BiH HoR on set of housing related laws	RHB, BH Radio 1 by Ljiljana Radl – At a session in Sarajevo today, the FBiH House of Representatives is discussing amendments to the law on privatisation of apartments that are expected to finally resolve the destiny of so called nationalised apartments (private housing units nationalised after the Second World War by then communist government). The authorized FBiH minister, Ramiz Mehmedagic, said in his introductory remarks that the Government-proposed solutions represented a mixture of natural and financial restitution. According to the proposal, only occupancy right holders living in the apartments initially owned by legacies, foundations such as Vakuf will not have right to purchase/privatise their apartments. They will get alternative accommodation/housing units similar to their current ones. Initial owners of all other nationalised apartments will get appropriate financial compensation. The discussion on the issue is underway.

Ashdown: I said 'time is not yet right' for renaming SA airport into 'AlijaIzetbegovicAirport'

BHT1, Hayat, FTV, RTRS, RHB, Oslobođenje cover splash, pg 3 'I said it is not time to change the name of airport' by O.S., Dnevni Avaz pg 2, mentioned on cover 'I have not equalized Izetbegovic and Karadzic', nevni List, pg 4 'I did not say 'no' to change of name of airport', not signed, Vecernji List, pg 3 'It is not yet time to rename airport', by R. A., Slobodna Dalmacija, pg 14 'It is not time yet', by D. P., Nezavisne Novine pg 4 'Opinion of all citizens is important' by S. Gojkovic, Glas Srpske pg 5 'Is there a pilot in the plane' by N. G., EuroBlic pg RS2 'Name after Alija was suspended' by D. S. – Regarding the debate on renaming the SarajevoAirport to AlijaIzetbegovicAirport, the HR Paddy Ashdown issued a statement denying he said "no" to changing the name of the Airport. "I said that 'time is not yet right' for this. I hope that some day it will be possible to honor Alija Izetbegovic in this way. In this concrete case I did not equalize and will not equalize Izetbegovic and Karadzic. One is a recognized leader of his people, and the other is an indicted war crime suspect", reads the statement. He also makes a difference between changing the name of an international airport and changing the name of some street or square. "Changing the name of the SarajevoAirport calls for a wider debate, and it is necessary to take into consideration the opinions of citizens from across the country as well as the stands of citizens of its capital. As I have also stated, there is nothing to prevent the change of name of the Liberation Square," reads the statement issued following the extraordinary SDA session that harshly criticized "decision to annul renaming of the airport". SDA also said that by passing such decision the HR had lost SDA support, adding it has equalised Izetbegovic and Karadzic. At the time, Sulejman Tihic has announced that the Board in charge of marking the 2nd anniversary of Izetbegovic's death will decide on Monday on possibility to hold protests in front of the airport. Slobodna Dalmacija, pg 14 'Alija Izetbegovic 'erased' from runway', by Dinko Pasic – reports on SDA reaction.

Z. – Upon HR's reaction on a letter signed by Borislav Paravac and other Serb representatives, which was sent to HR Paddy Ashdown, Javier Solana and EC Delegation Head Michael Humphreys, Paravac's advisor Drago Vukovic said the letter only points on facts with regard to Alija Izetbegovic and his acts and he added that HR's strong reaction might represent 'search for an equilibrium for his decision to suspend striving of Bosniak representatives of authorities to name the Sarajevo airport after Alija Izetbegovic'.
Oslobodjenje op-ed on Sarajevo airport: SDA should have not played with name of Izetbegovic	Oslobodjenje pg 9 'Airport' by Senka Kurtovic – Writing about Sulejman Tihic statement regarding Paddy Ashdown (following HR's decision to suspend change of name of Sarajevo airport), the author notes that Tihic' statement, which is expression of anger and defeat, could have been expected, since HR's decision made it clear nothing can be done in this state without HR. She claims HR has been applying double standards every since he assumed post. She concludes by saying that on the eve of marking Alija Izetbegovic' death, the scandal of this kind should not have happened, stressing that SDA should not have played with the name of Izetbegovic.
NN op-ed on Sarajevo airport: Wider action required	Nezavisne Novine op-ed pg 7 'Wider action' by Dragan Risojevic – In regard to the change of name of Sarajevo airport, the author notes that HR Paddy Ashdown – slightly unexpectedly – decided the name would not be changed, which resulted in anger and sorrow of Sulejman Tihic. However, Risojevic notes that this decision will not alienate relations between SDA and HR. he further notes that suspension of decision to re-name airport should represent beginning of a wider action throughout BiH, in order to ensure that all peoples of BiH feel like living under the same roof (referring to other names of streets, squares, and akin which might disturb any of three constitutive peoples of BiH).

