Ashdown warns BiH over delays meeting conditions for accession to PFP	RHB, BHT 1, Oslobodjenje pg 4 'Impressed with progress in BiH' by Fena, Dnevni Avaz pg 3 'Again delays in fulfilling conditions for Partnership for Peace' by Fena, Dnevni List, pg 2 'BiH at crossroads again', by Danka Polovina-Mandic, Nezavisne Novine pg 3 'Not much was done on cooperation with The Hague' by M.C. – The High Representative for BiH, Paddy Ashdown, on Tuesday warned that failure to cooperate with the ICTY could be catastrophic for BiH. On Tuesday Ashdown met with the Foreign Minister of Norway, Jan Petersen. Following the meeting, HR Ashdown stated that if BiH wanted to join the Euro-Atlantic integration, it has to go through "two gates in next six months", meaning the NATO and Partnership for Peace and continue its road to Europe. HR Ashdown explained that BiH had two obstacles on that road, the first being the cooperation with the ICTY, the second being the implementation of laws and decisions, which had already been adopted by the BiH Council of Ministers. With regards to the former, HR Ashdown said: "It is a disaster that we lost at least one month and we are again in situation that the time is running out for us. We will again find ourselves in a situation that NATO will assess BiH's progress related to the Partnership for Peace two or three months before the end of year", HR Ashdown said. FTV – FTV comments that judging by warning of the HR Ashdown, following the meeting with Petersen, BiH is on its way to catastrophe. "We are again in situation where, when it comes to the cooperation with Hague we don't hear anything, especially when RS is in question. On their side, we come across silence only. I have to warn once again, if BiH does not meet all conditions... it will mean catastrophe, not only for BiH but to its future in Europe as well. That will be serious situation for authorities and individuals that do not fulfill their tasks. There are signs indicting that the current road leads to catastrophe. I hope that this will be changed," Ashdown stated. RTRS – According to Ashdown, if the conditions are not met the situation for authorities and individuals could become rather serious. "If you want to have a protection that Dayton offers then you must fulfill those commitments provided in the Dayton agreement", Ashdown said. He also emphasized the need for an implementation of laws essential to further move towards EU, especially the law on public broadcasting system.

Ivanic: charges against Maktouf confirm presence of mujahidins in BiH	RTRS, RHB, Oslobođenje pg 4 'Bad BiH's image in the world because of mujahidin' by Fena, Dnevni Avaz pg 4 'BiH has problems with its image in the world because of mujahidins' by Fena, Dnevni List, pg 5 'Indictment confirms presence of mujahiddin in BiH', mentioned on front, by Ivica Glibusic, Vecernji List, pg 3 'Confirmation of influence of mujahiddin in BiH', by Branka Stevandic – with regards to reports that the BiH Prosecution has filed war crimes charges against Abdulahim Maktouf, a BiH citizen of Iraqi origins, DL carries the BiH Foreign Minister, Mladen Ivanic, as saying at a press conference held in Banja Luka on Tuesday that BiH has big problems related to its image in the world because of presence of mujahiddin. He also noted that the issue of terrorism in BiH, especially in the FBIH, was never really addressed adding that the charges against Maktouf conclude stories about political influence of mujahiddin in BiH. Finally, Ivanic noted that a great responsibility now rested with the OHR, noting that the OHR and other international institutions must be more direct when it comes to mujahiddin in BiH, otherwise one could talk about application of double standards. EuroBlic cover and pg 11 'First mujahedeen charged in Sarajevo ', inset 'Ivanic: Justice does come after all' – carries Ivanic's statement.
Ivanic says Ashdown should not talk before elections, announces RS Govt reshuffle	Dnevni Avaz pg 4 'Message to Ashdown', Nezavisne Novine pg 13 'SNSD leader is a victim of his financiers' by A. Sekulic – The President of PDP and BiH Foreign Minister, Mladen Ivanic, commented the High Representative for BiH, Paddy Ashdown's, statement in which the HR announced that he could strike again if there is no progress in cooperation with the ICTY. Ivanic stated that it would be better for HR Ashdown "not to speak at all before the elections, because the so-called 'hardliner' national parties could again win many votes". Ivanic continued: "My opinion is that there should be a High Representative of the EU in BiH next year, whose task would be not to remove people and impose laws, he would rather have a counselling role". Slobodna Dalmacija, pg 16 'It's better for him not to speak up at all', by A. Macanovic, Dnevni List, pg 8 'New interior minister by end of week', not signed – Ivanic also announced that upcoming appointment of the new RS Interior Minister would be followed by the reconstruction of the RS Government.

