RS Government stressed that in line with the BiH Constitution and Law on Government, it would continue to implement political decisions passed at RS NA session, and it will also support RS MoI activities related to this Law.

Ashdown: RS Government, SDS should be held responsible for failure of police reform	RHB, BHT, Pink, Hayat, FTV, RTRS, Dnevni Avaz cover page 'RS in isolation, price to be paid by whole BiH', pg 2 'Responsibility lies with RS Government and the party established by Radovan Karadzic', Oslobodjenje cover page, pgs 4-5 'Ashdown gave up on transferring powers', Dnevni List, pg 5, mentioned on front 'SDS responsible for future of BiH', by Mensud Zorlak, Vecernji List, pg 3 'Ashdown: Isolate RS!', pg 24 'Ashdown postpones transfer of authorities onto BiH institutions', mentioned on front 'Transfer of authorities onto BiH institutions postponed', by Dejan Jazvic, Slobodna Dalmacija, back pg 'RS National Assembly blocks transfer of authorities', by B. Susic, Glas Srpske cover pg splash 'Paddy threatening again' by N.Z., Vecernje Novosti pg 5 'They work against people' by D. Stojkovic, FENA – By rejecting the police reform in BiH in line with the European model on Monday evening, the RS National Assembly turned its back on the future of BiH, and in doing so, blocked BiH's path to the European Union, said the High Representative, Paddy Ashdown. The High Representative told a press conference in Sarajevo on Tuesday that this decision of RSNA is damaging not only for this BiH Entity, but also for every citizen. He said that the main responsibility for this wasted opportunity lies firmly and squarely with the RS Government – and especially with its majority ruling party, the Serb Democratic Party (SDS). Ashdown stressed that he personally cannot break this logjam, because the European Commission has, quite rightly, said that getting to Europe means BiH politicians doing it, not the High Representative. However, Ashdown announced that some consequences would follow quickly, but did not wish get into the detail, stressing that he never speculates about them in advance. He said that it is necessary to see whether the RS Government and SDS can find a way to overcome this situation and show the citizens and the international community whether they are for Europe or for isolation. "BiH's path to Europe will remain closed as long as the RS Government is not prepared to accept European standards," said the High Representative, adding that BiH now is the only country in the Western Balkans that does not have a contractual relation with the EU. Ashdown said that due to the latest police reform failure, he had given up on initiatives leading to transfer of his powers to BiH state institutions.
SDS party rejects blame for police reform failure, says will of a constituent people must be respected	ONASA – Vice-president of the Serb Democratic Party (SDS) Mladen Bosic on Tuesday rejected claims that this party was to blame to the failure of police reforms in BiH. "The statements, such as accusing the SDS for the failure of reforms, could be interpreted as transferring of responsibility for the obvious failure of those who wanted to implement reforms, but only in accordance with their own model," Bosic told ONASA. He added that "nothing can be solved with accusing" but simply "the political will of one of the constituent peoples in BiH must be accepted."
RSNA Speaker says police reform impossible without true compromise	Pink, BHT, Hayat, FTV, RTRS, Oslobodjenje pgs 4 and 5 'Authority claims that they are not against reforms, while opposition demands compromise' by O. Vukovic, ONASA – Speaker of the Republika Srpska (RS) National Assembly Dusan Stojicic said on Tuesday that last night's conclusions of the RS National Assembly did not mean "no" to the process of the police reform in BiH. Stojicic emphasized it was not realistic to expect the RS National Assembly to make a different decision at Monday's session because the previous work on the issue of the police reform did not give results in the sense of a complete political compromise, which would, according to him, be easy to implement within institutions of the RS. He said that 62 delegates supported the conclusions, including the strongest opposition party – the Alliance of Independent Social Democrats (SNSD). According to Stojicic, that shows that there is a political consensus in the RS related to issues important for the RS. He said that a true compromise on the police reform must exist within BiH, which means the respect of a minimum of interests of all in BiH, each of the three constitutive peoples in both entities. "If there is no compromise, such solutions could be imposed, they could be found in some other way, but they are not good for this country and its future. In that sense, I believe that the message we sent through the conclusions of the RS National Assembly will be understood in that way and I expect that the talks will be continued," Stojicic said. He said he does not expects any of the sanctions, measures or consequences from international representatives, because "no one should force the RS on the European road – it has chosen it by itself." Commenting on Monday's statement of RS President Dragan Cavic that he is personally oriented towards the European road, Stojicic emphasized that was a politically responsible statement, which is not different from the RS National Assembly's conclusions.

DNS Kalabic, SDS on RSNA stands on police reform	Oslobodjenje pgs 4 and 5 ‘Authority claims that they are not against reforms, while opposition demands compromise’ by O. Vukovic – Commenting on the police reform issue, DNS representative Drago Kalabic stated that ruling parties brought the reform process to a blind alley and for this reason the RS Government and BiH Council of Ministers should say what would be the next steps. Talking about possible moves of the International Community, Kalabic said that ‘it would be interesting to watch behavior of foreign representatives towards RS President Dragan Cavic, who has been their favorite so far’. He added: ‘The attitude towards Cavic and BiH Foreign Minister Mladen Ivanic would determine the stand towards RS ruling parties.’ Osl. inset under headline ‘SDS without comment’ carries that SDS representatives were not willing to give comments after the RSNA’s session.

BiH CoM Chair Terzic says RSNA obstructing police reform	BHT – BiH Council of Ministers Chairman Adnan Terzic believe that Monday’s RS National Assembly’s decision is nothing but an obstruction and unnecessary waste of time. “Those RS NA conclusions tell us two things: they are ready for the police reform process – but they are not ready for the Europe. But in that case – what’s the point of police reconstruction?”, added Terzic.

