War crimes

Oslobodjenje: Genocide was committed in East Sarajevo, Pale and Foca?!	Oslobodjenje cover pg splash and pgs 4 and 5 ‘Genocide was committed in Eastern Sarajevo, Pale and Foca?!’ by N. Idrizovic – With regard to 8 war crime suspects who were arrested by the RS Ministry of Interior on Monday, Oslobodjenje lists crimes that these persons are charged with. The author of the article also says that transferring of such serious crimes to domestic courts represents recognition of the domestic judiciary and confidence that BiH courts can do this task in an honest and high-quality way. An inset in Oslobodjenje under headline ‘Another 200 bills of indictment!’ says that according to Oslobodjenje sources there is panic in the RS since according to unconfirmed information about 200 arrest warrants against war crime suspects who hide in the RS were issued in the Federation of BiH.
Hartmann, Ahmic on RS MoI actions on arrest of war crime suspects	Oslobodjenje pg 4 ‘RS MoI has not brought single criminal before ICTY’ by A. Omeragic carries Spokesperson of the ICTY Prosecution Florence Hartmann who welcomed the action of the RS MoI carried out on Monday during which 8 war crime suspects were arrested, however, she also reminded that the RS police has not arrested yet a single indictee that the ICTY is looking for. Bosniak Liaison Officer for Relations with the ICTY Amir Ahmic also believes that during the aforementioned action the RS MoI has arrested ‘executors of crimes’ and reminded that there are over 1000 of them in BiH. He added that according to his opinion by this attempt the RS MoI is trying to avoid sanctions before ICTY Chief Prosecutor Carla del Ponte submits a new report on cooperation with the ICTY.

NN: Update to 8 arrested persons	Nezavisne Novine, cover and pg. 3 'BiH Prosecutor's Office will takeover a part of cases' by A. Sisic – BiH Prosecutor's Office will takeover the processing of several cases of persons indicted of war crimes from among the eight arrested on Monday, as the Sarajevo Canton Prosecutor's Office confirmed on Tuesday.
NN op-ed on arrest of 8 war crimes indictees	Nezavisne Novine op-ed pg 7 'A symbolic praise' by Josip Blazevic – The author comments on the most recent action of the RS police, which resulted in the arrest of eight persons war crimes suspects. He notes this is a first positive step forward of the RS authorities in the cooperation with the Hague Tribunal, adding this was just an action and nothing beyond it, implying the action has not resulted from determination of RS authorities to do so, but instead aimed at alleviating the threats against RS coming from the Occident diplomatic circles. He adds that judging by initial reactions from the international organisations, this action of arrest would not even partially free RS of the mortgage regarding cooperation with the ICTY.
SFOR expects ICTY indictees to be arrested as well	FTV, Nezavisne Novine, pg. 3 'SFOR welcomed the arrests', EuroBlic, pg. RS3 'SFOR praises RS police' by D. 'Hague indictees closer to face justice', Dnevni Avaz pg 2 'Attacks on criminal networks to start' – "The asset freeze announced by the EU today is another measure which will restrict the space in which those who are avoiding justice can operate. It underlines the EU's support of the ICTY mandate," said the High Representative, Paddy Ashdown, on Tuesday following the Council of the European Union's Decision to freeze all the assets of 18 ICTY indictees. "This Decision underlines that we are no longer waiting but are attacking these criminal networks root and branch", said the High Representative. The High Representative hopes that the BiH Institutions will, as earlier, declare their support for this joint action and without delay freeze the assets of the eighteen individuals named by the EU today. "The European future of BiH depends on its willingness to co-operate with, support and uphold the ICTY. This country has a special interest in promoting these measures. The BiH authorities must take action to honor their said commitments. Not to do so would send a negative signal. It is absolutely essential for the BiH authorities to show they are serious about ICTY co-operation," emphasized the High Representative.

VL argues that because of tense relations within the ruling majority, especially because of pressures coming from the SBiH, the issue of budget re-balance could be used by the SBiH MPs as an excuse to launch an attack on the FBiH Finance Minister, Dragan Vrankic, which is in fact a retaliation for the rejection of the SBiH's initiative regarding the changes to the Law on privatization and revision in the 'Aluminij' Company of Mostar.

VL: Dayton II in Geneva next year	Vecernji List, pg 4 'Continuation of Dayton next year at Geneva', by Zoran Kresic – VL reads that the association called 'Bosnia and Herzegovina 2005', which advocates closing down of the "Paddy Ashdown's Office in Sarajevo" , confirms that everything is ready for organization of the 'Dayton II' conference that would take place in Geneva next year, which would result in BiH relying more on its forces en route to the EU. According to VL, the conference is being announced by the Institute for War and Peace Reporting (IWPR), and according to Christoph Solioz, the executive director of the 'BiH 2005' Association, the OHR should close down in 2005 and transfer most of its powers to domestic authorities. VL goes on to say that HR Ashdown, despite supporting the exit strategy of the IC in principle, is against a new peace conference that would decide about the future of institutions of BiH and of his office. "Dayton II is out of question", Ashdown stated recently, reads VL. Furthermore, VL says that HR Ashdown supports gradual decreasing of authorities of the OHR, however he is not doing it fully in practice. PDHR Hays says foreign investors are waiting for introduction
of VAT in BiH

Oslobodjenje pg 8, mentioned on cover 'Practical, just and efficient', Dnevni Avaz pg 4 'To create an efficient control of public revenues', Vecernji List, pg 2 'Foreign investors waiting for introduction of VAT', by ds, FENA – There are certain foreign investors who are prepared to invest in BiH immediately after the introduction of VAT, which would result in creating several thousand new jobs overnight, the Principal Deputy High Representative, Donald Hays, told a group of BiH economic journalists on Tuesday.
Expressing support to introduction of a single VAT rate, Hays said that, at the very beginning, BiH should have a simple VAT system that is easier to monitor. He rejected the claims that the introduction of VAT with a single rate of 17 percent means that the prices of all products would go up by 17 percent. "BiH annually loses 1.5 billion KM due to corruption, incompetence and lack of political will to collect the taxes, and each system that collects more funds will provide the citizens with more opportunities. Thus, every answer to the question on whether VAT is a more efficient and justified system is – positive," said Hays. Hays said that on basis of the previous debate, he believes that the International Monetary Fund and the World Bank would insist with the prime ministers in BiH that they work on designing the relevant social programmes simultaneously with introducing VAT.

The Union states that the amendments would condemn Aluminij to the fate of the Agrokomerc enterprise, which was 'robbed by the state' through a revision. "The employees of Aluminij will never allow this to happen. It is the workers who revived this enterprise, while the state, which wants 51% of the enterprise capital, did not invest a single mark," the Union said, adding that the state unfortunately wants to destroy the enterprise. "The Government does not even want an international arbitration, even after two revisions by the OHR," the Union said. As the most obvious example, the daily cites the Srebrenica case, claiming that numerous NGOs, helped by domestic and international officials, laundered more than 100 million Euros worth of donations.
