Ambassador-at-Large for War Crimes Issues Pierre Richard Prosper on Monday read the message of US President George W. Bush at the commemoration in Potocari. The statement says that the mass murder of nearly 8.000 boys and men was the worst massacre of civilians in Europe since the Second World War and an atrabilious reminder that there are evil people who will kill innocent people without conscience and mercy. The U.S. President says that this terrible event remains a source of great pain for the people of Balkans and all those who believe in freedom and dignity of human life. *"Today at this dignified event I join all Americans in expressions of our deepest condolences and sympathies. The United States expresses support to BiH and the families of the victims while they are

ICTY President Meron reiterated that genocide was committed in Srebrenica	RHB, Pink, BHT, Hayat, FTV, RTRS, Oslobodjenje pg 5 'Justice to victims, punishment to criminals', Dnevni Avaz pg 4, mentioned on cover, Nezavisne Novine pg 2 'Meron: To ensure Srebrenica never repeats', Vecernje Novosti pg 24 'The Hague gave its judgment' – Although he announced that he would be boycotting the commemoration in Potocari in protest against the failure to arrest the most prominent fugitives, Hague Tribunal chairman Theodor Meron nevertheless came to pay tribute to the victims and offer his condolences to the families of the dead Srebrenica Bosniaks. He recalled the verdict in the case of (RS Army general) Radoslav Krstic, which was the first official instance to describe the crime committed in Srebrenica as genocide. At the moment when they embarked on the implementation of genocide, Bosnian Serb forces were aware that this would inflict lasting damage on Bosnia 's Muslims. The appeals chamber unambiguously declared that the law condemned this profound and lasting violation and described it by its proper name – genocide. Those responsible will be carrying this stigma and it will serve as a warning to those who in future try to emulate this horrific act, the chairman of the Hague Tribunal said.

HR Ashdown
urges arrest
of war
criminals at Srebrenica
ceremony

Oslobodjenje pg 6 'There is no peace without justice', Dnevni Avaz pg 4 'Reconciliation only after trying criminals', Vecernje Novosti pg 24 'Individuals committed crimes', ONASA – Attending the ceremony on Monday in Potocari to commemorate 10 years since the massacre of Bosniaks in the United Nations protected safe zone of Srebrenica, Paddy Ashdown, the High Representative for BiH, said that "today is above all a day for the families who are burying their dead: our efforts to open the memorial in Potocari has provided a place where they can do so with dignity". "Most importantly, we must ensure that those responsible – Radovan Karadzic and Ratko Mladic – face justice in The Hague. In this way will we ensure that the truth of these terrible events is known and recognized. Serbia is moving from denial to recognition of the crimes that were committed here in their name. The way to absolve collective guilt is to establish individual guilt under the law. These crimes are the crimes of individuals and with the arrest and trial of those individuals we can start to say we are moving towards reconciliation," said Ashdown. "The worst crime to take place in Europe in the latter part of the twentieth century took place here. The world's failure to protect the people of this country and the people in Potocari in particular is our greatest shame. A decade later, Bosnia-Herzegovina stands on the threshold of formal negotiations with the European Union. We owe it to those who died to see through the task of building a brighter future for this country," said Ashdown in his message.

This tragedy must never happen again. The job will not be complete as long as Radovan Karadzic and Ratko Mladic are at large", said Holbrooke. Canadian Foreign Affairs Minister Pettigrew extended his condolences to families of Srebrenica victims	Dnevni Avaz pg 4, FENA – Canadian Foreign Affairs Minister Pierre Pettigrew extended his condolences and sympathies on Monday to the families and friends of the more than 8 000 Bosnian Muslims who were killed in Srebrenica. July 11, 2005 is the 10th anniversary of the massacre. "The killings marked one of the darkest points of the war in Bosnia and Herzegovina and are the worst crime committed in Europe since World War Two," said Canadian Foreign Minister in his message. "The most appropriate way to honour those murdered at Srebrenica is for the leaders of the region to deliver to justice all those indicted by the International Criminal Tribunal for the Former Yugoslavia (ICTY), particularly Radovan Karadzic and Ratko Mladic, the architects of the Srebrenica massacre," Pettigrew said.