Reactions in RS/Serbian press to RSNA conclusions on police reform	Nezavisne Novine pg 2 'RS authority brought RS before isolation' by D.K. – Apart from carrying statement of Stojicic (Glas Srpske pg 5 'Agreement is necessary' by Z.Ma.), Kalabic daily brings some other reactions of local politicians onto police reform. Petar Djokic, SP RS President, stated that the ruling composition in RS should face responsibility for the cowardice and absence of courage to announce the truth to the people, noting that stances Cavic had on this issue varied. Milorad Dodik, SNSD President, said that RS authority is to face all the responsibility, adding it is up to them to comment on further developments and possible consequences for the RS. Milenko Antasevic, PDP delegate at RS NA, said: "I hope there will be no sanctions and that the IC officials would acknowledge local politicians should resolve their problems, instead of seeing solutions imposed to them." Adil Osmanovic, SDA Vice President, (Glas Srpske pg 5 'A bad move') said: "RS NA conclusions are disappointing and disastrous, since those symbol the clear "NO" to European integration of BiH." Beriz Belkic, Party for BiH Presidency member, says responsibility rests with the leaders of political parties from RS. He also added that "EU representatives should be called for further dialogue, in order to resume police reform process, since it is inevitable." Svetlana Cenic, RS Finance Minister, rejected HR's accusations, adding: "It is inappropriate to accuse RS Government for police reform failure, since Government did not attend Vlasic meeting, but politicians did. Ministers do not run policy, but instead MP's." Glas Srpske cover page 'Nothing new' by Z.Ma. – Apart from carrying Cenic statement, daily also carries some other statements. Petar Kunic, Professor at Banja Luka Faculty of Law, stated that Tuesday's statement of HR demonstrated Paddy Ashdown's undemocratic approach towards situation in BiH, adding: "Ashdown should know that tasks such as police reform on these principles cannot be placed before RS in such a manner." He added that RS would go to Europe when it wishes, instead of crawling in front of Ashdown and his likes. Stanko Pivasevic, SDS Spokesperson, stated: "The HR's move could have been expected, since any progressive move SDS made is forgotten and disdained. Everything we do in order to preserve Dayton Agreement is viewed as obstruction of BiH integration into EU." Krstan Simic, Head of SNSD Caucus at RS NA, said: "is of the view that it is HR's right to give assessments he wishes, adding: "The ways leading to Europe differ. We want to go to Europe and we will go towards it." Glas Srpske pg 5 'Serious consequences', EuroBlic RSpg 1 inset "SDA: SDS slammed the door" – carry statement of Tarik Sadovic, Head of SDA Caucus at RS NA, assessing that RS NA conclusions would result in "serious consequences". Glas Srpske pg 5 'Call for punishment' – The BiH Forum of Parliamentarians expects from the international community to firmly reach for measures to penalize individuals, structures and parties in RS over the rejection of police reform., it also demands from HR to immediately dismiss from duty Dragan Cavic and Pero Bukejlovic. EuroBlic RSpg 1 'Investments fail, visas and isolation remain' by EuroBlic team – Daily carries statement of HR, Ivanic, Cenic, Krstan Simic, Marko Pavic from DNS (who claims that story on police reform is still open and talks should resume), Milanko Mihajlica, President of SRS (saying that Parliament stance could have been expected, since it represented the will of people).

Political Developments

Nedeljni
Telegraf:
Division of Balkans

Nedeljni Telegraf pg 7, 8 & 9 'Hellish scenario for breaking up Serbia, BiH, Macedonia and Croatia' – Nedeljni Telegraf reports that last week London's Institute for political studies issued an analysis of tailoring the Balkans' borders. The analysis undoubtedly says that Serbia , Bosnia , Macedonia and Croatia would not remain in their current borders. The Institute for political studies proposes a new, radical division of former Yugoslavia .

According to the proposal, Serbia should get Vukovar, Beli Manastir, Erdut, Borovo and the RS, and Croatia would get Herzegovina including Mostar. Parts of Vojvodina populated mostly with Hungarians would join to Hungary , and those parts populated mostly with Croats should join to Croatia . Serbia should give up Sandzak, and Montenegro should allow Rozaje and Plevlja to join Sandzak region. The Institute also proposes that Serbia gives up Presevo, Bujanovac and Medvedja allowing these municipalities to join Kosovo that would join Albania . In exchange Serbia should get Leposavic, Zubin Potok and Zvečan populated with Serbs. Western parts of Macedonia should join Albania , and the rest parts of Macedonia would become an independent 'Republic Ilindenska Macedonia '. A sort of Muslim's region 'Bosnjakija' would be created in BiH. After all of these territorial exchanges, Serbia , Montenegro , Sandzak and Bosnjakija should form a confederation called Yugoslavia . However, the Institute does not stop here, there is more 'border tailoring'. Slovenia should give to Croatia villages where Croats live, and in exchange Croatia should give up the idea to control nuclear power plant Krsko. Furthermore, the Institute proposes a new, international conference of Versailles ' type, that would in details discuss this border tailoring.

They say that Brcko District is asking for is recognition of the District institutions by the state and entities, and that the District has never been considered as an isolated part of BiH by people in Brcko. Dnevni Avaz quotes Sontheim saying 'the status of Brcko District, as a unit of the local self-management under the sovereignty of BiH, will not be changed regardless the conclusions of the Arbitral Tribunal session in London on 13 and 14 June.' He added that loyalty of the District and its readiness to support reforms in BiH should not be doubt.