Journalists condemn Banja Luka mayor candidate statements	RTRS, FTV – BiH Coordination of Press Associations strongly condemns the statement of candidate for Banja Luka mayor Ljubisa Buco Kragulj at TV Simic programme two nights ago, when he called on a lynch of certain journalists and media (referring to RTRS and Dragan Davidovic, its Director, “Nezavisne Novine” and ATV). Kragulj accused Nezavisne Novine of being a CIA branch office and as for General Director of RTRS Dragan Davidovic he said that he was appointed by International community to destroy RS. Kragulj also insulted Deputy chief editor of Nezavisne Novine Mirjana Kusmuk. He also commented on Alternativna Televizija Banja Luka (ATV) saying it is financed by foreigners. The Association issued a press release expressing their astonishment over the level of hatred Kragulj voiced towards his opinion-non-likes. Association also called on SDS and PDP, two of seven parties supporting Kragulj, to disassociate from his public statements. Nezavisne Novine cover and pg 4 ‘Kragulj called on lynch of journalists’ by D. Risojevic – According to NN inset ‘Kragulj’s statement under review’, BiH Election Commission will review the public appearance of Ljubisa Buco Kragulj at Simic TV and if established he violated election rules, he would be penalised, whether in financial regard or his name would be removed from election list, announced Vehid Sehic, President of Election Commission. According to NN inset 2 ‘He denies his statement’ Kragulj on Tuesday denied he “has called on lynch of journalists and media”, saying he has just criticised the editorial policy and the work of the RTRS General Manager, Dragan Davidovic.

Update to Konjevic polje incident	BHT 1 by Lejla Redzovic – RS Chief Urbanism Inspector, Zaharije Kujacic, will meet municipal and entity authorities and officials of Serb Orthodox Church to solve the problem of illegally constructed church in Konjevic Polje in a yard of Bosniak returnee Fata Orlovic. Citizens of Konjevic Polje believe that the recent incidents regarding this church are a part of elections campaign. They claim that people from outside of Konjevic Polje have been brought to cause problems. Around 3000 Bosniaks and 5 Serbs live in Konjevic Polje, and they all agree that Fata Orlovic has a right to demand relocation of the church. Local Serbs claim that they don't even go to that church. RS inspection ordered the church to be closed down four months ago, but has not happened as yet. Mensur Sehagic, RS Minister for Urban Planning, Civil Engineering and Ecology claims that this problem should have been solved long time ago, and stresses that the church was constructed illegally. BHT 1 says that municipal authorities believe that this case is too big for them and that was the main reason they arranged meeting with entity authorities and Serb Orthodox Church officials in Bijeljina. Dnevni Avaz pg 5 'The decision on closing down the church in Konjevic polje is legal' by A. Hadzic – The article in DA brings statement by Mensur Sehagic, who again claims that the ban on usage of the church in Fata Orlovic's yard is legal, issued by inspector Kujacic. He noted that BiH politicians have frequently failed on each of these three fields over the past years.

SD on elections manipulations	Slobodna Dalmacija, front & pg 15, 'Everyone stole votes, and we were best at it', by Petar Milos – SD carries the story of one Ivan Mamica Icola who describes how on several occasions he rigged HDZ internal elections in Tomislavgrad by manipulation (in secluded hamlets, Icola and his friends put all villagers on the list of HDZ membership, they secretly cast ballots, etc.). Oslobodjenje follow up on border issues	Oslobodjenje pg 3 'It is known where is the border with SCG!' by E. Kamenica – Mustafa Begic, Director of Institute for geodetic and property issues in BiH, denies the statement by Sulejman Tihic, who said that issues between BiH and SCG over the borders will be solved only with the ratification of the corresponding agreement. He further reminds of the mixed expert group for identification and identification of the border consisting of BiH, SCG and Croatian representatives [whose members is also Tihic]. DA on RSNA-adopted Law on Self-Governance	Dnevni Avaz pg 9 'Cementing the situation in municipality where Serbs are on power' by M. Radetic – DA writes that the representatives of the non-Serb parliamentary parties believes that the Law on local self-governance, adopted by the RS National Assembly, will completely cement the situation in municipalities where only Serbs are on power. SDA's amendment stipulating that the chief, chair of the municipal assembly and its deputies cannot be members of the same constituent peoples, was refuted. However, Chair of SDA Caucus in RSNA, Tarik Sadovic, says that the current Law is an improvement in comparison with the existing situation among employees of RS municipalities, despite the fact that SDA amendments on banning mono-ethnic symbols in municipalities was rejected. RS Minister of Self-Governance, Slaven Pekic believes that such amendment would create blockage in the work of municipalities, as there is no institution that could determine which symbols are and which are not mono-ethnic.