His victims are buried on the surrounding hills, and their homes have been burned down,"* Cavic told reporters at the commemoration for the victims of Srebrenica. Cavic said that the victims could be treated in no other way than as humans.

There they were addressed by Chairman of the Federation of BiH Commission for Missing Persons Amor Masovic. *“What you can see here is a secondary mass grave of Srebrenica victims. Srebrenica Oslobodjenje pg 9 'Continuation of genocide' op-ed by Mirko Sagolj – "Genocide against Bosniaks in Srebrenica has not ended in July 1995... the genocide has been continued by using peaceful means... The essential problem of Srebrenica today is not only the fact that main culprits are at large... the question is how to revive the life and prevent new exodus? Only every 20th prewar dweller of Srebrenica has returned. More bones returned than people," said Sogolj further nothing that even when they returned, returnees have no opportunities to earn for living. Author says that a large sums of money have been sent to Srebrenica for help "but ended somewhere between ruling SDA and people that were supposed to receive it." Dnevni Avaz pg 3 'Admitting genocide' op-ed by Husein Orahovac – Editorial on Srebrenica commemoration says "it took 10 years to hear from international officials that... genocide was committed against Bosniaks in Srebrenica." Noting that Serb politicians have not dealt with Srebrenica issue, author says it is not the most important thing anymore how Serb politicians respond: "Something else is much more important. What will IC do after removing all doubts that genocide was committed in Srebrenica? Will it leave this organization of BiH, a result of genocide ..., to survive or will it return attributes worth of every modern country?"

DL/VL op-eds
on Srebrenica commemoration

Dnevni List pg 2 'Responsibility for crime' by I. Glibusic – The author says that it is questionable whether Western politicians should have talked at all about the war crimes and war criminals at the Srebrenica commemoration since most of them allowed that the war on the territory of former Yugoslavia takes place. The author also claims that it is questionable to what extent the International Community wants to arrest Radovan Karadzic and Ratko Mladic.

Vecernji List pg 2 'Anniversary of world disgrace' by J. Pavkovic – Among the other things, the author criticizes the statement given by US Ambassador-at-large for War Crimes Issues Pierre-Richard Prosper in Srebrenica on Monday, who reminded that Croatia has an obligation to arrest ICTY fugitive Anto Gotovina. The author says that in this way the guilt of an aggressor and victim is being equalized and the real image, in which the International Community has a big stain, is becoming blurred. The author says that Srebrenica exactly is one of these stains and for this reason the Srebrenica anniversary was also the anniversary of the IC disgrace.

NN op-ed's on Srebrenica	Nezavisne Novine op-ed pg 7 'Srebrenica – a day after' by Zarko Korac – Condemning crimes committed in Srebrenica, the author notes that by reacting to 10th anniversary of Srebrenica crimes, Serbia has shown itself as a society that still must do much in confronting Milosevic' political heritage. He notes that the time of evil is passing by, and many years will still go by in order to see a true apology. Nezavisne Novine op-ed pg 7 'Science is helping in exposing a myth' by Catjerine Bobmerger – Writing for NN, the Head of ICMP Mission to BiH says that people, who were buried at Potocari, do not represent a means for accomplishment of political goals, but instead they are sons and fathers, who now have dignity and names. She stresses that by using science, ICMP has provided irrefutable evidence, adding that numbers and names of the missing persons cannot be hidden or overexaggerated for political goals.
US Ambassador Prosper to visit BiH Court on Tuesday	Dnevni Avaz pg 10, Oslobodjenje pg 3, FENA – US Ambassador for War Crimes Issues Pierre Prosper will visit the BiH Court and Prosecutor's Office on Tuesday to get informed about progress of the Council for War Crimes project. Radovanovic: NATO continues to investigate RS Army individuals suspected of helping Mladic	Oslobodjenje pg 3 'NATO investigates networks of [PIFWC's] supporters in RS Army', mentioned on cover, by A. Prlenda – BiH Defence Minister, Nikola Radovanovic, confirms for daily that the NATO HQ in Sarajevo has been investigating individuals in the RS Army assisted hiding of Ratko Mladic. Radovanovic adds that the Ministry prepared the report on Mladic hiding in Han Pijesak underground facility, and the NATO has continued with the activities of disclosing this network. Asked whether this means that NATO interviews individuals from RS Army, Radovanovic said that this is the case most probably, however underlined he knows nothing more on this issue. When it comes to salaries for Mladic, Radovanovic confirms that the Ministry has submitted the documentation to the RS Prosecution, who later forwarded it to the BiH Prosecution. Out of three military underground facilities where Mladic was hiding, two were closed down.
EUFOR without comment on Tadic's statement re apprehension of Mladic	Oslobodjenje pg 3 inset 'EUFOR without comment on Tadic's statement' – EUFOR spokesperson, Tom Ryall, stated EUFOR has no information based on which the Serbian President, Boris Tadic, has announced the apprehension of Ratko Mladic in several days. Sky news carried the interview with Tadic, in which Presidency noted he has hoped Mladic would be arrested in next several days. "But, I would say that this statements," says Ryall, "given by Tadic could be seen as the positive step forward in process of PIFWCs apprehension."

