Constitutional and police reforms

RHB – The BiH Chief Negotiator in the Stabilisation and Association Agreement with the European Union, Igor Davidovic, said that the failure of the BiH Parliament to endorse the constitutional changes would not affect the dynamics of the negotiations, and already-agreed financial assistance from the EU. However, Davidovic emphasized that there are many different mechanisms for implementation of so-called

'silent sanctions' against BiH. He confirmed the SAA negotiations would resume on May 12th. Citing 'unofficial sources close to European Commission and domestic authorities', Banjaluka-based Nezvisne Novine reported that the EU would impose silent sanctions to BiH, because of the failure of constitutional reform. According to those reports, EU could use so-called 'Albanian model', meaning BiH would be allowed to continue negotiations with the EU, but it would not be allowed to make any significant steps towards the European integration. BHT1 – also carried, adding Davidovic believes that EU may use 'silent sanctions'.

BHT1: Situation further complicated with slowdown in police reform; PRD Steering Board meets on Wed

BHT 1 by Boris Grubesic – Commenting the failure of the constitutional reforms and possible sanctions by the international community, Grubesic notes the situation has been further complicated by slow-down in the process of police restructuring reform. RS officials say that they are not going to accept any solution on police restructuring that is not based on consensus. They also vehemently reject any solution leading to abolishment of RS Ministry of Interior. On the other hand, FBiH officials demand abolishment of entity MoI's and organisation of police forces at two levels, state and local level. Since a consensus couldn't bee reached, Steering Board of Police Restructuring Directorate will vote on draft decision on police restructuring next Wednesday. As member of the Board Sead Lisak explained, this draft decision regulates the united police forces organised in two levels, with single budget and single law on police. As reporter stressed, a halt in police reform might lead to a suspension of Stabilisation and Association Process with the EU. RS President Dragan Cavic stated that an agreement on this issue must be reached by February $\mathbf{28}^{\text{th}}\ \mathbf{2007}$, in accordance with the agreed phases. Otherwise, warned Cavic, the SAA might not be signed at all. A delegation of BiH Directorate for EU Integration will travel to Brussels on Tuesday. It is expected that the official stances of the EU regarding the rejection of constitution changes should be known by then.

Hayat int with Rasim Ljajic: SCG authorities uncover Mladic's support network

Hayatby Semsudin Skejic – NTV Hayat brings live telephone interview with Rasim Ljajic, SCG Minister for Human and Minority Rights and President of National Council for Cooperation with the Hague Tribunal, who stressed that, although they failed to arrest Ratko Mladic, Serbia-Montenegro authorities managed to almost completely uncover the network of his supporters, adding that about 130 persons provided help to Mladic during different phases of his hiding. "Unfortunately, at this point those information were not enough to bring us to the ultimate information, the one about Mladic's whereabouts", stated Ljajic. He explained that many of those 130 persons were members of RS Army and army of former Yugoslavia, as well as intelligence agencies in Serbia. Asked to comment various statements by international representatives, who mostly claim that SCG progress in negotiations with EU depends on the cooperation with The Hague Tribunal, i.e. the apprehension of Ratko Mladic, Ljajic said that all those statements point to the fact that SCG would probably become the member of the Partnership for Peace as soon as Mladic is extradited to The Hague. "We expect to finalize the negotiations of the Stabilisation and Association Agreement in October. Any other development would be catastrophic for this country, because the path of SCG towards European integration would be blocked", said Ljajic. "In any case, this obstacle must be removed, because the whole country is a hostage of just one man; the whole country suffers the consequences of the fact that Ratko Mladic has not yet been transferred to The Hague", concluded SCG President of National Council for Cooperation with the Hague Tribunal; however, he was not able to say when one could expect the apprehension of Ratko Mladic.

Action will include petition signing, round tables and meetings with competent institutions as well as establishment of open telephone lines for anonymous calls against employers violating labour laws. Chair of RS Trade Union Ranka Misic called upon inspections to be more efficient so illegal labour can be stopped. Misic also stated that it is impossible to estimate how many people in RS work illegally and added that the state is partially to blame since it tolerates the non payment of social contributions to certain companies for years. Misic concluded that workers in RS can accomplish their rights only through their Unions and Union fight which in Misic's opinion should become more radical. FTV, RTRS – also covered.</pre>