DL on position of Serbs in Mostar City Administration	Dnevni List, pg 12, 'Ashdown's decision makes employment of Serbs impossible', by Sanja Bjelica – in light of the systematization of jobs in the City Administration of Mostar, DL notes that associations of citizens of Serb nationality and some political parties with Serb prefix are of the view that citizens of Serb nationality in Mostar are being brought in a discriminated position thanks to the High Representative Paddy Ashdown's decision on filling positions through internal vacancies and thanks to the fact that the constitutional decisions on constituency of peoples are not being respected. Thus, very few Serbs (some 3%) employed by the Mostar City Administration or by former Municipalities will have the opportunity to apply for jobs, while the systematization plan foresees that some 20% of people of Serb nationality should be employed there. The daily also reminds that, upon proposal of the Serb caucus, the Mostar City Council has adopted a conclusion saying that, if it proves impossible to fill the positions through internal vacancies due to lack of personnel coming from the lines of the Serb people, external vacancies will be published as well. Mostar Mayor Hamdija Jahic admits the situation adding that all further steps will be taken in cooperation and coordination with the OHR. He claims that he will advocate respect of the principle of equal representation of peoples, adding these problems are of technical nature exclusively.

BIH Prosecutor's Office didn't raise any charges, because the investigation showed that the crash was an accident.

SD interview with a Croat Self-Rule indictee Petar Milic	Slobodna Dalmacija, pg 14 ‘Covic was more important, but he is not being tried’, by Zoran Zekic – carries an interview with Petar Milic, who is a part of group of seven people that will be charged with events related to the Croat self-rule from 2001. Milic believes that the whole process is politically rigged because “the IC is conducting and forcing the BiH Court to start the proceedings and punish everyone who starts speaking about the freedom of the Croat people”. Milic also wonders why charges were only pressed against 7 of them, since there were other senior officials involved in the issue. As an example, Milic says Dragan Covic (member of BiH Presidency) was more senior than him, which leads him to say that the IC is involved because it can control people that can be blackmailed

investigations
around CIPS
irregularities

RTSR by Daliborka Predragovic – The State Prosecutor Ahmed Halebic confirmed that investigation on issuing forged documents within the CIPS project could last for a year. BiH Prosecution says that those arrested in Banja Luka CIPS office are “small players” compared to those they worked for. Official authorities feel that CIPS project is not in danger, but they don’t deny that the criminal activities in connection to it exist. “There are attempts of crime. There is a great interest in falsified visas, for instance for Chinese or other people, they pay 5000 US dollars for it. Similar situation is with some other documents”, Safet Halilovic BiH Minister of Civil Affairs says. “We have a group of 30 000 potential people who didn’t exist in the old database. There could be manipulations with those documents. It isn’t such a problem to go to every one of those addresses. We are not China or Brazil”, Mirko Skrbic Director of CIPS Direction says. RTRS journalist wondered that if CIPS was suppose to provide unique database and stop the misuses, than how can so many false documents be issued. Boris Divjak from Transparency International BiH believes that problems of false documents shouldn’t have happened. In his opinion that doesn’t justify costs of the project paid by BiH citizens, who had also an aim to make traveling easier. But, according to Divjak, the real problems will most probably occur after this. He adds that we might have to replace the documents one more time and declare 40 million dollars to be a failed investment

CIPS denies BHT 1 that 200.000 documents could be forged	Oslobodjenje pg 8 ‘We do not have information on forging’, Dnevni Avaz pg 9 ‘200.000 documents is not forged’ – The CIPS project directorate on Tuesday refuted claims that it had confirmed to BHT1 the existence of 200,000 forged documents of persons who have were killed or went missing during the war and 35,000 documents of those who were not born in BiH. A statement by the CIPS project directorate says that only the BiH Prosecution is responsible for giving information on the number of forgeries. The latest official information of the relevant authorities, which the directorate has received, suggests that it was established that 70 cases out of the two million issued documents were forgeries beyond any doubt.
Transparency International says CIPS not transparent project	Dnevni Avaz pg 9 ‘It is not impossible that falsifications are made consciously’ by M. Vidovic – The Director of the Transparency International, Boris Divjak, warns that a number of issues were not clear or transparent about the CIPS project. Along that line, Divjak mentions that the project never had a transparent procedure of the purchasing equipment, but that Siemens got the job at the time when the “high representatives was an Austrian.” Commenting to the cases of forged CIPS documents in Banja Luka , Divjak believes that the officials of the Public Security Centres play a big role in that, as they also carry out duties of CIPS officer. “There is no enough of the responsibility of entity MoIs, responsibility is not defined and they keep blaming each other,” Divjak says.
