The investigation into this case is being conducted by an Anti-Terrorist Unit of the Federation Interior Ministry. FBiH Interior Ministry Spokesman Robert Cvrtak could not provide any details on the threats. He also could not say if the Anti-Terrorist Unit was involved in this matter. Proposing that the trial of the deputy director of Interpol BiH, Azim Fazlic, and of Senad Kobilic, be postponed, McNair said on Wednesday that the FBiH police ministry informed them of the threats, because of which the US government suggested to Smith to remain in the US. Session of the BiH Police Restructuring Commission taking place in Brcko	Herceg Bosna Radio, BHT, FTV, RTRS, Oslobođenje pg 10 'Future in a single structure', FENA – A two-day session of the BiH Police Restructuring Commission started in Brcko on Wednesday. Chairman of the Commission, Wilfred Martens, said before the session that future of BiH police was in a single police structure, but that it should be discussed further what this actually meant. "Nothing has been definitely adopted/agreed yet when it comes to organization of police forces (in BiH). We are in the core of the problems and we shall continue the discussion", said the Belgian diplomat Martens. At the recently held meeting of the Commission in Brussels Martens proposed a concept of a single police in BiH organized at 2 levels, the state and the regional ones. In such a structure there would be 5 regional seats, namely in Sarajevo, Mostar, Banja Luka , Tuzla and Zenica. BiH Minister of Security Barisa Colak said that police in BiH must be formed in accordance with European standards. It, according to him, means equalizing of material status of policemen and reducing of public expenditures for the purpose from the current 9.5 % to the European 4.5 %. Colak did not want to speak on how he envisages possible model of BiH police organization. He only said that besides the mentioned proposal from Brussels there was one of the minister of the interior of the Republika Srpska, Darko Matijasevic, under which, instead of a single BiH police, entity police forces would remain, but they would transfer a part of its authority to the state level. Dnevni Avaz pg 2 '5,000 police officers to lose jobs', Slobodna Dalmacija, pg 20 'Single Police with 5 regional ones', by M. Ashdown delivers a lecture at Centre of Islamic Studies in Oxford	Dnevni Avaz pg 5 'Tradition of tolerance in BiH is a lecture to the world after September 11', Dnevni List, pg 3 'Ashdown: Tradition of tolerance in BiH is lesson to world after September 11', by NINA – Bosnia and Herzegovina's tradition of cultural coexistence – particularly impressive when set against centuries of nearly continuous internecine warfare in Western Europe – offers a compelling lesson for the post-9/11 world, the High Representative and European Union Special Representative, Paddy Ashdown, said on Wednesday, in the course of a lecture at the Centre of Islamic Studies in Oxford. Noting that, "we in Western Europe have seen more wars – and incalculably more deaths from war – in the last five hundred years than have the countries of the Balkans," the High Representative argued that Bosnia and Herzegovina's tradition of tolerance and coexistence refutes the idea that Islamic and Christian civilizations cannot coexist. "The two live side by side in Bosnia and Herzegovina, providing the Islamic world with real experience of modern Europe, and providing Europe with a much-needed insight into the gentle, tolerant, civilized and civilizing values which are the true reality of Islam," the High Representative said. Just as BiH – notwithstanding the outbreak of nationalist chauvinism in the last decade – can point the way towards harmony between civilisations, so the post World War Two experience of countries in the EU offers a compelling model for BiH. Those countries have made war among themselves unthinkable, the High Representative said, "because the values they share – an unshakeable attachment to democracy, to an open and plural society, to the rule of law, and to freedom in economic life – are far stronger than anything that divides them."

Central Bank

Herceg Bosna Radio, Oslobođenje pg 5 'Peter Nicholl remains in Central Bank', Dnevni Avaz pg 4 'Banking Agency to be established at the state level', Dnevni List, pg 2 'Extra funds of Central bank go to budget', by D. Polovina-Mandic, Vecernji List, pg 3 'Extras from Central Bank into budget', by eme, ONASA – The BiH Presidency adopted at its session on Wednesday in Sarajevo the draft law on amendments and addenda to the law on the Central Bank of BiH (CBBH) and a report of the CBBH for the period January – September this year. Chairman of the BiH Presidency Borislav Paravac told reporters after the session that this law will be forwarded to the parliamentary procedure and that the CBBH is ordered to be an interpreter of this law in the Parliament. According to Paravac, the reason for carrying out of this law was a request of the BiH Parliamentary House of Representatives that the CBBH return part of surplus of its funds and surplus of the capital to the budget of the BiH institutions, namely to the BiH Treasury. "Several articles of the law regulate that, so conditions have been created that part of surplus of funds of the CBBH be directed towards financing of the BiH institutions," he said. "According to the CBBH Governor, these funds amount to approximately ten million KM," Paravac said, adding that the second reason for carrying out of the amendments to this law is the introduction of the supervision at the level of BiH and under the auspices of the CBBH. "The supervision and control of commercial banks function through the entity agencies for banking, and now conditions are created for their unification at one place," he said. He added that the supervision at the level of BiH will start on January 1 next year.