Pink Mirela Cosic, Hayat, FTV, RTRS – Dayton Peace Agreement (DPA) is not perfect, but it stopped the war in BiH, said DPA Creator, current US Ambassador at UN Richard Holbrooke. "Was a perfect agreement possible? No. Even before we got together, the contact group decided that the country will be divided in 51-49 ratio. That's where we got stuck: I did not believe that it is the right way, but it surely does not justify the ethnic cleansing", stated Holbrooke after the commemoration in Potocari. Holbrooke again denied the information that United States promised Hague indictee Radovan Karadzic that they will not try to arrest him. US Ambassador for War Crimes Issues Pierre Richard Prosper confirmed Holbrooke's statement: "The first time I've heard this is when I talked to Luka Karadzic. I told him that there is no such agreement, and that Radovan Karadzic must go to the Hague ", said Prosper.

Nezavisne Novine pg 4 'The international community is responsible too' by Z.Kusmuk, Vecernje Novosti pg 24 'An evil lies in hill' ambush' also carried Holbrooke and Prosper's statements.

Those troublemakers also chanted well-known paroles “Knife, Wire, Srebrenica”. Women in Black, approximately 200 of them, continued their protest as soon as smoke scattered. Stasa Zajovic, Women in black Association Coordinator, stated: “This shows the level of fascism in Serbian society, and unreadiness to confront with criminal past...We have faced brutal violence by extremists and neo-Nazis at Square of Republic in Belgrade” At the same time, representatives at the Serbian Assembly with a minute of silence paid respect to all the victims in Srebrenica, Bratunac and Skelani. In spite of BiH COM's decision on marking of Srebrenica
crimes, RS
Govt. did not declare
Mourning Day

RHB, Hayat, FTV, RTRS, Nezavisne Novine pg 5 'RS Government did not declare 11 July Mourning Day' by S.Gojkovic – The Members of the RS Government claim that they did not receive any official decision about the Mourning Day from the BiH Council of Ministers, and that they heard about this initiative only through media. Bojan Zec Filipovic, Spokesperson of Adnan Terzic, says that the decision of BiH COM on Mourning Day was published in "BH Official Gazette" and hence BiH bodies are not obligated to inform entities about decisions. However, Cvijeta Kovacevic, Head of RS Government Press Bureau, says that "BH Official Gazette" dated 4 and 5 July (which was the last one delivered to RS Government) did not contain this decision. Therefore, Monday was not a Mourning Day in RS; only major television stations – the ones that broadcast their program in both BiH entities – respected the Mourning Day.

GS about war in BiH	Glas Srpske pg 5 'A mouth full of pursuit' by Z.Markovic – The author notes that as the marking of Serb suffering in Srebrenica and Bratunac approaches, various Bosniak and international officials strongly pledge for declaring Serb people as main culprit for BiH war , as well as to declare RS a genocidal creation. He disputes the day marked as beginning of war (6th April 1992), noting that on 4th March 1992, regular military units of Republic of Croatia entered BiH in Bosanski Brod. Inter alia, the author notes that Alija Izetbegovic was the one who removed his signature from Jose Cuttiliero's plan in 1992, he reminds of Cuttiliero's statement that there would not have been war if Izetbegovic had not withdrawn his signature.

