Round-table on possible Dayton Peace Agreement changes	RHB, Nezavisne novine pg 5 'BiH Constitution should be changed', Slobodna Dalmacija pg 17 'Serbs do not give up Dayton', Dnevni List front, pg 2 'Abolish entities, transfer authority onto state and cantons', Vecernji List front 'Pack: Dayton agreement needs re-examining', pg 2 'D. Pack: Dayton does not really set BiH's road to EU', Blic pg 12 'Through the Dayton to EU' – The foundations 'Konrad Adenauer', 'Heinrich Boll', 'Friedrich Ebert' and 'Friedrich Naumann' organized the round table on the possible changes to the Dayton Peace Agreement, which was held in Sarajevo on Monday. The session under the title 'BiH on the road to a functioning state – visions, perspectives and concepts' was attended by a number of local and international officials. Doris Pack, member of the European Parliament who recently called upon DPA changes, who opened the conference, stated that it was time to have Dayton in the agenda and to find out whether DPA enables or disables BiH's chances to be admitted to EU. Gerald Knaus, the Director of European Stability Initiative presented their initiative for changing the structure of BiH, which stipulated abolishment of FBiH and BiH organized in 12 cantons and RS, and stressed that the Constitution can only be changed by consensus and that it was necessary to start from the Constitution presently in power. It is also necessary, said Knaus, to change the role of the international community in BiH, because that what was necessary after the war, is now becoming an obstacle. The Senior Deputy High Representative, Werner Wendt, said that nine years after the signing of DPA it was the time to move forward, but also added that BiH officials never discussed this issue before. BHTV 1 – President of SDS in resignation and RSNA Speaker, Dragan Kalinic categorically rejected any possibilities for changes to the Dayton and abolishment of RS. "If District Brcko would become a RS Canton, RS would be divided into two parts, and that is totally unacceptable thing for RS and for all of us from RS", said Kalinic. "For a long time I am disagreeing with Mr. Kalinic, but I think that RS shouldn't be abolished. And in that way I haven't understood European Parliamentarians and their demand", Milorad Dodik, SNSD President. "I think that Entities should be abolished, both of them, because they are a 'brake' to development, economical development, they are 'brake' for economic reforms", said Sulejman Tihic, SDA President. "We don't consider this to be best solution and the problems evident in FBiH, as a result of truly undefined and unregulated relations among Bosniaks and Croats,...should not be solved over RS back", said Kalinic. Asked to comment the possibility of the third entity, HDZ Vice President Martin Raguz said: "For us the issue is not an entity, ...but rights of people, meaning Croat people, arranged in the same way as rights of other two peoples. Will that be through Cantons, but that that solution should be standardized". FTV – PDP Vice President, Branko Dokic, said that problem was how to convince RS citizens that they would be equal to FBiH or Brcko's citizens. He added that position of this party is that citizens should declare about reorganization on referendum. BiH political parties have agreed that reorganization is necessary, but they haven't agreed about ways it could be done. "We welcome it (the initiative) as one of possible suggestions ...for functional BiH,... to us in HDZ it is clear, and we have been saying it before, Dayton's model of BiH organization gave its results and positive one, but every day it shows its limits more and more", said Martin Raguz, "You have seen from presentation, not only from me but other representatives from RS that we are against radical change of Dayton's Agreement, that we think that this radical change would open series of new issues and drawn this country to new uncertainty", said Dragan Kalinic. "When it comes to initiative herself, there are some unclearness, there are some debatable issues. It is unclear what to do with entities' powers, do they go to Canton or to the State. Also. It is unclear why RS wasn't analysed, but only FBiH. Does that mean that RS is functioning well, if it functions well why FBiH shouldn't be one Canton. It (meaning initiative) has good points and those are abolishment of Entities, which are obviously a 'brake' and to economic development but also to the reforms we are supposed to carry out, not only for ours sake but for entrance in EU"- said Sulejman Tihic, SDA President. RTVS – "I support initiative by the European Parliament that BiH can function with RS, Brcko District and 10 Cantons. We could save 10 Million KM on administration", said Jerko Ivankovic from Party for Prosperity. Dnevni Avaz pg 4 'Tihic: Dayton has some mistakes we need to correct' – Sulejman Tihic stated for Avaz: "Dayton agreement was signed in completely different time and conditions... It has some mistakes we should correct. I expect that in a future there could be a meeting organized again, after listening to all suggestions and objections." Oslobodjenje cover, pg 5 'Ten cantons, one entity and a district' – Commenting ESI initiative, Zeljko Komsic said: "The weakness of this concept is that it gives only on the surface a way to overcome existing condition. I am afraid that it doesn't deal with national concept of the state, but with the technical modalities in order to reach necessary administration cuts."

VN interview with Cavic on changes to DPA	Vecernje novosti pg 4 'They are bringing down RS through Brcko' – The President of RS, Dragan Cavic, warned that efforts to change Dayton Peace Agreement and the BiH Constitution stipulate the idea of proclaiming Brcko District as 11th canton, which would divide RS into two parts. "In that way, BiH would have 13 cantons – ten individual ones inside FBiH, one would be Brcko, and two would be parts of divided RS", stated Cavic in an interview to VN, stressing that RS will never accept anything alike and that FBiH status change is not possible without agreement with Serb people. Asked to comment High Representative's position that change to the BiH constitution could not be imposed, but that people could voice their opinion on that, Cavic said that last such initiative was referendum in 1992 boycotted by Serbs and that trial to impose something like that upon them ended with war. "I don't believe that somebody would dare to repeat something similar", said Cavic, "The only real path is to make a right balance – RS to keep its institutional substance and, at the same time, BiH to have vital state functions by which it could meet requirements of integration processes". He also denied that he or any other SDS leader had contacts with Radovan Karadzic.