Avaz op-ed on review of the privatization

Dnevni Avaz, op-ed pg. 3 'Six painful issues for SDA' by Adi Hadziarapovic – The author writes about panic among tycoons caused by a discussion on possible audit of the privatization and he says those who have bought firms without a tender procedure are now trying to scare honest businessmen with an audit. 'In this way, even certain political representatives of SDA publicly say an audit of the contracts that have been signed should be undertaken. In this lies the greatest deceit of public. Namely, how to control contracts of the biggest privatization thieves, such as Hilmo Selimovic or Mijo Brajkovic when they have not bought their factories in the same manner as previously mentioned businessmen', the author writes. He claims some persons from SDA should be asked to give answers to six questions:

When, through which tender, in which competition, on base of which program and for what amount of money did Selimovic, Brajkovic or a group close to Lojo have taken over "Aluminij", FDS and "Sarajevo Brewery"? Does SDA know if there is any contract, which these persons have signed with the state on purchase of shares and which could now be a subject to an audit.

SD says OHR removes politics from privatization	Slobodna Dalmacija, pg 18 'OHR removes politics from privatization', by Zoran Zekic – Amid recent events related to the issue of revision of privatization of companies in the FBiH, Slobodna Dalmacija, speaking about the OHR's role in it, says the OHR will not allow the executive authorities to change ownership structures in companies by changing laws that regulate the privatization process. In that context, SD mentions the example of 'Aluminij' company of Mostar, saying there are efforts to take away the shareholders' property and give it to the state. SD notes that the OHR says it is important to uphold the rule of law, which means that the ownership cannot be contested by Government decrees.
Zigic on privatization of energy sector, Aluminij issue	Dnevni List, pg 7 'Privatization does not mean less jobs', by Jurislav Petrovic – The FBiH Minister of Industry and Energy, Izet Zigic, told DL that the privatization of energy sector in BiH is not something that should worry the citizens, noting that workers in the energy sector should not be afraid of the privatization itself and the impact it has on the number of jobs in the sector. Still, Minister Zigic notes it is well known that Elektroprivredas have too many employees. Commenting on charges by the Union of 'Aluminij' workers, who accused him of selective revision of privatization, Minister Zigic rejects the charges saying the only truth is that the aim is to establish the ownership structure in 'Aluminij'.

VL says sale of Zenica Steelworks full of scandalous details	Vecernji List, front pg splash and pg 7 'Zenica Steelworks gifted to Antilles', by Zoran Kresic – VL notes that the “well hidden contract” on sale of Zenica Steelworks to the ‘LNM’ Company, which talks about “incredible” investments worth 280 million US$ into the company, is nothing but a plunder of state property that was made possible by Bosniak ministers in the FBiH Government gathered around the SBiH and helped by the FBiH Prime Minister, Ahmet Hadzipasic. VL argues that details of the contract, which was never made public, stipulate that the state has to pay for all debts of the Zenica Steelworks, which amass to tens of million KMs. VL goes on to say that SBiH ministers in the FBiH Government, in order to hush the deal up, have started a media and political campaign against ‘Aluminij’ Company of Mostar. On top of this, VL says the ‘LNM’ bought the Zenica Steelworks through an off-shore company from the Antilles in order to evade paying taxes in BiH.

Leading banks in BiH refuse to collect VAT revenues	Dnevni List, pg 3, mentioned on front ‘Banks refuse to sign contract on collection of VAT’, by E. Mackic, Slobodna Dalmacija, back pg ‘Four banks did not sign agreement’, by D. Pasic – Reiffeisen bank of Sarajevo, Upi Bank of Sarajevo, Hypo Alpe Adria Bank of Mostar and Unicredit Zagrebacka Bank of Sarajevo yesterday (Wednesday) refused to sign the contract on offering services of collection of incomes (VAT) for the Indirect Tax Authority of BiH (ITA). The reason why the banks refused to sign the contract is because the contract that was offered to them yesterday was different to the one they had agreed to earlier. According to the ITA Director, Kemal Causevic, the banks in question have requested talks with the ITA Steering Board, and Causevic says he will ask the ITA Steering Board Chairman, Joly Dixon, that he receives the banks’ representatives at the Steering Board’s session scheduled for next Tuesday. According to the President of Association of banks in BiH, Mirsad Letic, who is also the manager of the Upi Bank, the collection of revenues requires a more complex technology than the one envisioned in the contract.
