Bukejlovic on police reform; transcripts from Bjelasnica, expects police talks to continue

Hayat – Feature by ATV Banja Luka – RS Prime Minister Pero Bukejlovic stated that he doesn't expect any sanctions against RS or SDS party because of the failure of police reform negotiations, adding that the transcripts of the talks would show what Chair of BiH Council of Ministers Adnan Terzic had suggested during the last session of negotiations in Banja Luka. ATV Banja Luka possesses transcripts of Bjelasnica session and published parts of it in Hayat News. According to these transcripts, Terzic had suggested that the agreement on police reform shouldn't include many details, and this agreement should be presented to the public. At the same time, the directorate for police reform implementation should be given all details, which would be implemented step-by-step and presented to the public during the next year. In his statement for ATV, Terzic explained that this was not an immoral offer, but an attempt to find the best possible solution. As he said, the proposal of RS negotiation team has already been refused by the European Commission, and RS negotiation team had refused the proposal of BiH CoM. Terzic claims that the details that should be approved on Bjelasnica had already been agreed on Vlasic. According to transcripts, the negotiation teams had asked Bukejlovic to invite leaders of political parties to a special meeting in order to clear the situation and approve the proposal according to which the future police would be managed by a board of directors consisting of Heads of State Border Service, SIPA and local police regions in cooperation with BiH Ministry of Security. The transcript from Bjelasnica also proves that the public and RS National Assembly had been cheated about the defence reform. Namely, Terzic said that the details of defence reform had also not been published immediately. Reporter commented that all details of police reform have already been agreed. However, they would be published later.

RHB, FTV, Oslobođenje, pg 2 'Transcripts will show what Terzic had offered', not signed – Bukejlovic reiterated that the government expects police talks to continue, stressing however that he did not intend to beg anyone for continuation of the talks, if they are to be based on the same 'take it or leave it' principle, applied so far. Bukejlovic also announced that report written in shorthand, due to be released soon, will show what was actually offered by Terzic, as a solution at the recent police talks in Banja Luka.

BHT – Bukejlovic doesn't expect any sanctions from HR Paddy Ashdown against RS Government or SDS party.

Professor Zdravko Grebo commented that the politicians who had been elected by BiH citizens, and who obviously can't agree on the most important requirement for BiH's admission to EU, should resign and call for early elections. Writer Marko Vesovic harshly criticized the RS public, stating that RS politicians couldn't accept the police reform, because in that case, RS citizens would have to wonder why they had been killing, demolishing and raping for 3,5 years. Actor Mladen Jelacic Troka stated that the politicians are making fools out of taxpayers and helping the criminals with their decisions.

Ninkovic says he is not clear why High Representative, Paddy Ashdown, is raising the issue after one year, however Ninkovic reckons it is because of the police reform. He also added that the money was paid in prior to the 2004 local elections because the SDS needed the money for promotional materials.

However, economic experts warn that this list shouldn't mislead us, being that BiH hasn't done much in starting of the business. Co- Chair of BiH Foreign Commerce Chamber, Petar Milanovic stated that BiH is burdened by many business permits. Milanovic also stated that ninth place that BiH has taken in crediting, is not realistic because this would mean that BiH has extremely well established crediting policy, while in fact procedures are extremely strict and predict certainty for returning of the means.

Employment Bureaus: Unemployment rate in BiH at 44,5%	Hayat – By Ljubisa Davidovic– According to data of Entities’ Employment Bureaus and Brcko District Employment Office, BiH has 640 thousands of employed and 503 thousands of unemployed people. When compared to total number of working people, unemployment rate in BiH is about 44. 5%, which is the highest rate marked in any of European countries since the World War II. Professor of Faculty of Economics in Banja Luka, Borislav Bijelic stressed that these data are even worse, being that mentioned numbers aren’t made on the structure of employed, explaining that certain areas have large number of employed citizens in administrative and state institutions and that some companies which still haven’t been privatized, have high number of surplus workers, who will be unemployed after the privatization. Bijelic stressed that there are many reasons for this kind of situation, stressing that we can start with unsuitable ownership structure in companies, being that state is majority owner in many of them. Bijelic stressed that there are solutions for this as immediate creation of more favourable business environment and acceleration of privatization process.
