Comments on Kadric's statement: RS CoP to raise issue of vital national interests?

Dnevni Avaz pg 4 'RS Government in resignation will still function for a long time' by J. Stojanovic – Following the statement by the Speaker of RS Council of Peoples, Ramzija Kadric, that the Council may block the appointment of the new RS Government, DA brings several reactions. The Deputy Speaker of the Council, Momir Malic, says that if issue of protection of vital national interests is raised the current RS Government in resignation will have to continue working for a long time. He explains that this issue would have to be solved before the RS Constitutional Court who still has not appointed a justice to replace one of the judges who passed away. Second Deputy Speaker, Tomislav Tomljenovic, says that the issue of vital national interests will certainly be raised if the new RS Government is not established in accordance with the RS Constitution. Head of Serb Caucus in the Council, Desanka Radjevic, says this issue can be raised only if new Govt fails to nominate five Bosniaks and three Croats.

He explains that RS President, Dragan Cavic, has never consulted on this issue or when nominating Pero Bukejlovic to the position of RS Prime Minister-designate. "Constituent peoples should have influence over the election of the Government's members and therefore I am not surprised with the stance of RS Council of Peoples' Speaker, Ramzija Kadric, who said that issue of protection of vital national interests must be launched after the election of new Government at the RSNA. Bosniaks and Croats must be consulted, and not just observers in such important process," said Tomljenovic.

Dokic blocks
Vc corridor construction

NTV Hayat –NTV Hayat says that Bosmal company gave a promise that construction of Vc corridor would start until January 2005 if the company is elected, however nothing has been done on that issue. Hayat says that reason is that BiH Minister of Transport and Communications in resignation, Branko Dokic, pursues with construction of the highway Banja Luka – Gradiska and at the same time directly blocks building of Vc. Following the meeting of Canadian company “BosCan” with BiH authorities [please see Round-ups for January 14 and 15], Hayat features company’s representative, Eric Sana, who said that BosCan is prepared to directly invest between 2.5 and 3 billion Euros together with Bosmal. Bosmal gave the offer to CoM in June 2003, after what they were given a deadline to find €300 millions, and Hayat comments that notwithstanding that these means were collected, negotiations on concession have never started. Edin Sabanovic, Executive Director of “Bosmal”, said that they fulfilled their part of the deal, but since the Commission for Concessions still doesn’t exist, as CoM have not yet appointed the chairman, the project is on hold. Member of the Concession Commission, Milomir Amovic, said that appointment of the Chair was slow process. Izet Bajrambasic, Deputy Minister of Transport and Communications, comments that Bosmal’s offer was premature, adding that they should address to the Commission for Concessions.

Omeragic – At the end of the last year, the BiH Parliament tasked the Council of Ministers to prepare changes to the new regulations on excise, which should protect domestic production of the high-tariff goods and increase the tax on luxurious goods, by the end of January. Members of the BiH Parliament’s Commission for Finances and Budget, Seada Palavric [SDA] and Beriz Belkic [Party for BiH], said that if CoM doesn’t change the law increasing taxes on planes, yachts, expensive watches, mobiles or diamantes, the Commission itself will prepare changes.

Polovina-Mandic– SBiH representative in the BiH House of Representatives Beriz Belkic stated that fear of BiH producers that domestic production will be shut down due to application of a new Law on Excise is completely grounded. He added that almost all legal projects in BiH are being passed under pressure of deadlines and that he has been referring for a long time to the fact that BiH does not have a commanding room from which reforms are being run. Belkic also said he was hoping that the OHR is capable of doing it, however, he has got convinced that the OHR does not run the reforms and that everything is being done partly and in an unsynchronized manner. Belkic concludes that for this reason it is quite normal that bad results are being achieved.

Biscevic commented that this is not a stance of the Croatian Government, and stressed that it is a mutual interest of both countries is to work together on economic development. Haris Silajdzic commented that media from neighbouring countries regularly make accusations against BiH authorities, who protect BiH interests, treating them as the ‘junior partner’ who cannot do thing on its own. Silajdzic added that he would continue to draw attention to Aluminij company, saying that it is still a state company, owned by FBiH Government, where people are being discriminated on ethnic grounds. Aluminij, says Silajdzic, was privatized improperly and not even a single financial inspection has managed to get inside.
