Talks on police reform to be continued in Sarajevo today	BHT, Hayat, Oslobođenje pg 5 'Continuation of talks on police reform', Dnevni Avaz pg 2 'Negotiators from Vlasic to continue talks at Konak residence today', Vecernji List pg 3 'Future in map' by dj – The BiH political leaders are expected to resume talks on police reform in BiH in Sarajevo on Monday. Leaders of 11 political parties have been invited to participate in continuation of the talks on the issue started on the Mountain of Vlasic last month. The talks will be co-chaired by Adnan Terzic, the chairman of the Council of Ministers, and the High Representative, Paddy Ashdown. Police reform in BiH is an EU's condition for start of negotiations on Stabilization and Association Agreement with BiH. RTRSReport by Aida Halilovic – High Representative (HR) Paddy Ashdown stated that second round of talks on Police Reform should commence on Monday. HR stated that in the following week 11 political parties will decide on future of BIH. "RS has to decide whether RS wants to follow the example of neighbouring countries and chooses the path toward EU or to refuse everything" said Ashdown. British Ambassador to BIH Mathew Rycroft expressed hopes that SDS with their leader Dragan Cavic will follow that path toward EU. "RS is not risking anything if it accepts the proposed solutions but there is danger if it refuses to do so" said Rycroft.

EU's Solana: Vlastic means nothing without completion of the agreement on police reform	Dnevni Avaz pg 5 'BiH Constitution will have to be changed', mentioned on cover 'Every lost day a present to criminals' – In an interview with the daily, EU High Representative for Common Foreign and Security Policy Javier Solana says he is pleased about the constructive efforts made by BiH politicians at the Vlastic negotiations – but this will all mean nothing if BiH political leaders are unable to complete an agreement when the talks continue this week. "Until your parliaments have agreed a final political agreement we cannot view the process (of police reform) as complete. Vlastic provided a structure, which will vest legislative and budgetary competencies at state level, meeting the first EC principle. This goes part of the way to ensuring that there can be no political interference in operational policing. What remains now is for local police regions to be applied in functional areas, so as to achieve technically efficient policing," emphasized Solana.

SDP stressed it would not accept agreement on police reform if other parties insist on the existence of the police committee. SNSD said it still had not reached a final decision on participation in negotiations, while the Party for BiH would participate in it and plead for organization of the police in five regions. This (inter-entity lines as basis for making police regions) would represent giving up on reforms and further maintaining of political influence on policing, which would be an obstacle to proper combating crime, and a means for protection of criminals", said Tihic before Monday's continuation of talks between the 11 political parties on police reform in BiH. The pressures of the obstructing forces from RS, which perhaps enjoy the support or understanding of a part of the international community, are worrying, added Tihic.

According to Cavic, the RS and its officials will become the target of sanctions and stage-managed political campaigns. Cavic told Sunday's edition of the Belgrade-based Vecernje Novosti daily that a crisis was inevitable regardless of the outcome of the police reform process. He said he had been thinking about resigning because he did not want to be "the murderer of the RS". "Chaos will break out in the RS. Many people will be forced off the political scene and the survival of the government is in question. The situation is dramatic and it could lead to a great explosion. I am prepared to do anything but I will not be the executioner of the RS," said Cavic. He said he was aware of the possibility of stage-managed political campaigns being launched against him or anyone else in the RS. "Everything is possible – including sackings, prison and persecution," Cavic emphasized. Cavic said his resignation had not been ruled out as an option and added that he did not want to pour oil on the fire. Cavic said that European Commission representatives would arrive in BiH as early as 19 May. Cavic said he could not be an optimist regarding future events, if their assessment of the police reform was negative. Does the RS have to disappear on the road to Europe is the question which is being directly imposed now, Cavic said, adding that the RS was prepared to work on finding a formula allowing the state of BiH to control the police structures. Cavic said that repressive measures against the Serb Democratic Party (SDS) were a certainty. "We are not prepared to abolish the Dayton organization of the country. We have had to swallow hard on many occasions, we have adopted many difficult decisions and we have suffered public criticism but I have always known that I am not acting against the interests of the country," Cavic said.