past

He adds the most important task in the coming years for BiH will be to develop the economy of BiH, which will always be multi-ethnic and de-centralised state. According to inset, he sees no link between talks on change of BiH Constitution and settlement of Kosovo issue.

DA op-ed on linking constitutional changes in BiH and Kosovo
status

Dnevni Avaz pg 3 'Dreams and illusions on Great Serbia' op-ed by Sead Turcalo – Editorial refers to the efforts of the SCG leadership, who faces problems with status of Kosovo and Montenegrin announcements on independency referendum, to link the Kosovo with the RS statuses. He says that RS Academy has joined in this lobbying, calling for constitutional changes to wait for the solution on Kosovo which than would also be applied in the RS. Author deems that this idea has failed long time ago, which is also known to its creators.

"However, behind all these dangerous concepts is another effort by the Serbian politicians and their fellows in the RS to use those who are naïve to dream about one state for all Serbs. In this way former Karadzic's ministers, now including "Academy"... are trying to prevent their supporters... to see how the great-nationalistic ideas are dead," says the author concluding that RS citizens are only left with accepting that BiH is their only homeland.

HSP Advisor in Croatia, former Croatian Foreign Minister, Mate Granic, attended at the session and stressed that the best solution for BiH would be if it consisted of 8 provinces. Granic also stated that 3rd entity in BIH is not a realistic since no country in the world supports such concept, including Croatia. He added that every mention of 3rd entity is very damaging for Croats in BIH and stressed that HSP Croatia will send an initiative to Croatian Government to get involved in constitutional changes in BIH.

Raguz (HDZ) on police reform: 'Cantonal MoIs will share destiny of entity ones'	Dnevni List, pg 4 'Cantonal MoIs will share destiny of entity ones', by Ivica Glibusic – Commenting on the agreement on police reform that was adopted by the BiH House of Representatives on Friday, the chamber's Deputy Speaker, Martin Raguz (HDZ), explains that the HDZ proposed two conclusions, the aim of which is to clarify a few issues. The first conclusion requests that the cantonal MoIs share the same destiny as the entity MoIs, which was not approved by MPs from the RS. Raguz explains that the conclusion is now being harmonized in the HoR's Collegium, and if the Collegium does not reach a consensus, the conclusion will be put up for voting during the next session, therefore there is a realistic chance for the conclusion to get the necessary two-thirds majority. The second conclusion, which requires the BiH CoM to inform the BiH HoR about the course of police reform in a regular manner, was adopted.

VL on police reform: McElhaney's intervention saved RS	Vecernji List, pg 2 'McElhaney's intervention saved RS', by Dejan Jazvic – The article reads that the US will have a direct supervision over the police reform restructuring in BiH, which the US diplomacy took upon itself during the last session of the Peace Implementation Council Steering Board. Furthermore, VL claims to have learned from several domestic and international sources in Sarajevo that it was the US Ambassador Douglas McElhaney who gave the RS one last chance to agree to the 3 EU principles. Apparently, the High Representative, Paddy Ashdown, with consent of the EU, had been ready to punish the RS PM, Pero Bukejlovic, and RS Interior Minister, Darko Matijasevic, when the Americans asked that the RS be given another chance.