Humphreys meets RS leadership; urges actions regarding SIPA and HJPC	RTRS, Oslobođenje pg 5 'Positive moves towards European integrations', Dnevni List pg 10 'Cavic: We shall not hinder reform processes' – The Head of EC delegation in BiH, Michael Humphreys on Monday visited Banja Luka and talked to RS officials on 16 conditions laid down in the Feasibility Study that BiH must fulfil on its road towards EU, requesting better efficiency in their fulfilment. Humphreys particularly stressed the need for establishment of state High Judiciary and Prosecutor Council and State Information and Protection Agency. Dragan Cavic, RS President stated that atmosphere, more difficult than last year, was a reason for such a slow process of reforms. "I am sure that it is very important for RS to creatively participate at all levels of authorities on the fulfilment of conditions for NATO program of PfP"- said by Cavic. Blic front pg, pg 13 'RS must not be a collateral damage' – 'I am not feeling optimistic about reforms we have to implement as a preconditions for admission to Euro-Atlantic integrations, because the political atmosphere in BiH is difficult', RS President Dragan Cavic stated. Michael Humphreys assessed as positive the authority of the entities and state institutions that are working on fulfilling preconditions for European integrations. FTV, Dnevni Avaz pg 8 'RS institutions to not have enough of Bosniaks and Croats' – Head of EC delegation also met separately with the RS Vice Presidents Adil Osmanovic and Ivan Tomljenovic. He didn't want to speculate on a possible date for BiH's admission to EU, adding that it could discourage the public. Vice President Adil Osmanovic pointed the necessity for the adoption of the Law on Public Administration, adding that Ministries in RS were multiethnic while the Administration still is mono-ethnic. Vice- President Ivan Tomljenovic said, talking about the insufficient representation of Croats and Bosniaks in RS Administrations, that the situation is almost alarming. BHTV 1 – Michael Humphreys also talked to RS Minister of Interior Zoran Djerić and RS President about the police reforms. Cavic evaluated that the situation in RS in this regard was the worse than it was last year, as personal interests are prevailing. Humphreys said that most important now was to establish SIPA and Agency for fight against crime, along with HJPC. "We have agreed that reform of police is necessary in BiH, we agreed that it doesn't present negation of Interior Ministry in any case", said Zoran Djerić.
NATO and EU top officials discuss EUFOR mission to BiH	Dnevni Avaz pg 2 'Europe ready to succeed NATO' – NATO Secretary General Jaap de Hoop Scheffer and NATO Ambassadors on Monday met with EU High Representative for Foreign Policy and Security Javier Solana in order to discuss transfer of SFOR mandate in BiH to future EU forces, EUFOR. "EU troops that will eventually succeed SFOR in BiH will be equally equipped, efficient and dedicated to fulfilling their task. They should function based on Chapter VII of the UN Charter, which will also allow use of force, and defines maintenance of security situation in BiH as the main task", said Solana's spokesperson Christina Galjak. She added that the Ambassadors were also addressed by the High Representative Paddy Ashdown and SFOR Commander Virgil Packet. It was also announced that the EU led military mission, EUFOR, would be much smaller than SFOR and that it would be most probably reduced from the current 12.000 to 6.500 troops. Oslobođenje pg 2 'New umbrella for BiH' op-ed by Zija Dizdarevic – Referring to the EU's efforts to take over NATO's mandate to BiH, author writes: "Balanced presence of USA, EU and NATO is optimal solution for the state 'without its ego'... The headline in yesterday's Oslobođenje, carried from Onasa, and based upon the talk with Chief of OSCE Mission to BiH Robert Beecroft, says it all about the real situation: 'BiH is the country without a vision or a leadership.'"

IFIMES poll: BiH citizens want early elections	Nezavisne novine, page 5: "BiH citizens want new elections" – International Institute for Middle East and Balkan Studies Director, Baktijar Aljaf, based in Ljubljana, said that BiH citizens want early elections because authorities are not able to make change. Bahtijar denied that poll was ordered by opposition parties. He stated "After eight years of protectorate High Representative is not needed anymore. Politicians, not OHR, should make decisions on future of the country". Furthermore "by supporting nationalist parties in power OHR is extending it's mandate in BiH. If reformists come in power there will be no need for High Representative". On all this OHR briefly commented that law regulates elections and that High Representative does not support parties and persons but reforms. SDS and PDP consider that poll was ordered by opposition parties. "Early elections are only chance for Milorad Dodik to come back in power", stated Sinisa Djordjevic, member of PDP Main Board.
Oslobodjenje op-ed on early elections	Oslobodjenje pg 2 'Reality' op-ed by Mirko Sagolj – Referring to different initiatives which call on early elections in BiH, author writes: "Even if the early elections would be held in fall, the big question is whether they would change anything. There is no doubt that the national parties would win again... On the other hand, opposition parties, each in its own way, go through crisis and still cannot offer to voters guarantees that they would be any more successful from nationalist parties... As long as anti-nationalistic forces and parties stay speared around and divided, mainly because of career's reasons of their leaders, this country will be lead by the forces of destruction – nationalists. That is our reality."
