Srdjan Dizdarevic, President of BiH Helsinki Board for Human Rights, who said it is high time census were convened in BiH [see Weekend Media Brief Oct 9n10]. The author notes arguments of Helsinki Board for holding census (which is not alone in this initiative according to Risojevic) are rather convincing, including the fact people of any state cannot plan their development unless the number of citizens is established. The author is further critical of SDA resistance to census, noting that SDA might be a little bit afraid of census, since it would reveal the exact number of Serbs and Croats, refugees from F BiH.
