Constitutional reform

CoM approves amendments to BiH Constitution, says they should be defined more precisely	BHT1– The BiH Council of Ministers endorsed the positive stance given by the Justice Ministry thus supporting the proposed amendments to the BiH Constitution. Following the session on Monday, the CoM stated that it was aware proposed set of amendments was only a part of the political agreement and have insisted that competent BiH institutions intensify work on preparing legislation that would ensure the full implementation of the agreement. CoM further concluded that the “amendments contain certain imprecision and shortcomings in terms of form” thus concluding that amendments must be more precise. The BiH Council of Ministers will forward its stance to the BiH House of Representatives. The BiH HoR Constitutional-Legal Affairs Commission [CLAC] Tuesday holds session to also discuss the proposed amendments. Mirsad Ceman from CLAC announced that the session of BiH House of Representatives on constitutional amendments is scheduled for April 25. Ceman added that theoretically, the amendments could be adopted on the same day, after two compulsory readings. FTV, PINK, Hayat, RTRS, Dnevni Avaz pg 2 ‘Opinion of Justice Ministry accepted’ by Fena, EuroBlic pg RS1 ‘Amendments must again undergo additional development’ by Nedeljka Breberina, Glas Srpske pg 5 ‘Council of Ministers’ by Z.D., Nezavisne Novine pg 4 ‘Changes to the Constitution were supported’ by M. Ministry decided that it would be referred to total number.

CLAC to discuss amendments to BiH Constitution on Tuesday; CLAC Chair Ceman explains that 'negative report' could be passed, but says he hopes to positive outcome

FTV, EuroBlic pg RS1 'Amendments must again undergo additional development' by Nedeljka Breberina– The Constitutional-Legal Affairs Commission [CLAC] of the BiH House of Representatives will discuss the amendments to BiH Constitution proposed by BiH the Presidency on Tuesday. Head of the Commission Mirsad Ceman told FENA news agency that so far no member of Commission has submitted its own amendments to the proposed constitutional changes. Hayat – Hayat carries speculations on a possibility for the Commission to take negative stance on the issues regarding the state, BiH Presidency and CoM's authorities. CLAC member Momcilo Novakovic said the Commission is well aware of the stance of the political parties and if the body is to evaluate the amendments in line with those stances, than the chances for its endorsement is small. "If someone finds these principles [of the agreement] insufficient, so called 'negative report' would be sent to the House of Representatives, which would discuss it on April 25, and if the negative report would be passed, that would mean that the amendments failed", said Ceman. EuroBlic pg RS1 'Amendments must again undergo additional development' by Nedeljka Breberina – Ceman said, judging by previous statements of some delegates, the sessions of both the Commission and HoR will have uncertain outcomes. 'However, I believe these might have been only preliminary public statements and the constitutional amendments might pass after all', Ceman said.

Leaders of RS parties urge technical changes of proposed const. amendments under which remarks refer to security and defence issues	FTV- Leaders of RS parties who signed the Agreement on the constitutional changes – SNSD leader Milorad Dodik, SDS leader Dragan Cavic and PDP leader Mladen Ivanic – urged the BiH Presidency to make technical changes to the proposed amendments to the BiH Constitution and harmonise them with the agreement reached. These corrections concern authorities of BiH in the field of defence and security and they requested that it be defined in a way so that it states that the “defence and security are under the authority of BiH pursuant to the state laws.” FTV says this is because it was agreed this sector would be regulated by special laws which would clearly define the position of the RS police as part of security system. The second technical correction concerns the legislative authority of BiH. Dodik said that the amendments have left out the word “level” and that the final text should read, “the legislative activity for the BiH level is assigned to the BiH Parliamentary Assembly”. He said that there is nothing new about this and that it has all been defined by the earlier agreement on constitutional changes. Dodik said that these are the conditions of SNSD for supporting constitutional amendments. RTRS, EuroBlic pg RS1 ‘Amendments must again undergo additional development’ by Nedeljka Breberina Inset ‘Support to three entities in the second stage’, Dnevni List, pg 2 ‘Improve amendments in technical sense’, not signed – also reported.

of IC, including HR,
for failing to attend
Donja Gradina
commemoration for Jasenovac victims

Glas Srpske pg 4 'Cheap excuses' by D.Majstorovic – Writing about commemoration for victims of WW II' concentration camp in Jasenovac at Donja Gradina, daily stresses that the representatives of the international community, and also Croats and Bosniaks in BiH, from year to year ignore the commemorations of Serb, Yews and Romas at Donja Gradina, stressing that Christian Schwarz Schilling, HR to BiH, although previously invited to attend, failed to attend it owing to – as daily says – “alleged” previously scheduled duties. In regard to this, daily adds: *“Is not it weird and extremely inappropriate excuse not to attend Donja Gradina? It is hard to believe that HR to BiH, whether he is Paddy Ashdown or Christian Schwarz Schilling, know nothing about the history of this region, events and tragedies that came over that people not so far in the past. If they don't, then it is a shame.
If they do, then the shame is even bigger.”*
