HR Ashdown in France	Avaz pg. 2 'Ashdown will lobby for BiH to get a status of the EU candidate' – the main reason behind HR Paddy Ashdown's trip to France is to lobby for BiH to get the status of a candidate for the entry to the EU. He will speak to French officials on the possibility that BiH and southeast Europe get a certain statement of intent from the EU at the Solun summit next month. According to OHR Spokesperson, Julian Braithwaite, HR's goal is ensure that regional countries striving to join the EU get an access to so-called 'accession funds' of the EU to speed up the implementation of reforms.

Dnevni List pg. 1 and 5 and Vecernji List pg. 2 'BiH is yielding before American demands' – Covic stated that the BiH Presidency adopted the draft of the Agreement on the exemption of the US citizens. Oslobodjenje
commentary

Oslobodjenje pg. 2 'BiH and US' by Ibrahim Prohic – on the US – BiH Agreement to exempt IS citizens from the ICC's jurisdiction. He claims that in case the BiH authorities were to decline the US offer the American would not publicly threaten to Sarajevo. However, adds the author, Balkans are so 'fragile' that BiH should always think about an ally that would come to its rescue in case someone, again, decides to divide BiH. "The signing of the Agreement, following the example of 32 other countries, really gives an exclusive right to Americans. But the power of God does not beg, and BiH needs a powerful ally. The freedom fighters should take a look around them."

rejecting all nominated

Vecernji List pg. 2 – representatives of the Republika Srpska National Assembly rejected all eight candidates for the position of the RS Constitutional Court judges, as proposed by the High Judicial and Prosecutorial Council. VL says that people from the High Judicial and Prosecutorial Council claim that they did their part of the job and that they were waiting for the decision by High Representative Paddy Ashdown. The article says that they believe that this is about politically motivated obstruction and this is a good reason that the HR takes the thing in his own hands and imposes the solution, that is, to appoint proposed candidates in spite of disagreements between RS NA reps. Glas Srpske pg. 2 'Election of judges fail' – on Tuesday evening, Republika Srpska MP's elected Miodrag Simovic as a Serb representative to the BiH Constitutional Court. Djeric on fight against crime	Vecernje Novosti pg. 19 'Passports to be checked' – "I expect that soon we will have the process of reform of judiciary completed and that chain 'Ministry of Interior – courts – prosecution' will be connected because without it there is no fight against organised crime," Zoran Djeric, RS Interior Minister, said on Tuesday evening in Bijeljina. ## Economic Affairs

Avaz commentary	Avaz pg. 3 'New cynicism from the RS' by Enes Plecic – first comments on the latest decision by the RS NA to start the changes of the Law to BiH Foreign Trade Chamber (so the revenues would go back to entities). According to Plecic, the Chamber was officially established (or rather changed the name, before it was the BiH Chamber of Commerce) in May last year and until March 2003 the money for it, mainly spent by now, was largely collected by companies and chamber from the Federation. The 'modest' contribution made by the RS was 6,900 KM and the Brcko District gave 100 KM. "Such cynicism of RS Assembly reps was not expected. Especially because they are asking back for the money they never gave to this state institution. Or is this another scenario of destroying state institutions and shifting responsibility on others who have been naively paying for it all." The author also reminds that RS is symbolically participating in the work of the BHTV 1, BH Radio and other state institutions, yet have sharp objections and even refer to national endangerment in case their people are employed in those institutions.

Kalinic

The same source says the CoM is waiting for the court ruling on the issue of the return of ‘Eronet’ stocks to the ‘Hrvatske Telecommunication Mostar’ (HT Mostar).

Bulldozer Commission	FENA – “The FBiH House of Peoples on Wednesday enacted four Bulldozer reforms, completing the approval process for all the recommendations sent to it by the Federation government,” OHR Spokesman, Kevin Sullivan, told FENA. This brings to 49 the total number of Bulldozer reforms that have been adopted by the governments or enacted by the parliaments, at state and entity level and in Brcko. RS PM Dragan Mikerevic said he would accept proposals by deputies to include inputs into the proposal of economic policy.

Brcko	FENA, Radio Brcko District, Blic pg. 8 and Nezavisne Novine pg. 6 – during yesterday's OHR Brcko press conference, Supervisor Henry Clarke announced that Brcko would have the honour to be the first place in BiH that would implement reforms in the field of income taxes. The previous system of four taxes on various kinds of income will be replaced with a single income tax for families and businesses, as in accordance with the Income Law worked out by the GTZ and Brcko Tax Administration. He pointed out that the new Law would have at least three advantages – lower taxes or none at all for people with the lowest incomes, more favourable for businesses, especially those that invest in their business, easier to collect so that everyone pays their share. Those who receive more will pay more, but the rate is so low that people will not be discouraged from earning as much as they can and paying their fair share of the tax.

Oleg Milisic, OHR Spokesperson, stated it was not a matter for the OHR to get involved with. Senad Pecanin said that maybe the OHR and the US ambassador who live in one of Radoncic's villas should finally ask for the proclamation of the Law on the Protection of the work of Avaz and its owner.

Education Affairs

VL and SD on reforms	Slobodna Dalmacija pg. 1 and 15, Vecernji List pg. 1 and 3 – sees the adoption of the Proposal of a draft State Law on Primary and General Secondary Education, which was adopted by the BiH Council of Minister, as a plan to abolish the Croat(ian) language in schools and eventually to create a single curriculum in BiH that would undermine the foundations of the Croat people's future. According to the founder of the Croat Christian Democrats, Petar Milic, who is also a physics teacher, many articles of the draft law are in collision with the BiH Constitution and Dayton Peace Accord. The DPA, according to Milic, stipulates that when it comes to the FBiH, it is the cantons that decide about the education related issues. According to the journalist, who allegedly conducted a small opinion poll among Croat teachers, the mood in the 'Croat' schools is close to rebellion. In that context, the journalist talks about a blockade of all Croat schools if the law is adopted on June 10. According to Head of Education Institute of Mostar, Mladen Kvesic, who is also a member of the Working group that presented the 'green paper' in Sarajevo on Thursday, the Croat side in BiH is ready to actively participate in changes of the education system. Kvesic however says there are individuals who would like to use the reforms to raise the issue of the Bosnian language. In this context, Kvesic says the draft Law adopted by the CoM allows a Serb teacher from Nevesinje to give lectures in the Serb language at Siroki Brijeg, something that is not right according to Kvesic. Regarding the 'green paper', a document that should contribute to modernizing of the education system in BiH, Kvesic said the following. "The green paper is a good foundation for further public debate. I do not believe in overnight results achieved through decrees," says Kvesic.