Potocari
explosive case

Patriot pgs 6-7 'World War IV – London as a frontline' by Slobodan Vaskovic – Expressing horrification over London terrorist attacks, the author commends the strength of the Great Britain to deal with the problem of terrorism and to beat terrorists without a single bullet shot by not having fallen in chaos and panic.
Unlike London , according to author, BiH has suffered a great defeat from terrorists who have planted the explosive at Potocari Centre. He is critical of the fact not a single local and international officials has qualified this as terrorist attempt, being specifically critical of the OHR press release and its wording (i.e.
“negative publicity”). He notes that OHR has qualified this clear terrorist act into “an incident” and did everything to minimise planting of explosive. The author stresses it would have been the best for this state that everybody has condemned the terrorist act at Srebrenica and then launched investigation against those responsible for it. Instead, it did not happen, since word “terrorism” is one of key words which cannot be spoken out in BiH, since its recognition would equate with failure of IC’s policy.

Patriot links Madrid attack with origin of Potocari explosive	Patriot pgs 8-10 'Professionals planted explosive at Potocari' by Mladen Stojanovic – Referring to well-informed law enforcement sources in BiH, the author notes that video-shots on explosive packages shows the professionals have planted it with possible intention to spread it out in small packages during Potocari commemoration. Report also brings a reference between Madrid terrorist attack and Potocari explosive, saying: "The investigation has identified the structure of the explosive found at Potocari. A part of structure reminds of the explosive used at Madrid attacks. Also, C4 explosive of American production was found at Potocari. Intelligence agencies link it with possible "hiding" of some of deliveries who used BiH as transit road.." according to Patriot sources, one Serb and one Bosniak were detained at Bratunac.

Dnevni List pg 9 'Niko Lozancic stands behind Lovrinovic's removal', mentioned on cover 'Lozancic stands behind removal' by Z. Jukic – A high-ranked official from the Central Bosnia Canton (CBC) HDZ Board claims that everything with regard to the removal of Central Bosnia Canton Education Minister Nikola Lovrinovic was revealed during the session of the CBC HDZ Board held a day before Lovrinovic's removal. The source added that during this session Lovrinovic told all details of his correspondence with Niko Lozancic, whom Lovrinovic considers to be an accomplice of High Representative Paddy Ashdown when his (Lovrinovic's) removal is in question. According Lovrinovic, two days before his removal Lozancic called him and asked him whether he changed his stand with regard to the implementation of the framework law on primary and secondary education. Lovrinovic also said at this session that a year ago Lozancic told him that he should change his stands since otherwise he would lose job. According to DL, a day before the removal Lovrinovic was informed that he would not hold an introductory speech at the meeting of the HDZ National council and many HDZ members believe that this fact shows that the HDZ top knew that Lovrinovic would be removed.

RHB, Vecernji List pg 4 'For right on education in Croatian language' by mr – During the session of the HDZ Presidency, which was held in Kupres on Monday, Nevenko Hreceg was unanimously elected a new HDZ Secretary General. After this session the Croat National Council's session took place and after they discussed the education reform they concluded that it is necessary to urgently make a memorandum saying that it is the right of the Croat people to have education in mother tongue. Talking about the defence reform they stated that HDZ would participate in the reform which would help modernization of the Army but which would not bring in question existence of the Croat component. When the RTV system reform is in question, the Council concludes that the Croat people would not give up their constitutional rights, which guarantee getting information and having a TV channel in mother tongue.
Slobodna Dalmacija last pg 'Nevenko Herceg new HDZ Secretary General' by H also reports on these sessions.

According to this source, one of the topics of the meeting was gathering of the Croat opposition's political scene and the US Ambassador promised his support in these activities. DL says that the reasons for this meeting might be found in the results of the UNDP last research which showed that the rating of the opposition grows among Serbs and Bosniaks, however, when Croats are in question, HDZ still has a leading position and the Croat opposition is very weak.
